Tam Murder Suspect Nabbed After Months

Victim's Boy Friend 'Tired Of Running'

An emotionally upset and penitent 24-year-old dishwasher, sought for six months in the slaying of a girl whose body was dumped near Muir Woods in Marin County last April, was nabbed in San Francisco last night.

Virgilio L. Restauro was booked on suspicion of the gunshot and knifing death of Nonita Vicera, 16, of Daly City, and for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder. He was held in San Francisco City Prison without bail.

Leonard Shaw, assistant Marin County district attorney, said today there is "sufficient evidence to clearly establish that the crime was committed in San Francisco."

He added, however, that a murder complaint filed in Marin County shortly after the slaying will remain until jurisdiction is determined without a doubt.

FOUND ON ROAD

The girl's body was found April 19 on Muir Woods Road about a half mile from Panoramic Highway. Marin officers launched a search for Restauro, her fiance, who disappeared from his dishwashing job in San Francisco.

Sheriff's officers said Restauro had been doing odd jobs in the Bay Area and in Los Angeles area since that time. He was first heard from when he telephoned his sister-in-law, Venida Restauro, at her San Francisco home about 10:30 a.m. yesterday.

He declined to give his whereabouts, officers said. When his brother, Vincenzia Restauro, arrived home from work at 5 p.m., his wife told him of the call.

About 7 p.m., officers said, the suspect again phoned, talking to his brother. Following that call, police arrested him in the Gordon Hotel in San Francisco.

NOT ARMED

He was unarmed, and surrendered peacefully, saying he was "tired of running."

Marin law enforcement officers were notified. Sheriff Louis P. Mountanous; Ellis L. Seibert, chief deputy; Shaw of the district attorney's office, and Sheriff's Inspector Marco Melovich went to San Francisco City Prison and quizzed Restauro.

Sheriff Mountanous said Restauro, nervous and frequently holding his head in his hands, was quizzed about 45 minutes. He described him as "very cooperative."

Restauro told reporters at San

30 Arrested In Vineyard Due Release

Thirty persons arrested on unlawful assembly in a strike in a Kern County vineyard were to be released from jail today, with trial tentatively set for Nov. 10.

Seven Marinites were among 44 arrested. It was not learned here how many of them were among 30 who remained in jail this morning.

Included among the arrested persons were eight or nine clergymen, of whom two are from Marin Rev. Donald M. Schilling of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Marin City (whose name was dropped in type from the story in yesterday's Independent-Journal), and Rev. Jack Bartlett of Mill Valley Community Methodist Church.

A third Marin clergymen reportedly arrested, Rev. Richard B. Hoadley, said today he was not arrested although he was present "and would gladly have gone to jail." Rev. Hoadley is former minister of Point Reyes Station Community Methodist Church and now pastor of both Stinson Beach Community Presbyterian Church and Calvary Presbyterian Church at Bolinas.

Other Marinites arrested were Ted Peck, a student at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, Pat Hansen and Valerie Hogan of Marin City, and Sid Cogswell of Strawberry.

The period in life when it takes you longer to rest than it does to get tired.

Remap Measure Goes To Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature obeyed the State Supreme Court's order today and voted overwhelmingly for a historic reapportionment of Senate and Assembly districts.

The bill cleared the Senate and then got a 52-8 vote in the Assembly. But house leaders held the roll open to get an even bigger vote.

But only 41 votes were needed in the Assembly, so passage was assured.

A month-long stalemate crumbled as the Senate ,and then the Assembly, approved the bill that gives Southern California's growing, populous counties control of both houses.

The Senate, now controlled by Northern Californians, will shift to the hands of southerners as its districts — now drawn along county lines — are recreated on a population basis.

The Assembly districts already are formed by population, but a few did not meet the court's requirement that each legislator must represent substantially the same number of people.

First the Senate — with its members still objecting to the high court's rule — passed the bill 28-9.

FBI Informer Retells Dixie Killing Story

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Gary Thomas Rowe, a Klan member turned FBI informer, testified today that Collie Leroy Wilkins fired the shots which killed a white civil rights worker in Lowndes County last March 25.

Rowe said Wilkins, a 21-year-old mechanic from Fairfield, Ala., fired at least six shots into the car driven by Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, a Detroit housewife and mother of five. A Negro youth, Leroy Moton, was a passenger in the car.

The red-haired informer said he rode with Wilkins and two other Klansmen as they sped past the Liuzzo car on U.S. highway 80 about 20 miles from Selma, Ala., after 8 p.m.

"The first thing I knew, Wilkins stuck his arm out the window. He had a pistol in his hand. . ." Rowe said that Wilkins told Eugene Thomas, the driver of the car, "little brother, give it the gas."

"Just as he sped up, the woman in the other car turned and looked into our car. As she looked, Wilkins started firing. To the best of my knowledge, he fired six times, two in rapid succession."

Rowe said the fourth Klansman in the car, William O. Eaton, also fired from the car with a .22 caliber pistol.

Rowe said he also had a loaded pistol in his hand but did not fire it, although Eaton ordered him to.

School Fund Embezzling Is Charged

The secretary of the Fairfax School District was booked in Marin County Jail today on suspicion of embezzling $7,500 in school district funds.

Mrs. Frances May Borresen, 48, of 44-B Ash Avenue, San Anselmo, allegedly started falsifying her own overtime records in February, 1962, the district attorney's office said. She has collected numerous overtime checks highest being a monthly total of $500, for hours not worked, the district attorney claimed.

Mrs. Borreson has been financial secretary of the district since 1960. Her salary is now $6,600 a year.

She is the wife of Borge Borsesen, a Novato auto salesman, and has two children.

District attorney's investigators were called into the case when fellow employees became suspicious of her purported overtime, said Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

Fund Soliciting Of Klan Probed

WASHINGTON (UPI)— House investigators said today that a Ku Klux Klan leader sought to solicit funds from his members with a plea that "money was coming in slow" even though the group had banked more than $5,000 within a month and a half.

James Robertson Jones, grand dragon of the North Carolina Branch of the United Klans of America, Inc., invoked the Fifth Amendment when asked about the funds at a hearing before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Jones, returning to the witness chair for the third day of the Klan hearings, declined to answer any questions. He based his refusal on his constitutional rights, including the plea against possible self-incrimination.

President Johnson Returns To Chores At White House

Before leaving the hospital he visited for a few minutes in a ward where Marines wounded in Viet Nam were under treatment.

"Tell all your families, your wives, your mother and father the President of your country is mighty proud of you," Johnson told the men.

Before he left the hospital, Johnson had been given a new clearance to depart.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers, announcing Johnson's plans, said the President's doctors saw their patient this morning and "they gave him a full green light and he decided to leave."

Another Fire In Mill Valley Is Blamed On An Arsonist

Fire which broke out at 3:34 a.m. today in a Mill Valley garage at 290 Marion Avenue was labeled arson by police.

Residents in the neighborhood reported seeing a man "feeding the fire."

It was the second fire in Mill Valley in less than a week laid to arsonist. The home of Pierre Arretche of 41 Locke Lane was gutted by an $8,000 fire last Saturday which Fire Chief Leslie Armager said had been deliberately set.

The garage, with a room above it, and a one-half ton Chevrolet pickup truck inside it were destroyed, firemen said. The untenanted property is believed to be owned by T. Secchitano, who recently moved away. His vacant home nearby was also threatened by the fire.

Armager estimated damage at $5,000.

A resident of Millside Lane told police at 3:50 a.m., that, while he and his wife were watching the fire, they saw a man apparently "feeding the fire." The man, hearing fire engines, ran from the scene, they said.

Another neighbor, David Armstrong of 300 Marion Avenue, said he arrived to see what he could do and saw a man standing in front of the fire. Armstrong said he asked the man to assist in finding whether anyone was inside the building, but as he entered, the man vanished.

Armstrong said he found a can of gasoline burning.

Arretche has reported that $100 was taken from his home, the money having been in a clothes closet in a plastic piggy bank. He also reported that entry had been made to his home by cutting the screen on the kitchen door.

Convention Center Seen At Courthouse

San Rafael's Courthouse Square could have a high-rise hotel and convention center, a large store or office building, a group of small shops, a restaurant and a three-story garage and still look more like a park than it does now, San Rafael architect Robert W. F. Severin contends.

"What you would have is urban renewal in the middle of town without the bitter pill of dislocation of existing businesses," he said.

Severin, last year's president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, feels such a development is feasible and is badly needed if downtown San Rafael is to fight off competition from Northgate for customers.

It is his proposed solution to the "what to do with the courthouse square?" problem that is plaguing county supervisors, who must sell the property to raise funds to help pay for the expensive second stage of the Civic Center.

One Bullet From Dark Just Misses

Some one on a darkened hill near Paradise Drive in Corte Madera at 7:40 p.m. yesterday fired one bullet in the direction of a group of salesmen standing in the J and B Ford Sales Co. used car lot at 5860 Paradise Drive.

Sales Manager Stewart A. Stevens said the bullet was so close that he and the two other salesmen heard it whiz past them and slam into nearby wall.

Police found the slug, caliber as yet unknown, near where the men had been standing.

Speeders Sentenced To Emergency Room

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Mounicipal Court has levied two speeding penalties which are unique in Marin County—each defendant is to spend two Saturday evenings in the emergency room of a hospital to witness wreck victims.

Robert Bruce Michels, 19, San Lorenzo, and Nancy Lee Taylor, 18, of 10 Harbor Vista Drive, Mill Valley, both pleaded guilty to going 90 miles an hour in a 65 mile-an-hour one near the Richmond-San Rafael bridge last Sept. 5. Michels also was charged with following too closely.

Judge Smith placed Michels on six months probation, suspended his driving privileges for 15 days, and directed him to spend Oct. 23 and 30 from 7 p.m. until 10:30 p.m. at Marin General Hospital.

Miss Taylor also was placed on six months probation. Her driving privileges were suspended 30 days. She is to visit the hospital on the evenings of Nov. 6 and 13.

Judge Smith said the experiment is because mere fines often are paid by parents, causing no hardship on the offenders and jail sentences are not necessarily warranted.

"This (the hospital vigil) might have a salutary effect on youngsters," he commented.

Bug-Bothered Girl Driver Kills One

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Miss Sharon Murdock leaned over to swat the bug crawling on her leg, her car swerved, hitting seven pedestrians in a crosswalk.

Mrs. LaVerne Shaver, 54, of Los Angeles, died later at a hospital. Beatrice Hayward, 30, of Pasadena, suffered a broken leg. The other five suffered cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Shaver and four of the others were members of a jury returning to duty from lunch.

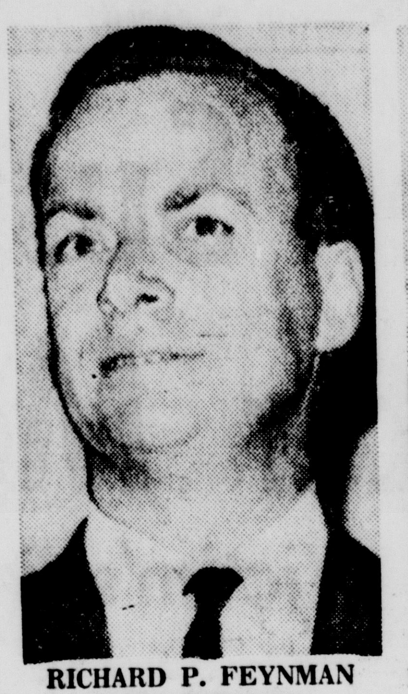
Nobel Physics, Chemistry Awards Go To U.S., Japan

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1965 Nobel Prize for physics was awarded today to two Americans and a Japanese, and the prize for chemistry went to another American.

The Royal Swedish Academy of Science announced that the physics award was given jointly to Julian Schwinger of Harvard, Richard Feynman of the California Institute of Technology, and Sin-Itiro Tomonago of Japan. The three will share equally in the $55,000 prize money.

It announced the chemistry prize of 282,000 kroner (about $55,000) went to Prof. Robert Burns Woodward, also of Harvard University at Cambridge, Mass., a pioneer in synthesis of chlorophyll.



RICHARD P. FEYNMAN

ROBERT BURNS WOODWARD
Chemistry winner

The citation for the three physics winners said the award was for "their fundamental work in quantum electrodynamics, with deep-ploughing consequences for the physics of elementary particles."

The academy, made up of 140 Swedish and 108 foreign members, said of the chemistry award:

"Woodward has carried out a number of difficult syntheses of complicated organic compounds within the last two decades. Among those which have commanded considerable attention are his very revealing experiments to build up peptides in the field of protein chemistry and his successful syntheses of sterols, substances that play an important role in the metabolism of the human body."

Prof. Woodward, born in Boston in 1917, began his university studies at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and won a doctor's degree in chemistry in 1937.

Of the three physics winners, Tomonago, 59, is the oldest. For several years he has headed a group of researchers in the field of theoretical physics at Tokyo University of Education, a branch of Tokyo University.

Schwinger and Feynman are both 47, and both were born in New York City.

Helicopters Reinforce Besieged Viet Garrison

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. helicopters delivered several companies of reinforcements to the besieged garrison at Plei Me today, and the Viet Cong attacks began to diminish in size and ferocity, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

The defenders of the Special Forces camp in the central highlands reported seeing at least 90 enemy bodies. Government casualties were described as light after two days of fighting.

Farther north, in Quang Tri Province, a U.S. Army officer escaped today from the Viet Cong after being held captive for several hours, the spokesman announced.

The officer, identified as Capt. Robert F. Hopper, 29, whose wife lives at Winter Haven, Fla., was the senior adviser to a South Vietnamese battalion.

He apparently was captured when Viet Cong guerrillas hit a government outpost near the provincial capital of Quang Tri City, 140 miles north of Saigon. The enemy force penetrated an artillery position and blew up an ammunition bunker.

Eight Americans were reported killed in two helicopter crashes in the Plei Me area 210 miles northeast of Saigon. The Viet Cong shot one helicopter down yesterday. A spokesman said mechanical failure caused the second crash today, but it was not known if this aircraft was directly involved in the Plei Me action.

The Special Forces camp was defended by about 300 Montagnard tribesmen and 10 to 12 U.S. advisers when large numbers of Viet Cong attacked Tuesday night. U.S. and South Vietnamese planes pounded the Viet Cong constantly, and at night flare ships lit up the field of fire around the triangular defense positions.

The air strikes helped five American advisers and a Vietnamese unit to return to the camp through the enemy positions during the fighting. The force had been outside the camp on an operation when the Viet Cong attacked.

During the night the guerrillas pounded the camp with mortars and recoilless rifles. By day they used machine-gun and small-arms fire.

Temblor Hits Eight States In Midwest

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A moderately strong earthquake rumbled across the Midwest Wednesday night, shaking at least eight states. No injuries or serious damage were reported, but a scientist said the quake would have been disastrous if it had been centered in a city.

The quake started at 9:01 p.m. and lasted for 14 minutes on the seismograph at St. Louis University. However, residents of Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee felt it only for a few seconds.

Dr. Carl Kisslinger, chairman of the geophysics department at St. Louis University, said the quake was recorded at between 4.5 and 5 on the Richter scale. The disastrous Alaskan earthquake of 1964 hit 8.4 on the scale.

"There's no doubt about it," said Kisslinger, "it was an earthquake, and it was a significant earthquake for this part of the world. If the center had been under a city, there would have been a lot of damage."

Kisslinger said the quake was significant because this type of quake — felt over such a large area and with such intensity — is not common in the Midwest. However, the wide span is characteristic of Midwestern tremors, Kisslinger said, and added that there was no reason to think more quakes might follow.

Marie (The Body) McDonald Dies

Officers said they were called by Miss McDonald's husband, Donald F. Taylor, who found the body.

The death of the blonde, beautiful, curvaceous actress-singer ended a career that was one of Hollywood's most flamboyant—but, for all the headlines she made, least successful.

Her name was not often up in lights, but it went up in type in January of 1957 when she disappeared from her Encino home.

She turned up 24 hours later about 100 miles away in Indio, when a truck driver found her on the desert.

During the lengthy investigations that followed she said she had been kidnaped from her home Jan. 4 by two men who spirited her away and then dumped her.

A kidnap note found in the actress' mail box was made of words clipped from newspapers. Both newspapers were found in Miss McDonald's fireplace.

Brown Refuses To Intervene Over Protests

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Protests organized at the University of California against the Viet Nam war aren't reason enough for the state to intervene as requested by local officials, Gov. Brown says.

The governor replied yesterday to a request from Oakland Mayor John C. Houlihan that he take "positive intervention" to prevent organization of demonstrations against U.S. policies in Viet Nam.

Brown said: "I have neither the authority nor the inclination to usurp the powers under which the Board of Regents has traditionally operated the university as an independent center of learning, protected from political pressures by law and by custom. There is no evidence that the time has come to depart from this tradition."

In another development, a Republican who wants to take over Brown's job called for demonstrations backing U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Laughlin Waters of Los Angeles, the only announced candidate in next June's GOP gubernatorial primary, said:

"A vast outpouring of real Americans will do much to put the lie to the international propaganda handed to the Reds on a platter by the few thousands who made it a weekend of shame ... Show our men in Viet Nam where America's heart is."

He said the government should set the time and place of the favorable demonstrations.

Medic Alert Second Annual Drive Starts

Marin Life Underwriters Assn. is sponsoring its second annual campaign to promote the use of "Medic Alert" emblems, designed to save the lives of those with a special or hidden medical problem in an emergency.

Marin County supervisors have proclaimed this as Medic Alert month in Marin and the underwriters are distributing information and application forms throughout the county.

Diabetics, epileptics, persons subject to blackout or allergic to penicillin "and many others" can be helped by wearing the Medic Alert emblem, reported Nicholas J. Dollwet, chairman of the life underwriters Medic Alert committee.

The purpose is to encourage people to wear permanent identification of special medical problems that should be known in times of emergency.

There are Medic Alert bracelets and neck tags that carry the emblem, the nature of the person's medical problem and the emergency telephone number of the Medic Alert central answering file in Turlock, Stanislaus County.

When there is an emergency, an attending physician or "other authorized personnel" can call the Medic Alert Foundation collect and get the information on file about the person's medical problem. The foundation, a nonprofit organization, operates its emergency telephone call system 24 hours a day.

"There were 56 orders from Marin last year," Dollwet said. "We have already had one instance where one of these 56 bracelets kept a man from being jailed in Reno," he said. The man, who had a brain injury, was arrested as a drunk, but when his Medic Alert tag was noted, he was given medical treatment, Dollwet said.

Association members have distributed Medic Alert pamphlets, including applications to police and fire stations, doctors, hospitals, ambulance companies and some drug stores to make them available to the public, Dolwett said.

Working with Dollwet on the committee are Allan Birch, Bryce Ashton, A. W. Bryant Jr., Carroll Walker and Meade Padgett.

Tiburon Council Meeting Called On Marincello

At the request of Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood, a special meeting of the Tiburon City Council has been called tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Del Mar School to discuss the proposed City of Marincello.

The proposal has been passed by the Marin County Planning Commission and goes before the county board of supervisors on Monday.

The Tiburon City Council last year refused to take a stand on the controversial issue of whether a city should be built on the headlands above the City of Sausalito.

Councilmen are expected also to approve a request for $17,500 in federal assistance for the city's general plan, to be presented by planners Williams, Cook and Mocine.

Medic Alert Second Annual Drive Starts

Marin Life Underwriters Assn. is sponsoring its second annual campaign to promote the use of "Medic Alert" emblems, designed to save the lives of those with a special or hidden medical problem in an emergency.

Marin County supervisors have proclaimed this as Medic Alert month in Marin and the underwriters are distributing information and application forms throughout the county.

Diabetics, epileptics, persons subject to blackout or allergic to penicillin "and many others" can be helped by wearing the Medic Alert emblem, reported Nicholas J. Dollwet, chairman of the life underwriters Medic Alert committee.

The purpose is to encourage people to wear permanent identification of special medical problems that should be known in times of emergency.

There are Medic Alert bracelets and neck tags that carry the emblem, the nature of the person's medical problem and the emergency telephone number of the Medic Alert central answering file in Turlock, Stanislaus County.

When there is an emergency, an attending physician or "other authorized personnel" can call the Medic Alert Foundation collect and get the information on file about the person's medical problem. The foundation, a nonprofit organization, operates its emergency telephone call system 24 hours a day.

"There were 56 orders from Marin last year," Dollwet said. "We have already had one instance where one of these 56 bracelets kept a man from being jailed in Reno," he said. The man, who had a brain injury, was arrested as a drunk, but when his Medic Alert tag was noted, he was given medical treatment, Dollwet said.

Association members have distributed Medic Alert pamphlets, including applications to police and fire stations, doctors, hospitals, ambulance companies and some drug stores to make them available to the public, Dolwett said.

Working with Dollwet on the committee are Allan Birch, Bryce Ashton, A. W. Bryant Jr., Carroll Walker and Meade Padgett.

BEST-SELLER
LAS VEGAS

Novato License Tag Earns Las Vegas Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome London of 40 Eames Court, Novato, will vacation for three days in Las Vegas as winners of the grand prize in the Independent-Journal's "Lucky License" giveaway.

Mrs. London's name was drawn from the 15 daily winners in a drawing late yesterday.

She said today that when they will take the trip is not yet decided. London is a purser for Matson Lines, and Mrs. London is studying landscape architecture at University of California, so he must get time away from work and she from studies to make the trip.

They will fly to Las Vegas by Western Air Lines, stay at the Flamingo Hotel, take in four major shows there, and have all expenses paid by the Independend-Journal. The trip was arranged through Redwood Travel Advisors.

Mrs. London won the first $35 prize in the 18-day daily giveaway to persons whose auto license plates, with I-J "Marin's Best Seller" bumper strips, were photographed by a mystery photographer. There were 15 winners because on three days during the giveaway, no claimant appeared.

Sailors Arrested, One Escapes In Auto Spree

Two sailors were arrested and a third escaped early today in Marin County following an evening's spree which allegedly involved stealing three cars.

Booked in county jail for investigation of auto theft was William Rex Neal Jr., 19. A 17-year-old companion was taken to juvenile hall. The third youth was still being sought at noon today.

All are from the Ranger, moored at Hunters Point in San Francisco.

Sheriff's officers said the trio reportedly found a 1958 Chevrolet with ignition keys in it in San Francisco, and drove it to Champagne Hut at Dolan's Corner in Marin County.

This car was abandoned off Tennessee Valley Road near Pine Hill Road in Tamalpais Valley. Minutes later the three were nabbed in a 1954 Ford station wagon owned by Mrs. Robert W. Davidson, 316 Ross Drive, Tamalpais Valley, driving without lights.

Officers said the car taken from San Francisco is registered to Son-Neel Products Co., Oakland, and was being driven by Joan Flor McNabb of San Francisco.

Another youth, John Thomas Janssen, 18, San Francisco, was also booked in Marin County jail last night for investigation of car theft. Deputies said a courthouse janitor, Ronald Storrs, saw the youth in an automobile owned by C. S. Dean, courthouse watchman, parked in a courthouse parking lot.

Storrs approached the youth, who fled.

A radio alert was given and San Rafael police spotted Janssen hiding in bushes near B Street and Fifth Avenue minutes later. Janssen was being held in lieu of $1,100 bail today.

Peter Goldstein Still Unconscious, Critical

Peter L. Goldstein, 31, San Anselmo publicist and political campaign manager, remained near death today in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital with injuries suffered when a car fell on his auto in a freak accident Tuesday on the Waldo Grade.

Goldstein, of 65 Alder Avenue, San Anselmo, was still unconscious with severe head injuries and cuts and bruises over most of his body, reported the hospital.

Nicasio, located in Marin's San Geronimo Valley, at one time hoped to be the Marin County seat and a square piece of land set aside for the courthouse still remains.

San Anselmo Woman Driver Fined $166

Peggy Frances Eltringham, 48, of 137 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, was fined $166 and placed on a year's probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

She was arrested July 19 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

Bahia Vista School Bids Are Opened

Five bids for construction of San Rafael's Bahia Vista School were opened yesterday by school officials.

The San Rafael Board of Education must make a key decision on sewer lines to the school, however, before it can decide which of two firms is the low bidder.

School business mgr. Charles L. Condrotte said the lowest base bid, $424,382, came from Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross. But the award could go to Todd Construction Co. of Oakland, whose base bid was $428,400.

The elementary district has been negotiating with Kerner-Bellam Realty Co. to share the cost of running the sewer line under Napa Street near the school. Todd and Zoellner's bids stipulate they would lower the cost if Kerner-Bellam agrees.

Todd, however, would cut the price by $16,000, while Zoellner would reduce it only $7,000. Thus Todd would be low bidder if Kerner-Bellam agrees and Zoellner if the firm does not.

Condrotte said he hopes to complete negotiations with Kerner-Bellam by Tuesday's meeting of the board.

Other bidders were Fostmeier Construction of Petaluma, $450,000; Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco, $438,500; and Peter Sartorio Inc. of Colma, $441,428.

Architect A. Mackenzie Cantin had estimated that the work would cost $476,128, not counting land fill at the site.

Morrissey Nomination Returns To Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in an emotional speech to the Senate, asked today that Francis X. Morrissey's nomination for a judgeship be sent back to the Judiciary Committee.

The nomination then was sent back to the committee. This appeared to kill the nomination for this session of Congress but President Johnson could resubmit it at the next session in January.

Kennedy made his surprise request shortly after the controversial nominaton was called up for action in the Senate.

Appearing near tears and his voice breaking at one point, Kennedy said "I am satisfied that a full and complete record, made with care and deliberation, will uphold my judgment (of Morrissey) to the satisfaction of any fair-minded man."

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, heading the opposition to Morrissey, had himself planned to propose recommittal.

Kennedy told the Senate he is satisfied that a full record will result in Morrissey's confirmation "by a greatly increased majority" and that Morrissey "will be a credit to the federal judiciary."

Morrissey, 55, has been a Boston Municipal Court judge for the last seven years, but his nomination has come under attack on the ground he is not qualified for the federal bench.

years, he terms these "unrealistic."

"Everybody has just been talking dreams and waving their arms around," said Severin.

"If the people of Marin want a museum that will cost a million and a half dollars, then they can have one. But they won't be able to sell things out of that building. No one is going to climb all those stairs."

Severin said the cost of refurbishing the old courthouse would be about the same as rebuilding it, and that building an underground parking lot while retaining the present building would be prohibitive.

Dan Coleman Associates has been hired by the City of San Rafael to study the courthouse square area for possible uses. Severin said if it appears possible to launch a major commercial venture, the city should start looking for investors.

In his plan, the three-story underground parking area would be in the north half of the block, with the high rise building over it.

Macy's department store could be allowed to expand into its present parking lot to the rear of the store on Fourth and Court Streets, and a shoppers' tunnel under Court Street would connect it to the underground parking, he suggests.

Near Fourth Street in the square, a series of small shops could be built, but they should be set far back from the street, to keep the park-like effect of the square, Severin went on.

"You must keep the park-like atmosphere," he said, "or the developer would be crucified right in the middle of Fourth Street."

A store or office building could go on the corner of Fourth and Court streets, separated from the shops by a grand stairway. Above the shops, a small restaurant would be located, with open air rooftop tables.

A convention center seems to be needed in Marin, Severin said, and it probably should be downtown, near shops and entertainment for visitors. There would have to be high-rise in order to have enough floor space for the investment and still to save open area.

The zoning would have have to be carefully chosen to give the city tight control over what is built, the architect went on. He said that action is needed quickly, to insure that the land is not subdivided into small parcels, killing plans for a unified development.

Severin said he intends to show his plans to the San Rafael City Council soon to seek support. He did not estimate the cost of the project, but said doors could be opened in four or five years.

Caesar Chavez, director of the National Farm Workers Assn., one of two unions striking for higher pay for grape pickers, said there were no incidents at the prayer vigil and they were not asked to leave.

Thirty-four demonstrators arraigned yesterday in Delano Justice Court pleaded innocent and asked for jury trials, Associated Press reported. Judge I. Frank Kitchen set Nov. 10 as tentative date for a mass trial.

Picketing continued today and another two tons of food arrived for the strikers from Mexican-American groups outside the strike area, said Chavez.

The National Farm Workers Assn. and AFL-CIO Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee are asking $1.40 hourly wage and a 25-cent piece rate in the vineyard. The strike, in its sixth week, involves 30 ranches covering 40 square miles.

The demonstrators were arrested as they shouted "huelga, huelga" to non-striking grape pickers after being ordered by a sheriff's officers to disperse.

In Sacramento today, Assemblyman Philip L. Soto, a Democrat from La Puente, Los Angeles County, called on Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch to end what he termed discriminatory law enforcement in Kern County.

Soto wrote Lynch that he as "received numerous reports of the most biased law enforcement imaginable going on in the San Joaquin Valley," and that he visited the Kern County strikers "and heard of some terrible crimes being committed against them."

Francisco police headquarters: "I am very sorry about her death. It was an accident."

Officers said the death is believed to have occurred in Restauro's car while it was parked in a San Francisco commercial garage over the Easter weekend. A pool of blood was found in the car and on the ramp where the vehicle was left for two days. They speculated at the time that the girl's slayer had then driven to Marin County and discarded the body on the hillside.

Coroner Confirms Death Suspicions

Suspicions were confirmed today that a 36-year-old blind and paralyzed San Rafael man took his own life Sept. 17 at San Rafael General Hospital, reported Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley.

Robert Milden of 115 Clayton Street, San Rafael, died of barbiturate poisoning after taking an overdose of capsules which had been secreted to him by a friend, said Bradley.

Milden had been despondent over ill health for a long time, said Bradley.

Ullner Conservatives Drop GOP Association

Ullner, executive director of the organization, said the decision was made during a meeting of the policy committee at his home at 296 La Brea Way, Santa Venetia, yesterday. The name is now the Conservative Action Committee, he said.

Novato License Tag Earns Las Vegas Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome London of 40 Eames Court, Novato, will vacation for three days in Las Vegas as winners of the grand prize in the Independent-Journal's "Lucky License" giveaway.

Mrs. London's name was drawn from the 15 daily winners in a drawing late yesterday.

She said today that when they will take the trip is not yet decided. London is a purser for Matson Lines, and Mrs. London is studying landscape architecture at University of California, so he must get time away from work and she from studies to make the trip.

They will fly to Las Vegas by Western Air Lines, stay at the Flamingo Hotel, take in four major shows there, and have all expenses paid by the Independend-Journal. The trip was arranged through Redwood Travel Advisors.

Mrs. London won the first $35 prize in the 18-day daily giveaway to persons whose auto license plates, with I-J "Marin's Best Seller" bumper strips, were photographed by a mystery photographer. There were 15 winners because on three days during the giveaway, no claimant appeared.

Sailors Arrested, One Escapes In Auto Spree

Two sailors were arrested and a third escaped early today in Marin County following an evening's spree which allegedly involved stealing three cars.

Booked in county jail for investigation of auto theft was William Rex Neal Jr., 19. A 17-year-old companion was taken to juvenile hall. The third youth was still being sought at noon today.

Sheriff's officers said the trio reportedly found a 1958 Chevrolet with ignition keys in it in San Francisco, and drove it to Champagne Hut at Dolan's Corner in Marin County.

This car was abandoned off Tennessee Valley Road near Pine Hill Road in Tamalpais Valley. Minutes later the three were nabbed in a 1954 Ford station wagon owned by Mrs. Robert W. Davidson, 316 Ross Drive, Tamalpais Valley, driving without lights.

Officers said the car taken from San Francisco is registered to Son-Neel Products Co., Oakland, and was being driven by Joan Flor McNabb of San Francisco.

Another youth, John Thomas Janssen, 18, San Francisco, was also booked in Marin County jail last night for investigation of car theft. Deputies said a courthouse janitor, Ronald Storrs, saw the youth in an automobile owned by C. S. Dean, courthouse watchman, parked in a courthouse parking lot.

Storrs approached the youth, who fled.

A radio alert was given and San Rafael police spotted Janssen hiding in bushes near B Street and Fifth Avenue minutes later. Janssen was being held in lieu of $1,100 bail today.

Peter Goldstein Still Unconscious, Critical

Peter L. Goldstein, 31, San Anselmo publicist and political campaign manager, remained near death today in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital with injuries suffered when a car fell on his auto in a freak accident Tuesday on the Waldo Grade.

Goldstein, of 65 Alder Avenue, San Anselmo, was still unconscious with severe head injuries and cuts and bruises over most of his body, reported the hospital.

Nicasio, located in Marin's San Geronimo Valley, at one time hoped to be the Marin County seat and a square piece of land set aside for the courthouse still remains.

San Anselmo Woman Driver Fined $166

Peggy Frances Eltringham, 48, of 137 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, was fined $166 and placed on a year's probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

She was arrested July 19 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

Bahia Vista School Bids Are Opened

Five bids for construction of San Rafael's Bahia Vista School were opened yesterday by school officials.

The San Rafael Board of Education must make a key decision on sewer lines to the school, however, before it can decide which of two firms is the low bidder.

School business mgr. Charles L. Condrotte said the lowest base bid, $424,382, came from Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross. But the award could go to Todd Construction Co. of Oakland, whose base bid was $428,400.

The elementary district has been negotiating with Kerner-Bellam Realty Co. to share the cost of running the sewer line under Napa Street near the school. Todd and Zoellner's bids stipulate they would lower the cost if Kerner-Bellam agrees.

Todd, however, would cut the price by $16,000, while Zoellner would reduce it only $7,000. Thus Todd would be low bidder if Kerner-Bellam agrees and Zoellner if the firm does not.

Condrotte said he hopes to complete negotiations with Kerner-Bellam by Tuesday's meeting of the board.

Other bidders were Fostmeier Construction of Petaluma, $450,000; Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco, $438,500; and Peter Sartorio Inc. of Colma, $441,428.

Caesar Chavez, director of the National Farm Workers Assn., one of two unions striking for higher pay for grape pickers, said there were no incidents at the prayer vigil and they were not asked to leave.

Thirty-four demonstrators arraigned yesterday in Delano Justice Court pleaded innocent and asked for jury trials, Associated Press reported. Judge I. Frank Kitchen set Nov. 10 as tentative date for a mass trial.

Picketing continued today and another two tons of food arrived for the strikers from Mexican-American groups outside the strike area, said Chavez.

The National Farm Workers Assn. and AFL-CIO Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee are asking $1.40 hourly wage and a 25-cent piece rate in the vineyard. The strike, in its sixth week, involves 30 ranches covering 40 square miles.

The demonstrators were arrested as they shouted "huelga, huelga" to non-striking grape pickers after being ordered by a sheriff's officers to disperse.

In Sacramento today, Assemblyman Philip L. Soto, a Democrat from La Puente, Los Angeles County, called on Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch to end what he termed discriminatory law enforcement in Kern County.

Soto wrote Lynch that he as "received numerous reports of the most biased law enforcement imaginable going on in the San Joaquin Valley," and that he visited the Kern County strikers "and heard of some terrible crimes being committed against them."

Morrissey Nomination Returns To Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in an emotional speech to the Senate, asked today that Francis X. Morrissey's nomination for a judgeship be sent back to the Judiciary Committee.

The nomination then was sent back to the committee. This appeared to kill the nomination for this session of Congress but President Johnson could resubmit it at the next session in January.

Kennedy made his surprise request shortly after the controversial nominaton was called up for action in the Senate.

Appearing near tears and his voice breaking at one point, Kennedy said "I am satisfied that a full and complete record, made with care and deliberation, will uphold my judgment (of Morrissey) to the satisfaction of any fair-minded man."

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, heading the opposition to Morrissey, had himself planned to propose recommittal.

Kennedy told the Senate he is satisfied that a full record will result in Morrissey's confirmation "by a greatly increased majority" and that Morrissey "will be a credit to the federal judiciary."

Morrissey, 55, has been a Boston Municipal Court judge for the last seven years, but his nomination has come under attack on the ground he is not qualified for the federal bench.

CENTER

"Everybody has just been talking dreams and waving their arms around," said Severin.

"If the people of Marin want a museum that will cost a million and a half dollars, then they can have one. But they won't be able to sell things out of that building. No one is going to climb all those stairs."

Severin said the cost of refurbishing the old courthouse would be about the same as rebuilding it, and that building an underground parking lot while retaining the present building would be prohibitive.

Dan Coleman Associates has been hired by the City of San Rafael to study the courthouse square area for possible uses. Severin said if it appears possible to launch a major commercial venture, the city should start looking for investors.

In his plan, the three-story underground parking area would be in the north half of the block, with the high rise building over it.

Macy's department store could be allowed to expand into its present parking lot to the rear of the store on Fourth and Court Streets, and a shoppers' tunnel under Court Street would connect it to the underground parking, he suggests.

Near Fourth Street in the square, a series of small shops could be built, but they should be set far back from the street, to keep the park-like effect of the square, Severin went on.

"You must keep the park-like atmosphere," he said, "or the developer would be crucified right in the middle of Fourth Street."

A store or office building could go on the corner of Fourth and Court streets, separated from the shops by a grand stairway. Above the shops, a small restaurant would be located, with open air rooftop tables.

A convention center seems to be needed in Marin, Severin said, and it probably should be downtown, near shops and entertainment for visitors. There would have to be high-rise in order to have enough floor space for the investment and still to save open area.

The zoning would have have to be carefully chosen to give the city tight control over what is built, the architect went on. He said that action is needed quickly, to insure that the land is not subdivided into small parcels, killing plans for a unified development.

Severin said he intends to show his plans to the San Rafael City Council soon to seek support. He did not estimate the cost of the project, but said doors could be opened in four or five years.

Francisco police headquarters: "I am very sorry about her death. It was an accident."

Officers said the death is believed to have occurred in Restauro's car while it was parked in a San Francisco commercial garage over the Easter weekend. A pool of blood was found in the car and on the ramp where the vehicle was left for two days. They speculated at the time that the girl's slayer had then driven to Marin County and discarded the body on the hillside.

Coroner Confirms Death Suspicions

Suspicions were confirmed today that a 36-year-old blind and paralyzed San Rafael man took his own life Sept. 17 at San Rafael General Hospital, reported Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley.

Robert Milden of 115 Clayton Street, San Rafael, died of barbiturate poisoning after taking an overdose of capsules which had been secreted to him by a friend, said Bradley.

Milden had been despondent over ill health for a long time, said Bradley.

Ullner, executive director of the organization, said the decision was made during a meeting of the policy committee at his home at 296 La Brea Way, Santa Venetia, yesterday. The name is now the Conservative Action Committee, he said.

Stanford Safe Case Testimony Wound Up

The prosecution and defense both rested their case yesterday in the San Francisco trial of five men accused of trying to burglarize the home of Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) in April.

Final arguments were slated to begin today. The case is expected to go to the jury of seven men and five women some time next week.

Prosecution wound up with police criminologist John Williams identifying the handwriting on a slip of paper as that of defendant Winston Major, 51.

The paper, which bore Mrs. Omen's address and telephone number, was found in the wallet of another defendant, police officer Salvatore Polani, 44, the night of the crime.

Polani had testified that the writing was that of Point Reyes Station contractor Robert K. Worthington, who had been credited with tipping police about the burglary plot. Polani claimed he took part in the burglary to trap Worthington, whom he named as mastermind in the scheme.

Another prosecution witness was jeweler Frank Koplovitz, who testified that a diamond bracelet said to be in Polani's possession was stolen from his store in a 1963 burglary.

A final defense witness was Major, who testified Tuesday that Polani talked him into the burglary while he was partly intoxicated.

Cross-examined by Asst. Dist. Atty. Walter Giubbini, Major told how he had "asked an officer for a drink" after he and the other four men were arrested in the Owen home. Major said he noticed a bar there with a "lot of whiskey."

"He refused," said Major. "He said it didn't belong to him."

Giubbini asked Major if inspector William Armstrong, one of the arresting officers, had inquired what he was doing there.

"Oh yes," he replied. "I said it was evident we came to burgle the place."

Tomales High Unificatioin Voted Again

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization last night again recommended unification of the entire Tomales High School District.

The recommendation to the State Board of Education was approved by 7-3 vote at a meeting at Tomales High School.

Committee members Mrs. Betty Wallace, Mrs. Ellen Binkley and Mrs. Marietta Larsen voted against the proposal. Member John Hamren was absent.

Those who dissented said they thought the district would not provide a large enough student body, reported Robert Stannard, assistant secretary for the committee.

The State Board of Education has turned down the Tomales unification proposal three times, mainly for the same reason.

Committee members all endorsed a request that both the Tomales proposal and the three-district unification plan for the Tamalpais High School District area not be considered by the state board until February.

Stannard explained that the county committee last month agreed' to take up the entire county, plus those portions of Sonoma County in the Tomales district, as a study area. This study could result in a new proposal or proposals, he said.

Telephone Union Men Get Raise

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After a month of negotiations the Pacific Telephone Co. and the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America have reached a new wage agreement yesterday.

Negotiations were specified for this year in the 38-month contract signed two years ago.

Aging Muir Beach Water Tanks Due Replacement

Two old water tanks, termed hazardous, on the hill above Sunset Way in Muir Beach will be drained and demolished, Muir Beach Community Services District directors decided last night.

Action came after the board was told residents have complained that the tanks might burst, board president Jack F. Harris reported.

The board voted to purchase a new 50,000-gallon redwood tank as replacement.

Directors wrote Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel, and the Marin Municipal Water District board asking them to proceed with a preliminary survey of Muir Beach water. This is to be followed by a report on feasibility of the beach village tying into Marin Municipal Water District.

Director Albert Vidart was absent.

GOP Chieftain Deplores Ullner 'Angels' Support

Frederick L. Ullner of Santa Venetia, who set up a group called the "Friends of the Hell's Angels," drew official fire today from the state chairman of the Republican Central Committee.

Dr. Gaylord B. Parkinson declared in San Diego:

"Fred Ullner and the so-called Republicans for Conservative Action are not acting as spokesmen for the Republican Party of California.

"Once and for all, let me make this crystal clear; the official Republican leadership strongly disapproves of Ullner's actions and the actions of his group.

"I am shocked to learn that Ullner, a man apparently dedicated to the enforcement of law and order, has supported any group which consistently takes the law into its own hands."

Household Items Lost To Burglar

Loss of household items and other articles in a burglary of the home of Lloyd Raymond Richards, 28 Idylwood Road, Kent Woodlands, was reported Tuesday by sheriff's officers.

Richards told deputies entry was by forcing a large hinged window and the house was ransacked. Loot included three frying pans, two pillows, linen, a .45 automatic pistol, a typewriter, a radio, a camera, and two electric razors.

Sanitary Unit Mails Checks For Refunds

Residents of the Hawthorne Terrace and Little Reed Heights areas of Tiburon should keep an eye on their mail boxes the next couple of days.

Tuesday night the Richardson Bay Sanitary District board authorized mailing of refund checks from surplus funds for a special assessment district, board secretary Alfred O. Pratesi reported.

Total surplus in the sewer facilities job completed last July was $19,000. Pratesi stressed that only property owners who paid in cash will receive checks. Average refund is about $45 on an average assessment of about $900.

The board heard from the district engineer that work on the Strawberry Point project to connect the Harbor Point Eichler development and the Salt Works Canal pumping station should begin within a few days.

Seminarian Reports Burglary In Office

A final defense witness was Major, who testified Tuesday that Polani talked him into the burglary while he was partly intoxicated.

Cross-examined by Asst. Dist. Atty. Walter Giubbini, Major told how he had "asked an officer for a drink" after he and the other four men were arrested in the Owen home. Major said he noticed a bar there with a "lot of whiskey."

"He refused," said Major. "He said it didn't belong to him."

Giubbini asked Major if inspector William Armstrong, one of the arresting officers, had inquired what he was doing there.

"Oh yes," he replied. "I said it was evident we came to burgle the place."

On trial with Major and Polani are another police officer, Patrick Buckman, 27, and ex-convicts Wesley Gant, 56, and Louis Romero, 28.

Tomales High Unificatioin Voted Again

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization last night again recommended unification of the entire Tomales High School District.

The recommendation to the State Board of Education was approved by 7-3 vote at a meeting at Tomales High School.

Committee members Mrs. Betty Wallace, Mrs. Ellen Binkley and Mrs. Marietta Larsen voted against the proposal. Member John Hamren was absent.

Those who dissented said they thought the district would not provide a large enough student body, reported Robert Stannard, assistant secretary for the committee.

The State Board of Education has turned down the Tomales unification proposal three times, mainly for the same reason.

Committee members all endorsed a request that both the Tomales proposal and the three-district unification plan for the Tamalpais High School District area not be considered by the state board until February.

Stannard explained that the county committee last month agreed' to take up the entire county, plus those portions of Sonoma County in the Tomales district, as a study area. This study could result in a new proposal or proposals, he said.

Aging Muir Beach Water Tanks Due Replacement

Two old water tanks, termed hazardous, on the hill above Sunset Way in Muir Beach will be drained and demolished, Muir Beach Community Services District directors decided last night.

Action came after the board was told residents have complained that the tanks might burst, board president Jack F. Harris reported.

The board voted to purchase a new 50,000-gallon redwood tank as replacement.

Directors wrote Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel, and the Marin Municipal Water District board asking them to proceed with a preliminary survey of Muir Beach water. This is to be followed by a report on feasibility of the beach village tying into Marin Municipal Water District.

Director Albert Vidart was absent.

GOP Chieftain Deplores Ullner 'Angels' Support

Frederick L. Ullner of Santa Venetia, who set up a group called the "Friends of the Hell's Angels," drew official fire today from the state chairman of the Republican Central Committee.

Dr. Gaylord B. Parkinson declared in San Diego:

"Fred Ullner and the so-called Republicans for Conservative Action are not acting as spokesmen for the Republican Party of California.

"Once and for all, let me make this crystal clear; the official Republican leadership strongly disapproves of Ullner's actions and the actions of his group.

"I am shocked to learn that Ullner, a man apparently dedicated to the enforcement of law and order, has supported any group which consistently takes the law into its own hands."

Household Items Lost To Burglar

Loss of household items and other articles in a burglary of the home of Lloyd Raymond Richards, 28 Idylwood Road, Kent Woodlands, was reported Tuesday by sheriff's officers.

Richards told deputies entry was by forcing a large hinged window and the house was ransacked. Loot included three frying pans, two pillows, linen, a .45 automatic pistol, a typewriter, a radio, a camera, and two electric razors.

Sanitary Unit Mails Checks For Refunds

Residents of the Hawthorne Terrace and Little Reed Heights areas of Tiburon should keep an eye on their mail boxes the next couple of days.

Tuesday night the Richardson Bay Sanitary District board authorized mailing of refund checks from surplus funds for a special assessment district, board secretary Alfred O. Pratesi reported.

Total surplus in the sewer facilities job completed last July was $19,000. Pratesi stressed that only property owners who paid in cash will receive checks. Average refund is about $45 on an average assessment of about $900.

The board heard from the district engineer that work on the Strawberry Point project to connect the Harbor Point Eichler development and the Salt Works Canal pumping station should begin within a few days.

Draft Quotas Up; Recruiting's Easy

Recent step-ups in draft calls have sent many young Marinites bustling off to local armed services recruitment offices to shop for the "better deal" which enlistment might offer them.

"We signed up 23 men last month—an all-time record for the Marin County office," Sgt. Roy Hill, Army recruiting officer, reported today.

"When they find out that we can guarantee studying for them in programs of their choice, many decide to volunteer for service for three years rather than going into the Army through the draft for two years," he said.

Col. Frank W. Morrow, director of Army recruiting for Western states, has reported a 20 per cent rise in enlistments last month compared to September of 1964. The report attributes the rise to "the desire to serve the country in time of need," "the effect of increased draft calls," and "an increased awareness of better opportunities through voluntary enlistments."

Said Sergeant Hill: "I had the office painted yesterday, thinking that we wouldn't have anyone coming in. Instead about 18 boys trooped in. We had to open up an inside room."

Most of the (Army) draftees, according to Hill, are being sent to Viet Nam.

Navy Chief Recruiting Officer Donald W. Kimball reported inquiries about Navy enlistment programs up about 35 per cent, with actual enlistments up about 15 per cent.

The Navy is drafting men for the first time since the Korean War. Two Mill Valley men were drafted for naval service last month, said Kimball.

"When they hear that they are going to be drafted anyway, they go around to the recruiting stations, shopping for the best program. That's good. We encourage comparison," said Kimball.

Air Force enlistments in recent months have reached the maximum training capacity available, placing recruiting on "restricted flow," reported recruiter Sgt. Erhardt Bonkowski.

With a limit of seven enilstments acceptable for this month, Bonkowski expects to have to turn away at least eight qualified men who are seeking to join the Air Force.

In contrast to tight quotas on Air Force enlistments, Marine recruiting has been greatly stepped up by the Marine Corps, reported Sgt. James E. Adams, recruiter.

"We were just told to get out and sign up as many qualified men as we can," said Adams. Marin County men who have enlisted in the Marines recently exceed last year's recruits by about 20 per cent, he said.

Draft statistics in Marin help explain the increased interest in enlistment. Fifty-two men will be drafted from the country this month, compared with three last October. Draft quota for November is 38, compared to 11 last year, reported Selective Service Bureau Local Board 25.

Neighbors Win Against Variance

The Corte Madera Board of Adjustments last night agreed with the protests of seven residents of Morningside Drive and denied a request for several variances by J. A. Ribeiro, who wishes to construct a home at 208 Morningside Drive.

The variance most strenuously objected to was lack of setback for a carport where 20 feet are normally required.

Commissioner Jack Hauser was absent.

Woman Held After Police Find Pills

San Rafael police arrived at the Payless Drug Store last night just in time to see Margaret Ann (Bunny) Stevenson walking down the aisle carrying a bag with a bottle of pep pills.

They arrested her and charged her with obtaining the drug with a phony prescription. The 25-year-old woman, who lives at 39 Hillview Street, San Rafael, was booked into Marin County Jail and released on $276 bail, scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Druggist Emanuel N. Weber called police from the store at 866 Fourth Street and said the woman had, a week earlier, used a phone call, saying she was a woman physician, as a ruse to obtain the drug, and now was asking to have the same prescription refilled.

Police reported that as they arrived at the store, they saw Mrs. Stevenson pass a slip of paper, later found to be the prescription, to a companion, Donld Zacchine, 38, who refused to give his address but who was not held.

Mrs. Stevenson admitted she had phoned the store on Oct. 7 and identified herself as Dr. Virginia Barnes to order the drugs, police said. The prescription was for 50 spansules containing 15 milligrams each.

Two Women's Purses Stolen From Truck

Loss of two women's handbags containing about $20 cash and some papers was reported by sheriff's officer yesterday in a burglary of the pickup truck of Paul Alan Rilla, 16 Lorraine Street, Point Reyes Station.

Marin Schools Eye Federal Aid Puzzle

School district in Marin County can receive up to $402,250.64 under the new Public Law 89-10, but the distribution among the districts announced by the federal government was under serious question today.

The federal law is designed to aid in education of children from low income families.

The way the funds would be distributed in Marin presents an enigma, county school officials said. Sausalito School District, which includes the low-income Marin City, eligible for only $12,128.16, while several other districts, including Kentfield, San Anselmo, Mill Valley, Reed and West Marin, would receive far more.

Kenneth Lowry, assistant superintendent of Sausalito School District, said today that inquiries on the distribution are being pressed on the county superintendent of schools office, the state department of education and the federal government.

"We can't see the reason in it," Lowry said. "We are not going to rest with $12,000."

Neighboring Mill Valley School District would receive the most of any elementary district under the program, $42,701.23.

Distribution, Lowry explained, was based on the 1960 federal census. Number of children ages 5-17 in families with annual income under $2,000 and number of children on welfare or in foster homes were the factors for distribution.

Asst. County Schools Supt. Robert Stannard said the districts must come up with a program for use of the money before the grants will be made. The programs also have to be approved by the state.

Other allocations available are:

Bolinas-Stinson, $1,263.35; Dixie, $11,370.15; Fairfax, $13,138.84; Kentfield, $19,455.59; Lagunitas, $5,558.74; Larkspur, $22,234.76; Point Reyes, $1,010.68; Reed, $19,455.59; Ross, $6,822.09; San Anselmo, $27,035.69; San Rafael Elementary, $13,644.18; Tomales Bay, $10,359.47 and West Marin, $19,455.59.

San Rafael High, $9,854.13; Tamalpais High, $69,989; Tomales High, $14,654.16, and Novato Unified, $82,117.75.

Youth Treated For Knife Cuts

Robert Douglas Bullock, 51, of 184 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, told Mill Valley police he surprised Grayson in his home on returning from a camping trip.

He said he drew a hunting knife from its sheath and slashed Grayson as the youth ran out of the house.

In Newport, R.I. on August 28, 1904, the first motorist in the United States to be jailed for speeding was given a five-day sentence for driving his car between 15 and 20 miles per hour.

Household Item Taken From Home

Burglars, who might have an eye towards setting up housekeeping of their own, stole more than 40 items worth over $1,500 from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Bare at 570 Chapman Drive, Corte Madera, yesterday.

Gisele Bare was the last to leave the home, at 10:40 a.m. When she returned from a day of shopping and visiting at 3 p.m., she noticed that her $180 marble coffee table was gone. She called police.

Mrs. Bare, after a hurried inventory, reported the culprits had taken furniture, linens, jewelry, cameras, and electrical appliances.

Police inspector Harold Hockett said today the burglary perhaps was the work of "someone looking to set up housekeeping of their own or a party pad."

He pointed out that while the thieves took luxury items such as jewelry and cameras, they also stole a vacuum cleaner, bedding, a toaster, furniture and other standard household items.

Congress Sends Johnson Huge Education Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent President Johnson an education bill that would give the nation's colleges a $2,387,000,000 shot in the arm while establishing three landmark programs.

The measure far exceeds the President's recommendations, but he is expected to sign it and set in motion for the first time in the nation's history:

1. A program of federal scholarships to help young people from low-income families attend college.

2. A system of federally insured state and private loans to assist college students from middle-income families.

3. The dispatch of a National Teacher Corps to poverty-stricken areas in a bootstrap attempt to lift education standards.

The Teacher Corps was the major item in dispute as the bill made its final run yesterday through Congress.

A Republican attempt to drop the corps from the legislation failed in the House 226-152. The House then passed the bill by a vote of 312-63. A few hours later the Senate gave it voice-vote approval.

Most of the programs included in the authorization would be covered for three years.

Who Owns Limantour Spit Dunes?

A federal trial is under way in San Francisco to determine the ownership of shifting sand dunes forming the Limantour Spit off Point Reyes Peninsula.

The legal dispute arose after the Department of Interior condemned the three-mile long spit for inclusion in the Point Reyes National Seashore.

A land development company, Drake's Beach Estates, has claimed ownership of the spit and contends that the area has a value in excess of a million dollars.

Drake's Beach Estates claims that the disputed acreage should be in the land and company purchased and developed up to the boundaries of the spit. But title is clouded because a shifting sand dune, such as the Limantour Spit, may be formed or swept away by a single storm, or built up over a period of many years.

The original Spanish land grant was surveyed by the federal government in 1858. A deed to the land and a description of it were then handed over to Andrew Randell, who sold portions to several buyers. Eventually, the area came under the ownership of Drake's Beach Estates.

The dispute is being heard by U.S. District Court Judge Lloyd H. Burke, who must determine whether the spit existed at the time of the 1858 survey, and if so, whether it was in the deed obtained by Randall.

The government maintains the spit was not yet formed 107 years ago and was not included in Randall's deed.

Don Timoteo Murphy's hacienda, the first house in San Rafael, aside from the mission buildings, was a two-story adobe and stood at what is now the northwest corner of Fourth and C streets. It served for many years as Marin County's courthouse.

Ghana Speaker Says U.N. Is World Hope

Mrs. Alexander Quaison-Sackey, wife of Ghana's foreign minister, cheerfully talked about cocoa last night, but diplomatically refused to talk about the United States' role in Viet Nam.

Speaking at the College of Marin gymnasium as part of the college's concert-lecture series, Mrs. Sackey concentrated on telling about her country, its history, its hopes and its people.

She urged members of the audience to drink cocoa and eat chocolate, because Ghana's main export is cocoa. "How we survive depends upon how much cocoa you drink," she said.

Mrs. Quaison-Sackey spoke strongly for unity among the new nations in Africa. "The aim is for African unity, not to fight colonial powers, but to raise our living standards by developing our resources and cooperating in economic planning," she said.

When asked to comment on the U.S. role in Viet Nam, she said, as a visiting diplomat, she would prefer not to comment.

She said that anti-American riots in Ghana are "only a flash in the pan," and usually occur when Negroes are maltreated in the United States.

"Ghana reacts to what happened here, to what we don't like," Mrs. Quaison-Sackey said.

There are Russian technicians working in Ghana, "but that doesn't mean they are trying to impose their will or their influence on us," she said.

After reviewing the early history of Ghana, Mrs. Quaison-Sackey told of the years as a British colony and the move toward independence.

"After World War II, things began to change," she said. "The men were not satisfied to be poor and ignorant and so they started agitating for independence."

Independence came in 1957, and the former Gold Coast colony on the west coast of Africa adopted the name Ghana.

A nation of fishermen and farmers, "we are now trying to develop industrially, but we need skilled men," she said. "There is so much wastage of manpower. Human resources are not being utilized to the fullest."

Ghana does not have enough teachers or enough classrooms, does not have sufficient roads and railroads, and needs more doctors and nurses, she said.

Mrs. Quaison-Sackey, whose husband is the Ghanian ambassador to the United Nations, said the U.N. represents hope for the new African nations. "Our only hope for survival is that the U.N. will go on forever," she declared.

About 85 people attended the lecture, billed as an added attraction in the series which continue tomorrow with a lecture by Dr. Zelma George, sociologist, actress, singer and authority on Negro music.

Dr. George will talk about "Understanding the Negro Spiritual," at 8 p.m. at Olney Hall and will sing excerpts from spirituals. The lecture is free to the public.

SPAN APPROACHES TIED TO DECK

Engineer, Architect Say Another Deck Useless If Approaches Are Congested

An engineer and an architect, appearing on the Radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board," today charged that building a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge would be like widening the mouth of a funnel without widening the funnel itself.

Engineer Harold Stockstad of Mill Valley and San Anselmo architect George A. Stolz appeared with Marin County Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker and Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District director Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato.

All four conceded that at least part of the ultimate solution to Marin's commuting problems lies in rapid transit. Leydecker and Hardcastle felt the second deck is a necessary interim step.

Stockstad and Stolz, however, insisted the new deck would accomplish little as long as the approaches — both in Marin and San Francisco—are congested.

Bridge district directors, maintained Stockstad, should not even give serious thought to the deck until they have studied this other problem. He said the directors should learn that the bridge "is not isolated in space and time from the rest of the Bay Area," and should hinge their decisions on the outcome of studies of such long-range plans as the proposed re-routing of Highway 101 down the edge of San Pablo Bay.

Leydecker scoffed at this "great circle route," saying Marin commuters would never go out of their way to get to San Francisco. Stockstad said they would do so if it got them there sooner.

In his opening remarks, Hardcastle discounted the "funnel" theory, saying there is hope of the approaches on both sides of the Golden Gate being widened soon.

"I have very good reason to believe from highly reliable informed sources that agreement will be reached between the San Francisco supervisors and the state Division of Highways so that construction will soon begin on a freeway in San Francisco to serve the Golden Gate Bridge," said Hardcastle.

In Marin, Hardcastle said, "some highly competent highway engineers . . . are agreed that a third tunnel is the best solution" to widening the Waldo Grade.

From Marin City to Greenbrae, he added, the highway "could be four-laned each way virtually overnight by from 12 to 11 "or perhaps 10" feet. Bridge lanes are 10 feet wide.

"The lanes on the bridge were too narrow in 1938," countered Stockstad, "so reducing them to 10 feet on the Waldo would kill three or four times as many people as we do now."

Storz said he failed to see how bridge district directors concluded in 1962 that the bridge was not strong enough to hold lightweight aluminum rapid transit trains, yet now feel it could take a second deck.

He argued that a five-lane second deck would in effect add only a single lane of capacity, since the rush hour problem only exists in one direction at a time.

Building another deck, he bemoaned, would kill any hope of some day using the bridge for rapid transit.

Leydecker said long-range answers would involve a combination of things, ranging from a rapid transit tube to the revival of ferries. But he saw these things as being 15 to 20 years away.

He termed a second bridge deck "the only interim plan which has any reasonable hope of being done in 5 or 10 years."

Stockstad said the 20-year gap could be reduced to five or six if bridge directors would concentrate on fitting Marin in with over-all Bay Area planning.

One of San Francisco's major works of art is the mural in Rincon Annex Post Office at Mission and Steuart Streets, painted by Anton Refregier, depicting the history of San Francisco.

Robberies Make Biggest Jump In Marin Crime Log

Biggest percentage increase in felony crime in Marin last year was robbery, according to figures prepared by the state attorney general's office.

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, releasing a state crime report yesterday, disclosed that major felonies increased in Marin in 1964 over 1963 by the greatest percentage of any Bay Area county and the second greatest in the state. The increase in seven major felonies in Marin was 32.5 per cent.

The increase in robberies over the previous year, however, was 63.7 per cent, with 36 robberies reported last year, Lynch's office said today.

Crimes against property—including burglary, grand theft and auto theft—increased by 33 per cent, but made up the bulk of 1,940 of the seven major felonies reported last year in Marin. There were 1,795 crimes of this category in the county, according to the attorney general's figures.

Crimes against persons, other than robbery — including willful homicide, assault and forcible rape—went up by 18.4 per cent, with 109 such cases reported.

Besides the seven major felonies on the list, Marin had 450 felony cases of forgery and bad checks last year, Lynch reported. There were also 224 cases of all other felonies in the county.

A breakdown of the major crimes reported in Marin last year showed: Willful homicide, 3; robbery, 36; assault, 95; burglary, 1,126; grand theft, 273; auto theft, 396, and forcible rape, 11.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, in a memorandum to the county administrator this week, pinpointed densely populated unincorporated areas as locale of much of Marin's crime —particularly its unsolved crime. Wrote Kettenhofen:

"It has come to my attention that a great deal of crime in the past year has occurred in the densely unincorporated (sic) areas of Marin, with very few apprehensions. As supervisor of the Second District, I believe I represent the most densely populated unincorporated areas of Marin. I further believe that the police coverage in this area is substantially less than comparable areas within the incorporated limits of the various cities.

"There are presently two sheriff's substations in Marin, one in Marin City and one in Western Marin, but the unincorporated area of District Two is not served to this extent."

Kettenhofen asked a study of "methods of rectifying this undesirable condition."

Groucho Amused By Library Plea

"I'm getting quite a kick out of this," Marx said yesterday. "My things will be in pretty high class company, next to the Gettysburg Address and the Declaration of Independence."

The Universities of Wisconsin and Michigan also asked for his papers, said the mustached, cigar-wiggling star.

Marin Demos Polled On Casady

S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito, First Congressional District director of California Democratic Council, appealed today for Marin CDC clubs to give him an expression of opinion on what should be done about Simon Casady, state president of CDC.

Politzer said he will leave for Los Angeles tomorrow night to attend a special meeting of the CDC board of directors. Since a possible recall of Casady will be taken up at the meeting, Politzer seeks a concensus of Marin CDC groups so that he can represent the general feeling of the local clubs.

SPAN APPROACHES TIED TO DECK

Engineer, Architect Say Another Deck Useless If Approaches Are Congested

An engineer and an architect, appearing on the Radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board," today charged that building a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge would be like widening the mouth of a funnel without widening the funnel itself.

Engineer Harold Stockstad of Mill Valley and San Anselmo architect George A. Stolz appeared with Marin County Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker and Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District director Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato.

All four conceded that at least part of the ultimate solution to Marin's commuting problems lies in rapid transit. Leydecker and Hardcastle felt the second deck is a necessary interim step.

Stockstad and Stolz, however, insisted the new deck would accomplish little as long as the approaches — both in Marin and San Francisco—are congested.

Bridge district directors, maintained Stockstad, should not even give serious thought to the deck until they have studied this other problem. He said the directors should learn that the bridge "is not isolated in space and time from the rest of the Bay Area," and should hinge their decisions on the outcome of studies of such long-range plans as the proposed re-routing of Highway 101 down the edge of San Pablo Bay.

Leydecker scoffed at this "great circle route," saying Marin commuters would never go out of their way to get to San Francisco. Stockstad said they would do so if it got them there sooner.

In his opening remarks, Hardcastle discounted the "funnel" theory, saying there is hope of the approaches on both sides of the Golden Gate being widened soon.

"I have very good reason to believe from highly reliable informed sources that agreement will be reached between the San Francisco supervisors and the state Division of Highways so that construction will soon begin on a freeway in San Francisco to serve the Golden Gate Bridge," said Hardcastle.

In Marin, Hardcastle said, "some highly competent highway engineers . . . are agreed that a third tunnel is the best solution" to widening the Waldo Grade.

From Marin City to Greenbrae, he added, the highway "could be four-laned each way virtually overnight by from 12 to 11 "or perhaps 10" feet. Bridge lanes are 10 feet wide.

"The lanes on the bridge were too narrow in 1938," countered Stockstad, "so reducing them to 10 feet on the Waldo would kill three or four times as many people as we do now."

Storz said he failed to see how bridge district directors concluded in 1962 that the bridge was not strong enough to hold lightweight aluminum rapid transit trains, yet now feel it could take a second deck.

He argued that a five-lane second deck would in effect add only a single lane of capacity, since the rush hour problem only exists in one direction at a time.

Building another deck, he bemoaned, would kill any hope of some day using the bridge for rapid transit.

Leydecker said long-range answers would involve a combination of things, ranging from a rapid transit tube to the revival of ferries. But he saw these things as being 15 to 20 years away.

He termed a second bridge deck "the only interim plan which has any reasonable hope of being done in 5 or 10 years."

Stockstad said the 20-year gap could be reduced to five or six if bridge directors would concentrate on fitting Marin in with over-all Bay Area planning.

One of San Francisco's major works of art is the mural in Rincon Annex Post Office at Mission and Steuart Streets, painted by Anton Refregier, depicting the history of San Francisco.

Robberies Make Biggest Jump In Marin Crime Log

Biggest percentage increase in felony crime in Marin last year was robbery, according to figures prepared by the state attorney general's office.

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, releasing a state crime report yesterday, disclosed that major felonies increased in Marin in 1964 over 1963 by the greatest percentage of any Bay Area county and the second greatest in the state. The increase in seven major felonies in Marin was 32.5 per cent.

The increase in robberies over the previous year, however, was 63.7 per cent, with 36 robberies reported last year, Lynch's office said today.

Crimes against property—including burglary, grand theft and auto theft—increased by 33 per cent, but made up the bulk of 1,940 of the seven major felonies reported last year in Marin. There were 1,795 crimes of this category in the county, according to the attorney general's figures.

Crimes against persons, other than robbery — including willful homicide, assault and forcible rape—went up by 18.4 per cent, with 109 such cases reported.

Besides the seven major felonies on the list, Marin had 450 felony cases of forgery and bad checks last year, Lynch reported. There were also 224 cases of all other felonies in the county.

A breakdown of the major crimes reported in Marin last year showed: Willful homicide, 3; robbery, 36; assault, 95; burglary, 1,126; grand theft, 273; auto theft, 396, and forcible rape, 11.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, in a memorandum to the county administrator this week, pinpointed densely populated unincorporated areas as locale of much of Marin's crime —particularly its unsolved crime. Wrote Kettenhofen:

"It has come to my attention that a great deal of crime in the past year has occurred in the densely unincorporated (sic) areas of Marin, with very few apprehensions. As supervisor of the Second District, I believe I represent the most densely populated unincorporated areas of Marin. I further believe that the police coverage in this area is substantially less than comparable areas within the incorporated limits of the various cities.

"There are presently two sheriff's substations in Marin, one in Marin City and one in Western Marin, but the unincorporated area of District Two is not served to this extent."

Kettenhofen asked a study of "methods of rectifying this undesirable condition."

Groucho Amused By Library Plea

"I'm getting quite a kick out of this," Marx said yesterday. "My things will be in pretty high class company, next to the Gettysburg Address and the Declaration of Independence."

The Universities of Wisconsin and Michigan also asked for his papers, said the mustached, cigar-wiggling star.

Marin Demos Polled On Casady

S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito, First Congressional District director of California Democratic Council, appealed today for Marin CDC clubs to give him an expression of opinion on what should be done about Simon Casady, state president of CDC.

Politzer said he will leave for Los Angeles tomorrow night to attend a special meeting of the CDC board of directors. Since a possible recall of Casady will be taken up at the meeting, Politzer seeks a concensus of Marin CDC groups so that he can represent the general feeling of the local clubs.

Star Richard Arlen Rushed To Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)— Richard Arlen, 65, who made 255 movies in 45 years — including "Wings" which won the first Academy Award in history — was reported in "good condition" today in the Motion Picture Country House and Hospital in nearby Woodland Hills.

Attendants said Arlen was admitted into the hospital last night for "observation," but a source close to the actor said he was rushed to the hospital from his home for treatment of apparent lobar pneumonia.

Willits-Eureka Passenger Run Is Requested Of PUC

Two Mendocino County communities, Covelo and Dos Rios, have petitioned the state public utilities commission to order Northwestern Pacific Railroad to resume passenger service between Willits and Eureka.

The Willits to Eureka run, the last passenger run on the line, was discontinued after last winter's floods and has not been resumed.

The two communities charged the railroad "is trying systematically to abandon the finest scenic rail line in the west, and is in effect locking up the Eel River by not running an attractive train service."

Freight trains have been making the Willits-Eureka run since June 15, but the railroad has applied to the PUC to discontinue passenger train service. The railroad claimed that public convenience does not require passenger service.

The petition signed by 120 residents of Covelo and Dos Rios, small farming, timber and resort communities on the banks of the Eel River, said the discontinuance of passenger services has effected the economy of the area.

"Resorts in the area have suffered greatly since the service was discontinued," the petition said.

The Northwestern Pacific train has been the only access to the canyon for 60 years and residents are now isolated, according to the petition.

The Willits to Eureka run became the last passenger run on the Northwestern Pacific line when San Rafael-Willits passenger service was abandoned in 1958.

The railroad also is seeking to abandon two lines in Marin, the Sausalito branch and either the main line from east of Corte Madera to Tiburon or the Puerto Suello tunnel.

Northwestern Pacific Railroad also is seeking to block enforcement of a State Public Utilities Commission order that it reopen the Puerto Suello Tunnel in San Rafael.

Doctor's Bag Stolen From Tiburon Auto

Dr. Paul E. Wilson reported to the Tiburon sheriff's substation that the top of his convertible was slashed and a medical bag stolen from his car between 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. yesterday.

Dr. Wilson said the car was parked in the driveway of his home at 123 Hacienda Drive. As a pediatrician, he said he carries no narcotics. The bag contained about $200 in medical equipment, he said.

Tomales Bay State Park is on the west side of Tomales Bay and the park entrance is three miles north of Inverness.

Supervisors Hear Plea On Home Rule

EUREKA (AP)—Mayor W. W. Dumas of Baton Rouge, La., made a strong plea for county home rule yesterday before the California County Supervisors Assn. annual meeting.

Dumas, speaking as president of the National Assn. of Counties, said, "Unless we organize together, local government will be ruled out and everything will be run from the state capital."

Dumas backed President Johnsons' Viet Nam policy, saying, "I think we ought to stay there and show the Communists we're not going to be pushed.

As an example of what he termed the "problems . . . crying out to be solved. . ." Dumas said: "The racial issue can no longer be cast aside. It affects the whole nation."

Riverside County Supervisor Paul J. Anderson was elected president of the California group for the coming year, succeeding Modoc County Supervisor James C. Stearns.

Point Reyes National Seashore is made up of the 10-mile-long Point Reyes Beach, lowlands of sand dunes, rolling hills enclosing lagoons and esteros, the sandy sheltered and curving beach of Drake's Bay and the forest covered Inverness Ridge.

Marinites Look At County, Find It Not Quite Perfect

Two Marinites looked at their county last night and agreed it is far from "the promised land."

They spoke at the first of a series of symposiums on "Home in Suburbia—Pandora's Box?" at the Civic Center, sponsored by Marin Assn. for Mental Health, Young Women's Christian Assn., Family Service League, and the League for Planned Parenthood.

To Lee Noble McEachern, assistant director of public affairs for KRON-TV, a seven-year resident of Corte Madera, the realty salesman's picture of the charmed life did not prepare for the squeeze of home costs and taxes, the subdivider's chaotic disturbance, or "the sewer lines laid down the middle of Paradise Drive."

He questioned the influence on children of complete dependence on the car for transportation. He pondered the philosophy of the teen-ager that "everyone is doing it" and said the current revolution in sexual mores is a far-reaching in its influence as the civil rights revolution.

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Tiburon, the second speaker, said there are three different viewpoints on Marin: that of the newcomer; that of the professional critic, and that of the native critic who takes a dim view of all the incoming population.

Mrs. Swadesh has been active in civic affairs and politics during the 12 years she has lived in Marin County. She is teaching a course in politics at San Francisco State College this semester and is state president of Americans for Democratic Action.

The newcomer feels the promise of good schools, natural beauty, gardens, and a step up the social ladder, as well as a chance to get out of the city and its unsolved problems, said Mrs. Swadesh. When he gets here, there is no small town feeling or old-fashioned verities; instead he finds a closed society, unfriendly faces.

The native grown critic asks such questions as: "Why do kids go wrong here? Why are they opening up new tracts all the time? Why do so many kids drop out of school?"

Mrs. Swadesh said there is "an incredible amount of talent in this county, some of it contributed to the county by public officials." But she finds the average citizen in suburbia is uncommitted, uninvolved.

"He is a crisis activist, waiting until something happens before he protests. Then he's too late."

"While we have come to a community that isn't a community, where there are no uncles or aunts, no grandparents and our childhood patterns don't fit, our kids are in school making their own world with completely new patterns. That's why they don't understand us and we don't understand them," she said.

Jack Danielson, Dixie school district psychologist, is chairman of the symposium series. The next program titled, "The B.A. in the Kitchen," will be next Wednesday, at 8 p.m., at the Civic Center.

LeMay assumes his new post on Nov. 1. He was formerly Air Force Chief of Staff.

Terra Linda Rec District Planning A Newsletter

Directors of Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District last night agreed to start putting out a district newsletter to keep residents aware of program changes and board actions.

"We add something to our program," board chairman Jack Brandon said, "and no one knows about it. It's been a problem."

Directors agreed that the newsletter will come out every eight or 10 weeks. Volunteer editing and make-up will be needed.

Brandon said each publication will probably cost about $50.

Directors authorized maintenance superintendent C. P. Goeree to seek bids on installation of nine lighted exit signs which the fire marshal has said are required in the recreation center. New panic hardware on doors will also be required soon, Brandon said.

Teen-agers who have objected to bright lights at dances, required because of the lack of exit illumination, have raised enough money for a standby firemen at the dances so they can have low lights until the exit lights are installed, Brandon said.

The Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District Board also:

1. Heard a report from architect Austin H. Gibbon on changes that could be made in the pool facilities, including shift of the entrance gate, clothes lockers and possible installation of a snack bar.

2. Named the entire board and Goeree to serve on a budget review committee to see how costs can be reduced by $1,505. The figure represents the difference between expected revenues and the budget estimate.

3. Asked that pool passes be returned by Jan. 1, if residents want return of the 50-cent deposit on the passes.

Petty Theft Suspect Goes To Upper Court

Kathleen Cowart, 26, of Richmond, was held over to Marin Superior Court yesterday following preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of petty theft with a prior conviction.

She was arrested Sept. 10 by Corte Madera police and released on $276 bail. The prior conviction for petty theft was in Marin County on March 23, 1964, for taking merchandise from Montgomery Ward and Co.

The organization of the original Ku Klux Klan. as promulgated in its prescript, or constitution, adopted in 1867, was modeled after the Federal Union.

Hoffa Trials Costs Placed At $570,000

By DON CARSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department says Teamsters President James R. Hoffa pulled $570,396 from the union treasury to help pay for his criminal trials.

The department said yesterday it compiled the figures from Teamster records and made no attempt to verify them.

"That's only the top of the iceberg."

He said the total probably is nearer to $1 million for Hoffa's criminal cases since 1959. And he said the Teamster till may have been tapped for as much as $3 million to defend Hoffa and 47 other union officials convicted during the past five years.

The Labor Department said the $570,396 covered three criminal trials during the past three years.

The Spelman suit, expected to come to trial in Washington within the next two months, was filed in March 1964. Hoffa stopped using union money for his legal troubles shortly thereafter, although he contended its use was legal as a necessary business expense.

Novato Creek Money Available

Congress has reactivated the Novato Creek Flood Control project and appropriated $15,000 to resume its studies, Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, Calif., announced today.

The funds were included in the Public Works Appropriations Act of 1965, passed by Congress last Friday and sent to the President for signature.

The appropriations bill also includes $800,000 to complete planning and start construction of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

Congress also added a $10,000 item to continue studies of small craft harbor sites along the north coast of California, including Point Reyes.

State Gives Marin Road Project Cash

The California Highway Commission today adopted a 1966-67 budget including $1,170,000 for rights of way in Marin and two resurfacing projects, one entirely in Marin and another partially in Marin.

The resurfacing project entirely in Marin will be along portions of Highway 101 between the Richardson Bay Bridge and Corte Madera Creek at a cost estimated at $275,000.

A second project involving Marin will be resurfacing of portions of Highway 101 between .7 of a mile north of Atherton Avenue in Novato to .9 of a mile south of the Northwestern Pacific railroad overhead south of Petaluma. The cost of this project, which will extend into Sonoma County, has been estimated at $175,000.

No funds were included for construction on the second stage of the Highway 101 freeway project through San Rafael.

The allocation for rights-of-way for various state highway routes in Marin County was $720,000.

A total of $651,919,000 for state highway construction, rights-of-way and engineering was budgeted by the commission. This was $39,400,000 more than the current budget.

Under the new budget, construction contracts can be awarded beginning next January, but right-of-way funds may not be spent until next July 1, the start of the fiscal year.

Chairman Robert B. Bradford said major construction effort continues on California's 2,166-mile share of the national system of interstate and defense highways.

The budget contains $339,409,355 in federal funds, and $289,205,850 of this amount is funded toward completion of the interstate system, which, by federal law, must be finished by 1972.

The budget contains $450,621,000 major construction and improvement, $179,848,655 for rights-of-way and other amounts for contingencies, resurfacing, signs and striping, highway planning studies and minor improvements.

Bradford said the new budget will provide about 320 miles of new multi-lane freeways and additional lanes on another 29 miles of existing freeways.

There is $9,259,000 for landscaping and functional tree planting along freeway routes in the new budget, as compared to $6,229,000 in the current budget.

Rodeo (Fort Cronkhite) Beach can be reached by turning off on the Sausalito lateral from the Golden Gate Bridge and going through the government's one-way tunnel. It offers good swimming, surf fishing and searching for stones.

Hoffa Trials Costs Placed At $570,000

By DON CARSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department says Teamsters President James R. Hoffa pulled $570,396 from the union treasury to help pay for his criminal trials.

The department said yesterday it compiled the figures from Teamster records and made no attempt to verify them.

"That's only the top of the iceberg."

He said the total probably is nearer to $1 million for Hoffa's criminal cases since 1959. And he said the Teamster till may have been tapped for as much as $3 million to defend Hoffa and 47 other union officials convicted during the past five years.

The Labor Department said the $570,396 covered three criminal trials during the past three years.

The Spelman suit, expected to come to trial in Washington within the next two months, was filed in March 1964. Hoffa stopped using union money for his legal troubles shortly thereafter, although he contended its use was legal as a necessary business expense.

Novato Creek Money Available

Congress has reactivated the Novato Creek Flood Control project and appropriated $15,000 to resume its studies, Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, Calif., announced today.

The funds were included in the Public Works Appropriations Act of 1965, passed by Congress last Friday and sent to the President for signature.

The appropriations bill also includes $800,000 to complete planning and start construction of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

Congress also added a $10,000 item to continue studies of small craft harbor sites along the north coast of California, including Point Reyes.

State Gives Marin Road Project Cash

The California Highway Commission today adopted a 1966-67 budget including $1,170,000 for rights of way in Marin and two resurfacing projects, one entirely in Marin and another partially in Marin.

The resurfacing project entirely in Marin will be along portions of Highway 101 between the Richardson Bay Bridge and Corte Madera Creek at a cost estimated at $275,000.

A second project involving Marin will be resurfacing of portions of Highway 101 between .7 of a mile north of Atherton Avenue in Novato to .9 of a mile south of the Northwestern Pacific railroad overhead south of Petaluma. The cost of this project, which will extend into Sonoma County, has been estimated at $175,000.

No funds were included for construction on the second stage of the Highway 101 freeway project through San Rafael.

The allocation for rights-of-way for various state highway routes in Marin County was $720,000.

A total of $651,919,000 for state highway construction, rights-of-way and engineering was budgeted by the commission. This was $39,400,000 more than the current budget.

Under the new budget, construction contracts can be awarded beginning next January, but right-of-way funds may not be spent until next July 1, the start of the fiscal year.

Chairman Robert B. Bradford said major construction effort continues on California's 2,166-mile share of the national system of interstate and defense highways.

The budget contains $339,409,355 in federal funds, and $289,205,850 of this amount is funded toward completion of the interstate system, which, by federal law, must be finished by 1972.

The budget contains $450,621,000 major construction and improvement, $179,848,655 for rights-of-way and other amounts for contingencies, resurfacing, signs and striping, highway planning studies and minor improvements.

Bradford said the new budget will provide about 320 miles of new multi-lane freeways and additional lanes on another 29 miles of existing freeways.

There is $9,259,000 for landscaping and functional tree planting along freeway routes in the new budget, as compared to $6,229,000 in the current budget.

Rodeo (Fort Cronkhite) Beach can be reached by turning off on the Sausalito lateral from the Golden Gate Bridge and going through the government's one-way tunnel. It offers good swimming, surf fishing and searching for stones.

Senate Passes Measure For Whiskeytown Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to the White House today a bill to authorize a 225,000 - acre, three-unit Whiskeytown, Shasta, Trinity National Recreation Area in northern California.

Before passage by voice vote, Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel and George Murphy, California Republicans, spoke highly of the project and said it had the support of President Johnson, Gov. Brown of California, and the Interior and Agriculture departments.

The bill would authorize $21.6 million for land acquisition and $22.7 million for development of recreational facilities surrounding the Whiskeytown, Shasta, Trinity and Lewiston Reservoirs of the Central Valley Reclamation Bureau Project in Shasta and Trinity counties.

The Shasta and Trinity-Lewiston units of the recreation area, embracing areas of the Trinity and Shasta National Forests, would be administered by the forest service. The Whiskeytown unit would be under the National Park Service.

Driver Fined $220

Dorothy Lister Stapleton, 41, of 1805 Mar West, Tiburon, was fined $220 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. She was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 east, on Oct. 8.

Conjugal Visits Urged At Prison

Why not allow wives of San Quentin inmates to visit their husbands overnight in their cells? Warden Lawrence E. Wilson was asked yesterday.

Eight Superior Court judges from Equador, on a state department sponsored tour, thought it was a good idea. It happened in their country with good results.

"To deny conjugal visits," they said, "is to extend the punishment to family life."

The unusual question did not take Wilson by surprise. The morals of North American society, he said, would not find conjugal visits totally acceptable.

Governor Signs Pensioners' Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Some 200,000 elderly Californians can keep their recent Social Security boost without worrying that a like amount will be deducted from their state welfare grants.

Gov. Brown signed into law yesterday a bill by Assemblyman John L. Burton, D - San Francisco, which provides the federal boosts cannot be counted as income. Under the old law, the federal money would have been subtracted from state old age assistance programs.

The federal increase, voted by Congress in July, covered a period from January to October of this year — amounting to about $35 a recipient and a total of some $6 million in California.

Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary To Mark Birthday With Ball

"Happy Birthday, Sunny Hills!" will be the theme of the 34th annual Charity Ball, sponsored by the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary, on Oct. 30 at the Meadow Club.

THE AUXILIARY will celebrate the founding of the Sunny Hills home in San Anselmo 70 years ago, by staging a "Nineteenth Century Country Ball." The Victorian decor will be enhanced by red carpeting to welcome the guests and the foyer will feature a Victorian gazebo, in which members of the Junior Auxiliary will check reservations, and a display of "Turn of the Century" photographs of early Marin.

The main ballroom will be decorated with red and gold flocked wallpaper, and red velvet Victorian furniture. Churchwomen Set Book Tea In Behr Home

Women of the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour of Mill Valley will have a book tea at the home of Mrs. Peter Behr on Oct. 28 from 1 to 3:30 p.m. to help establish a library in a mission of the church at Eagle, Alaska.

"Bring a Book, Buy a Book" is the theme, and Mrs. Earl Reinke will be in charge of the book table.

Books will be moderately priced, and profits will be used to purchase books for the Alaskan Mission where the Rev. Richard Treadwell and his wife Shirley are serving. He was the seminarian assisting the Rev. D. Murray Hammond in his work at The Church of Our Saviour.

The Treadwells write that the Eskimo children of Eagle have nothing to talk about other than school since there is no television or library in the mission or town. Textbooks and the Bible were the only printed matter in the church until the Mill Valley Episcopal churchwomen sent a shipment of books to the Treadwells recently.

Mrs. G. R. McConnell is general chairman for the event. Assisting at the tea table will be Mrs. John Linker, president of the Episcopal churchwomen, and Mesdames Harrison Leppo, Pieter Van Dalen, James Wirt, D. Murray Hammond and Eugene Hecht.

A shuttle service arranged by Mrs. Thomas Kewin will operate from the church to the Behrs' home, where parking is limited. Child care will be provided at the church.

Dominican Troupe Set To Stage 'Madwoman'

The Troupers Club of Dominican College, San Rafael, will present the French play "The Madwoman of Chaillot" by Jean Giraudoux twice this weekend at Angelico Hall on the campus.

Performances are scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday.

A "sleeper" when it was produced on Broadway in 1949, it did badly at first but was later named the year's best foreign play by the Drama Critics Circle.

Turkish, Swiss Exchange Students Recall Marin

You might not expect a young Swiss and an equally young Turk to talk about Marin County when they got together in Istanbul, but it happened recently.

The occasion was the first meeting between Ahmet Kemil Esitgen of Istanbul, who spent the 1962-63 school year as an American Field Service exchange student at Terra Linda High School, and Peter Jurg Kienast of Zurich, who came the following year.

Esitgen stayed with the Richard H. DeKay family at 14 Oak View Drive, Los Ranchitos. Kienast lived with the Walter S. Wright family at 927 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley.

While here, Kienast became friends with the DeKay family and "heard so much about Ahmet," according to Mrs. DeKay, "that when he visited Istanbul, he looked him up and they spent a couple of days together."

Word of this came to the DeKays in a letter which Peter wrote in Turkey last week. He explained that he and three friends had been on a trip which took them through Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Ahmet, Peter learned, is attending a university there, "and at the same time he has an independent job in the furniture business."

While the Turkish youth would like to spend some more time in this country, Kienast said, the present attitude of his countrymen toward Americans is far from warm, and he might find it difficult to get work if he returned home from a lengthy stay in the United States.

The Swiss youths planned to return home soon by way of Greece and Yugoslavia. Kienast completed high school this year and expects to enter the Swiss armed forces after he returns home.

Cuban Refugees Exodus Resumes

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The flow of Cuban refugees across the Florida Straits resumed today with two small boats making unexpected landings in the Florida Keys. At least 16 more were on the way.

One vessel landed on a public beach at Key West and Border Patrol officers hurried to the scene. The second craft docked at Marathon in the middle of the Keys with 15 refugees.

"The boats just slipped in," said a Coast Guard spokesman. It was not known how many refugees landed at Key West.

Model Home Looted

Meeting Postponed

The three-member committee on the Marin County Planning Commission assigned to study the West Marin master plan will not meet next Monday as originally planned, but will meet at 8 p.m., Nov. 8 at the Civic Center, committee chairman Hugh Dougherty announced today.

Steve Allen Plans Appeal For Candidacy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Comedian Steve Allen says he will appeal a State Supreme Court decision that he can not run for the congressional seat vacated in Los Angeles by James Roosevelt.

In a brief, unanimous opinion the California high court ruled yesterday that Allen "failed to comply with the provisions of the election code and . . . therefore cannot be certified as a partisan candidate."

The court agreed with Los Angeles registrar of voters Benjamin S. Hite who refused to certify Allen as a Democratic candidate because Allen had registered too late as a party member.

The election code requires that a candidate be a member of the party 90 days before filing his candidacy. Allen registered as a Democrat Sept. 18. The special election to fill the congressional vacancy is scheduled for Nov. 23.

Allen, who had announced his candidacy last Sunday, commented on the court's ruling that he was "still very much in the race for Congress" and would appeal the Supreme Court decision in federal court.

Yorty Discusses Negro Policemen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty says he would like to see 1,800 more Negroes on his Police force.

Yorty told a Spanish Speaking Citizens Foundation luncheon yesterday at the San Francisco Press Club that "we've made every effort to recruit them," with little success.

Yorty said there now are about 200 Negro policemen on the 5,000-man force.

Youngsters To Hear 'Barber Of Seville'

By ALAN P. CUNNINGHAM

Opera may be hard for many adults to understand, but when 31 pupils from MacPhail School go to see "The Barber of Seville" Monday in San Francisco, you can bet they will understand what is going on.

The reason is that the youngsters have studied the opera forward and backward under guidance of their enthusiastic teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Wall.

Highpoint of their study (outside of the trip to San Francisco) comes at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow when the pupils put on their own version of "The Barber" for their parents.

"I think it is important to teach the children to have an interest in cultural things in this day and age when there is so much emphasis on science," Mrs. Wall said.

She is determined to make the annual trip to the opera mean something for her pupils. "Otherwise," she said, "the opera is just an excuse to get out of school."

Three or four times yearly, Bay Area school children are treated to a performance sponsored by the San Francisco Opera Guild.

A month before her pupils are scheduled to go, Mrs. Wall launches a study in depth of the opera: its plot, music and poetry. She finds the study ties in with nearly every one of the subjects she teaches — except mathematics.

This year, her combined fifth and sixth grade home room tried a new wrinkle: they tape-recorded the music and learned the words, in English.

Tomorrow's performance will begin with an empty stage, while the recorded overture plays. Then the youngsters will come out and recite the English words.

At important moments in the plot, however, the young actors will stand still while a tape recorded soprano, tenor or baritone sings an aria in Italian.

"In the past, we have sometimes let the children sing," Mrs. Wall said, "but we found that the music from this one is either too high or too low, no matter what key you put it in."

The children will sit in seats which, if their parents attended the opera at night, would cost $10 apiece. The opera guild induces patrons of the opera to underwrite all but $3 of the cost, and the school Parent-Teacher Assn. pays some more, bringing the cost down to about $1 per pupil.

Mrs. Wall and Principal Lawrence McArdell believe theirs will be the only youngsters in the opera house Monday who have performed Rossini's masterpiece themselves.

They won't be surprised if they overhear a few sixth graders whistling arias in the schoolyard next week.

Watts Killing 'Justifiable'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A coroner's jury has ruled the death of Thomas Owens, 22, killed by police shotguns in the Watts area Aug. 14, to be justifiable homicide.

The ruling, made Tuesday, was the 25th ruling of justifiable homicide since the inquests into rioting deaths began.

An inquest planned into the death of Eugene Shimatsu, 18, was canceled at the request of his family, which said it was satisfied with police reports on the case.

Police said Shimatsu was shot by police Aug. 15 when he fled from a looted liquor store.

Couple Sued By His Mother

A Mill Valley couple is being sued by the husband's mother for $125,000 in an alleged stove-burning accident last April 26.

Kitty Schoenberg of New York charges Bernard J. and Carol S. Schoenberg, 34 Underhill Road, were negligent in maintenance of their kitchen stove during her visit on April 26.

The plaintiff alleges she suffered burns as a result of the carelessness. The case was originally filed in San Francisco Superior Court, then transferred this week to Marin Superior Court.

Dominican Troupe Set To Stage 'Madwoman'

The Troupers Club of Dominican College, San Rafael, will present the French play "The Madwoman of Chaillot" by Jean Giraudoux twice this weekend at Angelico Hall on the campus.

Performances are scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday.

A "sleeper" when it was produced on Broadway in 1949, it did badly at first but was later named the year's best foreign play by the Drama Critics Circle.

Director of the Dominican production is J. E. Sullivan.

Sculptor's Show Set Of Welded Objects

Welded steel sculpture by Rodger Jacobsen of San Rafael will be featured at the Dilexi Gallery, San Francisco, in his first one-man show, Tuesday through Nov. 20.

Jacobsen, of 55 Fremont Road, has exhibited throughout the Bay Area in group shows.

Turkish, Swiss Exchange Students Recall Marin

You might not expect a young Swiss and an equally young Turk to talk about Marin County when they got together in Istanbul, but it happened recently.

The occasion was the first meeting between Ahmet Kemil Esitgen of Istanbul, who spent the 1962-63 school year as an American Field Service exchange student at Terra Linda High School, and Peter Jurg Kienast of Zurich, who came the following year.

Esitgen stayed with the Richard H. DeKay family at 14 Oak View Drive, Los Ranchitos. Kienast lived with the Walter S. Wright family at 927 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley.

While here, Kienast became friends with the DeKay family and "heard so much about Ahmet," according to Mrs. DeKay, "that when he visited Istanbul, he looked him up and they spent a couple of days together."

Word of this came to the DeKays in a letter which Peter wrote in Turkey last week. He explained that he and three friends had been on a trip which took them through Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Ahmet, Peter learned, is attending a university there, "and at the same time he has an independent job in the furniture business."

While the Turkish youth would like to spend some more time in this country, Kienast said, the present attitude of his countrymen toward Americans is far from warm, and he might find it difficult to get work if he returned home from a lengthy stay in the United States.

The Swiss youths planned to return home soon by way of Greece and Yugoslavia. Kienast completed high school this year and expects to enter the Swiss armed forces after he returns home.

Cuban Refugees Exodus Resumes

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The flow of Cuban refugees across the Florida Straits resumed today with two small boats making unexpected landings in the Florida Keys. At least 16 more were on the way.

One vessel landed on a public beach at Key West and Border Patrol officers hurried to the scene. The second craft docked at Marathon in the middle of the Keys with 15 refugees.

"The boats just slipped in," said a Coast Guard spokesman. It was not known how many refugees landed at Key West.

Model Home Looted

Meeting Postponed

The three-member committee on the Marin County Planning Commission assigned to study the West Marin master plan will not meet next Monday as originally planned, but will meet at 8 p.m., Nov. 8 at the Civic Center, committee chairman Hugh Dougherty announced today.

Steve Allen Plans Appeal For Candidacy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Comedian Steve Allen says he will appeal a State Supreme Court decision that he can not run for the congressional seat vacated in Los Angeles by James Roosevelt.

In a brief, unanimous opinion the California high court ruled yesterday that Allen "failed to comply with the provisions of the election code and . . . therefore cannot be certified as a partisan candidate."

The court agreed with Los Angeles registrar of voters Benjamin S. Hite who refused to certify Allen as a Democratic candidate because Allen had registered too late as a party member.

The election code requires that a candidate be a member of the party 90 days before filing his candidacy. Allen registered as a Democrat Sept. 18. The special election to fill the congressional vacancy is scheduled for Nov. 23.

Allen, who had announced his candidacy last Sunday, commented on the court's ruling that he was "still very much in the race for Congress" and would appeal the Supreme Court decision in federal court.

Simple Plays Meant To Keep Wolf From Biting That Hand

Bridge players take pride in strange things.

"What a good guess I made in trumps!" South exulted after the play of today's hand. "I'd have been down another if I played the ace of trumps first."

Opening lead — ♡ 2

South took the first trick with the ace of hearts and led a trump to dummy's king.

Declarer led the ten of spades from dummy next and continued with two more rounds of trumps. This left East with the only trump in the pack.

FINESSE FAILS

South led the queen of diamonds, and West took the ace and returned a heart to dummy's king. When declarer tried to cash the king of diamonds, East ruffed and returned a club.

South lost a finesse and wound up making only four trumps, two hearts, and one club. Down three.

TIME TO BOAST

This was the moment that South picked to boast about his good guess in the trump suit.

It was such a good guess that it cost South the game and rubber.

South should not guess the right trump play because he should not play trumps at all. South should win the first heart in dummy and lead a diamond to force out the ace.

South wins the heart return, cashes the ace of clubs to discard dummy's last heart, and then proceeds to ruff clubs in dummy and diamonds in his own hand.

'Bumper Bunnies' Hired By Station

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Oct. 21, the 294th day of 1965 with 71 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn.

In 1805, the English fleet under Lord Nelson defeated the French and Spanish fleets off the Cape of Trafalgar.

In 1917, soldiers of the First Division became the initial U.S. troops to see action in World War I.

A thought for the day—British poet Samuel Taylor Coleridge said: "To have lived in vain must be a painful thought to any man, and especially so to him who has made literature his profession."

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

Attorney Rips Mill Valley Attitude In Garbage Fuss

San Rafael attorney Albert Bianchi yesterday accused Mill Valley city councilmen of taking a "shoot first and ask questions later" attitude toward his clients, Mill Valley Refuse Service Inc.

His comments were voiced in a letter to Mayor Michael Wornum. Copies were sent to the other councilmen and to City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer.

Bianchi said he was "genuinely amazed" to learn from Tuesday's Independent-Journal that the council "had seen fit to pass judgment upon our client without so much as bothering to hold a hearing where all of the pertinent facts could be presented."

At the Monday council meeting, Wornum and others commented that residents were unhappy with the garbage service. The council decided to hold a Nov. 1 hearing on whether to end the city's contract with the firm.

In his letter, Bianchi contended that he had tried in vain for 10 months to set up a hearing on behalf of the refuse service.

"We have sought in good faith for the past 10 months to discuss items of mutual importance with the council," he wrote, "yet, in 10 minutes the council has unilaterally acted in a manner which can only cast serious doubt upon its objectivity in this matter."

Arguing that the garbage firm had "provided Mill Valley residents with the lowest garbage rates in Marin County," Bianchi said a recent postcard survey showed that 1,642 out of 1,751 persons who responded called the service "good," while only 88 termed it "fair" and only 21 called it "poor."

He contended that the time between now and Nov. 1 was inadequate "to prepare a defense against charges the specific nature of which we have not been told."

Bianchi asked permission to appear at the Nov. 1 session "to join with the council in defining the specific problems involved," followed by a later meeting at which he could state the company's case.

Canadian To Speak

Dr. Ruth Landes, professor of cultural anthropology at MacMaster University in Ontario, Canada, will speak at College of Marin at 10 a.m. tomorrow, in Room G-1 of the physical education building. Her appearance is sponsored by the campus Behavioral Science Club.

Allen Gets Permission From PUC To Drop Service To Civic Center

Cecil J. Allen, operator of San Rafael Bus Lines has been granted permission to drop the service between downtown San Rafael and the Civic Center due to lack of business.

The California Public Utilities Commission says the service, reportedly running at a loss of $80 a month, is apparently no longer needed by the public.

In an application to the commission, Allen said the Civic Center-Santa Venetia service produced an average of $2.60 a day from last January to July. An average of two passengers each round trip were carried on four trips daily, Monday through Friday, during this period, he added.

Allen must give no less than five days notice before he drops the service, the commission ruled.

On Aug. 31, Marin County Board of Supervisors denied a request from Allen for a $300 a month subsidy for the San Rafael-Civic Center service.

The operator's license to run services from San Rafael to Richmond and to San Quentin is not affected by the decision.

A crafts program has started at 10 a.m. Saturdays for those 6 and 7 years and at 11 a.m. for those 8 years and up.

A new "slimnastics" class has opened at 10 a.m. Mondays and another judo class will start Monday night.

ORDINANCE NO. 832
AN ORDINANCE AMENDING TITLE 15 OF THE SAN RAFAEL MUNICIPAL CODE BY AMENDING SECTION 15.32.010, RELATING TO SIZE AND SHAPE OF LOTS, AND BY THE ADDITION OF CHAPTER 15.34, REGARDING REQUIREMENTS BY SLOPE.

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: Section 15.32.010 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

15.32.010 Size and Shape. The size and shape of lots shall conform to the Zoning regulations effective in the area of the proposed subdivision and shall be related to: the accessibility to a public street; the character of the neighborhood; the improvement status of abutting streets; grading plans for the subdivision; and the natural topography of the property as outlined in Chapter 15.34, Requirements by Slope, of this Title. Lots shall be not less than fifty (50) feet in width, nor less than five thousand (5,000) square feet in area, nor less than eighty (80) feet in depth, provided that for corner lots the width shall be not less than sixty (60) feet. The Planning Commission may recommend the granting of exceptions to this provision where lots are to be used for commercial or industrial purposes, where there are unusual topographic conditions, curved or cul-de-sac streets exist, where a Planned Community or a Planned Unit Development has been approved, or where other special conditions warrant exceptions in the lot area, lot depth, and lot width requirements.

SECTION 2: Title Fifteen, the Subdivision Ordinance of the City of San Rafael, is hereby amended by adding Chapter 15.34, Requirements by Slope, which is to read as follows:

CHAPTER 15.34
REQUIREMENTS BY SLOPE

Sections:
15.34.010 Objectives
15.34.020 Subdivisions on standard city streets
15.34.030 Subdivisions on substandard city streets

15.34.010 Objectives. One of the objectives of the San Rafael General Plan is to preserve the natural beauty of the surrounding hillsides while allowing reasonable use of these areas for development purposes. The "Requirements by Slope" are intended to implement this objective by requiring that the lots in hillside subdivisions be realistically related to the natural topography of the land so as to limit grading; retain much of the natural terrain; and, in the case of existing substandard streets, provide for additional on site parking.

15.34.020 Subdivisions on standard city streets. (a) In addition to the Zoning regulations effective in the area, any lot hereafter created shall contain at least the minimum lot width and area as related to its natural topographical slope as set forth in the following table:

Percent of Slope	Average Lot Width	Lot Area in Square Feet
0-10%	(as determined by the Zoning Ordinance)
11%	62 feet	5,500
12%	64 "	6,000
13%	66 "	6,500
14%	68 "	7,000
15%	70 "	7,500
16%	72 "	8,000
17%	74 "	8,500
18%	76 "	9,000
19%	78 "	9,500
20%	80 "	10,000
21%	82 "	10,500
22%	84 "	11,000
23%	86 "	11,500
24%	88 "	12,000
25%	90 "	12,500
26%	92 "	13,000
27%	94 "	13,500
28%	96 "	14,000
29%	98 "	14,500
30%	100 "	15,000
31%	105 "	15,500
32%	110 "	16,000
33%	120 "	16,500
34%	130 "	17,000
35%	140 "	17,500
36%	150 "	18,000
37%	160 "	18,500
38%	170 "	19,000
40%	190 "	20,000

(b) Except where daylighted cuts or fills are proposed, the per cent of slope shall be computed before grading and shall be measured along a line passing through the center of the lot or the building site between lot lines and perpendicular to the natural contours. Where daylighted cuts or fills are proposed, the precent of slope shall be measured on the ground conditions after the daylight grading is accomplished.

(c) Where a reasonable and realistic access to an adequate building site can be demonstrated, a lot with lesser width and area than required by the percent of slope may be allowed.

15.34.030 Subdivisions on substandard city streets. In the subdivision of lots on existing substandard city streets the following regulations shall apply:

(a) Each lot created shall have a driveway, the grade of which shall not exceed 18%, with adequate provision for ingress and egress. Said driveway shall relate to and terminate at a parking area sufficient to accommodate no less than four (4) automobiles. Said parking area shall be located behind the required front setback line.

(b) Frontage and area of each lot created shall, in addition to the conditions outlined in (a) above, conform to the minimum Zoning requirements of the district in which the subdivision is located.

SECTION 3: This Ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage in the Independent-Journal, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

The 160-acre Dias Ranch west of Mill Valley may someday look like this if plans presented to the Marin Planning Commission by Alfred J. Stern of Palo Alto are carried through. School Spirit Impresses Exchange Student Most

The enthusiasm of Novato High School students has impressed Pieter Den Heijer of the Netherlands, who is here this school year in the Youth for Understanding program.

Pieter is staying with the Robert W. Casady family at 1419 Monte Maria, Novato. His adopted American "brothers" are Warren, 16; Brooks, 14, and Kevin, 6.

It was at a pep rally in the gymnasium that he got his first taste of the whoopla that go into the school spirit.

"There were 1,500 students in the gym all shouting, hollering, clapping and stomping their feet all at once. The noise was deafening," Pieter said.

He said that he liked the enthusiasm of the students at the football games. He compared it to the school he attended last year in Gouda, Holland, where only a few hundred would attend any sport event.

"There was not nearly the excitement there," he said.

Since coming to Novato, Pieter played his first game of baseball. He loves football as a spectator, but does not think he would like to play it.

His favorite sports for participation are swimming and basketball, in both of which he hopes to take part at Novato High.

At his home in Holland, he said, there is no television. This is because his father who is principal of a high school, thought television would interfer with the children's studying.

There are only two state-owned TV stations in Holland, he said. Five societies, similar to our networks, must share the time on these two stations. They only broadcast from 7 to 11 p.m., he said.

Pieter speaks English with an American accent in spite of taking five years of British English in school.

"We had Bernard Stulberg of Kalamazoo, Mich., as a Youth for Understanding student in our home all summer," he explained.

Pieter is a tall, rosy-cheeked youth who confesses to liking both the Beatles and Tschaikovski. His ambition is to go to college to become a geography teacher.

Missing Boy Home

Eric Swanson, 14, of 567 Terragon Drive, San Rafael, reported missing Tuesday night by his father, Warren G. Swanson, returned home yesterday in time to go to school, San Rafael police said today.

ORDINANCE NO. 832

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING TITLE 15 OF THE SAN RAFAEL MUNICIPAL CODE BY AMENDING SECTION 15.32.010, RELATING TO SIZE AND SHAPE OF LOTS, AND BY THE ADDITION OF CHAPTER 15.34, REGARDING REQUIREMENTS BY SLOPE.

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: Section 15.32.010 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

15.32.010 Size and Shape. The size and shape of lots shall conform to the Zoning regulations effective in the area of the proposed subdivision and shall be related to: the accessibility to a public street; the character of the neighborhood; the improvement status of abutting streets; grading plans for the subdivision; and the natural topography of the property as outlined in Chapter 15.34, Requirements by Slope, of this Title. Lots shall be not less than fifty (50) feet in width, nor less than five thousand (5,000) square feet in area, nor less than eighty (80) feet in depth, provided that for corner lots the width shall be not less than sixty (60) feet. The Planning Commission may recommend the granting of exceptions to this provision where lots are to be used for commercial or industrial purposes, where there are unusual topographic conditions, curved or cul-de-sac streets exist, where a Planned Community or a Planned Unit Development has been approved, or where other special conditions warrant exceptions in the lot area, lot depth, and lot width requirements.

SECTION 2: Title Fifteen, the Subdivision Ordinance of the City of San Rafael, is hereby amended by adding Chapter 15.34, Requirements by Slope, which is to read as follows:

CHAPTER 15.34

Sections:
15.34.010 Objectives
15.34.020 Subdivisions on standard city streets
15.34.030 Subdivisions on substandard city streets

15.34.010 Objectives. One of the objectives of the San Rafael General Plan is to preserve the natural beauty of the surrounding hillsides while allowing reasonable use of these areas for development purposes. The "Requirements by Slope" are intended to implement this objective by requiring that the lots in hillside subdivisions be realistically related to the natural topography of the land so as to limit grading; retain much of the natural terrain; and, in the case of existing substandard streets, provide for additional on site parking.

15.34.020 Subdivisions on standard city streets. (a) In addition to the Zoning regulations effective in the area, any lot hereafter created shall contain at least the minimum lot width and area as related to its natural topographical slope as set forth in the following table:

Percent of Slope	Average Lot Width	Lot Area in Square Feet
0-10%	(as determined by the Zoning Ordinance)
11%	62 feet	5,500
12%	64 "	6,000
13%	66 "	6,500
14%	68 "	7,000
15%	70 "	7,500
16%	72 "	8,000
17%	74 "	8,500
18%	76 "	9,000
19%	78 "	9,500
20%	80 "	10,000
21%	82 "	10,500
22%	84 "	11,000
23%	86 "	11,500
24%	88 "	12,000
25%	90 "	12,500
26%	92 "	13,000
27%	94 "	13,500
28%	96 "	14,000
29%	98 "	14,500
30%	100 "	15,000
31%	105 "	15,500
32%	110 "	16,000
33%	120 "	16,500
34%	130 "	17,000
35%	140 "	17,500
36%	150 "	18,000
37%	160 "	18,500
38%	170 "	19,000
40%	190 "	20,000

(b) Except where daylighted cuts or fills are proposed, the per cent of slope shall be computed before grading and shall be measured along a line passing through the center of the lot or the building site between lot lines and perpendicular to the natural contours. Where daylighted cuts or fills are proposed, the precent of slope shall be measured on the ground conditions after the daylight grading is accomplished.

(c) Where a reasonable and realistic access to an adequate building site can be demonstrated, a lot with lesser width and area than required by the percent of slope may be allowed.

15.34.030 Subdivisions on substandard city streets. In the subdivision of lots on existing substandard city streets the following regulations shall apply:

(a) Each lot created shall have a driveway, the grade of which shall not exceed 18%, with adequate provision for ingress and egress. Said driveway shall relate to and terminate at a parking area sufficient to accommodate no less than four (4) automobiles. Said parking area shall be located behind the required front setback line.

(b) Frontage and area of each lot created shall, in addition to the conditions outlined in (a) above, conform to the minimum Zoning requirements of the district in which the subdivision is located.

SECTION 3: This Ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage in the Independent-Journal, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

DIAS RANCH PROPOSAL

Postmen Took Him At Word

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The post office notified a Wichitan it had a package which he would have to sign for.

The patron wrote the office that he worked during normal delivery hours and asked that it be sent to his house before or after working hours.

Longest Lift In Vermont?

RUTLAND, Vt. (UPI) — Skiers now can ride a total of 9,000 feet on Pico Peak near this central Vermont city. A helicopter was used to help install the last of a series of towers for a double chair lift that reaches the summit.

It connects with other chair lifts on the lower slopes, Developers claim they have the longest lift system in Vermont.

NOT LIKE HOLLAND

School Spirit Impresses Exchange Student Most

The enthusiasm of Novato High School students has impressed Pieter Den Heijer of the Netherlands, who is here this school year in the Youth for Understanding program.

Pieter is staying with the Robert W. Casady family at 1419 Monte Maria, Novato. His adopted American "brothers" are Warren, 16; Brooks, 14, and Kevin, 6.

It was at a pep rally in the gymnasium that he got his first taste of the whoopla that go into the school spirit.

"There were 1,500 students in the gym all shouting, hollering, clapping and stomping their feet all at once. The noise was deafening," Pieter said.

He said that he liked the enthusiasm of the students at the football games. He compared it to the school he attended last year in Gouda, Holland, where only a few hundred would attend any sport event.

"There was not nearly the excitement there," he said.

Since coming to Novato, Pieter played his first game of baseball. He loves football as a spectator, but does not think he would like to play it.

His favorite sports for participation are swimming and basketball, in both of which he hopes to take part at Novato High.

At his home in Holland, he said, there is no television. This is because his father who is principal of a high school, thought television would interfer with the children's studying.

There are only two state-owned TV stations in Holland, he said. Five societies, similar to our networks, must share the time on these two stations. They only broadcast from 7 to 11 p.m., he said.

Pieter speaks English with an American accent in spite of taking five years of British English in school.

"We had Bernard Stulberg of Kalamazoo, Mich., as a Youth for Understanding student in our home all summer," he explained.

Pieter is a tall, rosy-cheeked youth who confesses to liking both the Beatles and Tschaikovski. His ambition is to go to college to become a geography teacher.

Missing Boy Home

Eric Swanson, 14, of 567 Terragon Drive, San Rafael, reported missing Tuesday night by his father, Warren G. Swanson, returned home yesterday in time to go to school, San Rafael police said today.

Trevor Howard Puts Life Into Napoleon

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Britain's Trevor Howard gave perhaps his finest American television performance last night as he portrayed Napoleon in an original NBC-TV drama of the emperor's final years, "Eagle in a Cage."

The 90-minute "Hall of Fame" production, written by Millard Lampbell and directed by George Schaefer, dealt with Napoleon's exile to the island of St. Helena by England after he had asked that country for asylum, mindful of its usual liberality. The story itself essentially concerned the humanizing effect of the emperor by a lovely teen-age girl on the verge of womanhood, and by a humorous and frank Irish doctor. Notable in these parts were Pamela Franklin and James Daly.

The dramatic ploy of the great man being humanized by a young girl and a warmhearted associate usually means open season on cliches and awful sentimentality. In this case, however, Howard's portrayal had the benefit of the best-written and most widely ranging part he has had on the "Hall of Fame" specials. The Lampell scrip, starting slowly in an admirable sense of gradual development, breathed great and believable life into the characters. And Howard tackled his role challengingly, forcefully, wisely, largely and even humorously.

Time and again, the script saved the premise from mundane results. For example, at one point Miss Franklin asks Napoleon what Josephine was like. "Josephine?" he replies. "Expensive... she had a way of carrying herself as though she were a gift."

The pathos of the story came from the increasing awareness that Napoleon's plans, with his few aides, to escape and return to Paris was slowly becoming an illusion. He is forced to move to a house where he is under close surveillance.

There is a scene in which Miss Franklin is punished by her parents and is kept in a cheese cellar. Napoleon, as her friend, joins her there, offering the touching understanding that it is the humiliation that hurts most. Later he suffers a special humiliation when the wife of one of his aides—a woman who would have been at his feet in Paris—rejects his proposition on St. Helena.

Baha'i Prayer For Mankind

O Thou kind Lord! Thou hast created all humanity from the same original parents. Thou hast intended that all belong to the same household. In Thy Holy Presence they are Thy servants and all mankind are sheltered beneath Thy Tabernacle. All have gathered at Thy table of bounty and are radiant through the light of Thy providence. O God! Thou art kind to all. Thou hast provided for all. Thou dost shelter all. Thou dost confer life upon all, Thou hast endowed all with talents and facilities; All are submerged in the ocean of Thy mercy. O Thou kind Lord! unite all, let the religious agree, make the nations one so that they may be as one kind and as children of the same fatherland. May they associate in unity and concord. O God! upraise the standard of the oneness of humankind. O God! establish the Most Great Peace. Cement the hearts together, O God! O God! O Thou kind Father, God! exhilerate the hearts through the fragrance of Thy love; brighten the eyes through the light of Thy guidance; cheer the hearing with the melodies of Thy Word and shelter us in the cave of Thy providence.

Thou art the Mighty and Powerful! Thou art the Forgiving and Thou art the One Who overlookest the shortcomings of humankind.

—Abdu'l-Baha

Baha'i Prayer For Mankind

O Thou kind Lord! Thou hast created all humanity from the same original parents. Thou hast intended that all belong to the same household. In Thy Holy Presence they are Thy servants and all mankind are sheltered beneath Thy Tabernacle. All have gathered at Thy table of bounty and are radiant through the light of Thy providence. O God! Thou art kind to all. Thou hast provided for all. Thou dost shelter all. Thou dost confer life upon all, Thou hast endowed all with talents and facilities; All are submerged in the ocean of Thy mercy. O Thou kind Lord! unite all, let the religious agree, make the nations one so that they may be as one kind and as children of the same fatherland. May they associate in unity and concord. O God! upraise the standard of the oneness of humankind. O God! establish the Most Great Peace. Cement the hearts together, O God! O God! O Thou kind Father, God! exhilerate the hearts through the fragrance of Thy love; brighten the eyes through the light of Thy guidance; cheer the hearing with the melodies of Thy Word and shelter us in the cave of Thy providence.

Thou art the Mighty and Powerful! Thou art the Forgiving and Thou art the One Who overlookest the shortcomings of humankind.

—Abdu'l-Baha

SAN RAFAEL CHARTER

Sometimes Creaky, Yet Farsighted

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

(Last of Four Articles.)

Many aspects of the San Rafael City Charter still carry the flavor of 1912, when it was approved by the city's voters.

For instance, the entire second section is a description of the boundaries of the city, now almost entirely out of date. The entire 10th section describes the police court and duties of the police judge. The city has neither.

In other ways, the board of freeholders seemed unusually farsighted. They assured the city the power to regulate signs and billboards, and to require undergrounding of utility lines, and many cities in California have never bothered to try to do either.

The directors of the new Marin Municipal Water District were holding their first meetings in 1912, but the city did not treat the district with complete confidence retaining the power to operate a city water distribution system, apparently in case the district was a failure.

Perhaps for a similar reason, the city retained power to run public utilities and transportation systems, and to subsidize private business. The subsidizing power is questionable under present state law, according to City Atty. David Menary Jr.

The San Rafael Journal of 1912 warned about use of subsidizing powers then because of scandals in Boston, where city-subsidized businesses went bankrupt.

When the charter was adopted, specific regulations concerning public health were written in, with the requirement that the city hire a health officer. Over the years the state and county have taken over almost all the public health functions, but the city still has a health officer, Dr. Harry Hund.

Hund said virtually his only function now is to make inspections of residences where certain kinds of animals are kept as pets. These are regulated by city ordinance. Menary said the function probably could be contracted to the county health department.

The original charter had one broad provision which merely said the city would have the power to do anything allowed by state law for cities to do, thus picking up powers that might otherwise have been missed by the freeholders.

In 1953, the city adopted a much stronger provision, which the state legislature agreed to. It gave the city government power over any "municipal affairs" not expressly prohibited by state law.

It was this new provision which gave the city power to establish a public housing project for the elderly without setting up an independent housing authority, as would be the case for a general law city.

But it is also this provision which may cause the most legal tangles for the city, because in many cases the courts have never adequately defined "municipal affairs," according to Menary.

But with the strong general grant of powers now in the charter, many of the specific statements of powers, such as authority to regulate dogs or billboards, may no longer be needed. The city has managed to get along without specific references to zoning powers, for instance, for years.

San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini, in asking for a study of the charter, said he had no specific complaint about the present document, but said that any such document that has not been closely studied for 30 years or more deserves a new look.

Revision would be possible in two ways, according to Menary. If only minor changes were needed, they could be done by amendment.

If there were to be a complete rewriting of the charter, then perhaps a new charter should be adopted, after a recommendation by a board of freeholders. In either case the voters would have to approve.

Bettini said some other Bay Area cities have recently revised their charters. He mentioned San Jose and Berkeley. Perhaps, he said, by looking at these new charters, San Rafael might be able to find things which have been left out but which are needed.

WHICH WAY YA' GOING?

Redwood linebacker Bill Niccolls (left) almost had a touchdown on this play Friday against Terra Linda. A pass was intended for Terra Linda's Jim Taylor (32) but it was short. Niccolls cut in and had a clear shot at the goal but couldn't hang on to the ball. As you can see, he was the only man running in that direction. Redwood plays Marin Catholic tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Kentfield Stadium, and Terra Linda plays San Rafael tomorrow night at 8 on the San Rafael High School field.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Tars Have Time On Their Hands; Sisler Joins Flighty 'U2' Club

WINCE UPON A TIME:

College of Marin halfback Dave Auerbach should be the most important player on the field when the Tars play Yuba J.C. on Oct. 30. Isn't that when Daylight Saving Time ends and we get that Auerbach? Anyway, he'll be the man to watch every second. The Tars might wind up and spring him loose on the opening tickoff. (Time out!)

THAT HEADLINE in Tuesday's I-J sounded more like a good plot for a spy thriller: "Cards Sign Deposed Red Pilot As Coach." Or, as Alvin said Darkly to Dick Sisler, "U2?"

DIVOTS: George Greenwood, who meets Milt Morely next Sunday for the Marin Country Club golf championship, is brother of ex-Philadelphia pitcher Bob Greenwood. Ex-American League All-Star shortstop Joe DeMaestri, also a Marin Country Clubber, remembers Bob well; he played against him back in the early 50s. DeMaestri, incidentally, is hitting that little pill well at Marin, reducing his handicap from 16 to 10 already this year.

BOOTLEGGER: The bootleg play which Drake High quarterback Bill Ingram used so successfully in engineering a 14-12 upset over Novato last Saturday was a last-minute addition to the Pirate repertoire. Coach Bob Franceschini inserted it into the Bucs' bag of tricks during the last five minutes of Friday's practice and—presto!—instant success . . . Ex-Terra Linda High star Rick Edwards is halfbacking it for the frosh grid team at Wash. St. where he's a business ad. major . . . I see where right winger (position, not politic) Len Haley is still holding out for more money. Whatsamatter with those Seals, they cheap skates or something?

PICK OF THE WEEK: Once-beaten, once-tied Novato over unbeaten Tam. By 20, by golly. I know this will probably get me drummed out of the Tam Chapter of the Marin Rob and Run Club and If I'm Wrong I'll eat this scrap of paper, especially prepared by Traitor Picks.

Prep Grid Deaths Mushrooming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

High school football fatalities have mushroomed to 21 with two more deaths yesterday.

The latest casualties were Sam Wortham, a 17-year-old fullback on the Titusville, Fla. High School team, and Leslie Pitts, 17-year-old guard for Orangeville, Ill. High School.

Coach John Gaines said films of the game showed no blows which could have caused Wortham's injury. The youngster was his team's leading scorer.

Pitts, a 160-pound senior, fell to the ground unconscious after blocking a defensive player in a game against Galena Friday night. The youngster never regained consciousness and died at St. Clare Hospital in Monroe, Wis.

Pitts suffered what was described as a mild concussion Sept. 24 in a game against the sophomore squad of Rockford East High School. He was released from a hospital after a four-day stay.

A week before Pitts was injured, Dr. Frank P. Smith, clinical associate professor and chairman of the division of neurological surgery at the University of Rochester, told a conference of 200 high school coaches, trainers and administrators that a player who continues in a game after a bruising tackle or block is a candidate for a fatal injury.

"We know from experience that it is the groggy player who is most likely to be killed," Dr. Smith said.

He urged the coaches not to accept the players' word that he is "okay" after an injury.

"Question them," he said. "Ask them their addresses, telephone numbers and the like to see if they are fully rational."

Dr. Smith explained that head injuries normally affect the central nervous system and prevent the player from reacting properly to protect themselves from impacts that are fatal.

There were 45 football deaths across the country last year, 34 in 1963 and 26 in 1962.

Tiger Favored To Win Title

Lester By Kayo Over Fernandez

Lester, 159 pounds, delighted about 5,100 hometown fans at Kezar Pavilion last night by dropping Fernandez twice before referee Vern Bybee ruled it a knockout at 49 seconds of the second round.

Fernandez got up both times at the count of six, but didn't know where he was the second time. A right hand decked the Cuban refugee in the first round and a left hook dumped him in the second.

Before the bout, promoters were negotiating to bring Griffith to San Francisco to meet Lester, who now has only one loss, on a decision, marring his record of 18 victories, 14 by knockout.

$16,092 GATE

Fernandez, 161½, was a 2-1 choice in the fight, which drew a gross of $16,092. It marked the sixth time Fernandez failed to go the distance and his 10th defeat in 53 fights.

"I was confident when I started and only kept thinking of keeping my right hand up (to protect against Fernandez' left hook) and to jab," Lester said afterwards.

"He hurt me in the first round with two hooks to the body and two hooks to the head," Lester said. "The first time he went down I figured he'd get up and I also knew he'd make it the second time. But I felt as long as he could take it, I could give it to him."

In preliminaries:

Peacock Casper On Top

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Bill Casper Jr., who trailed second by one stroke at the finish a year ago, set out today leading by to strokes in the second round of the $100,000 Sahara Invitational golf tournament.

The 34-year-old touring pro for Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael apparently had a firm grip at this stage in this eighth annual event on the PGA autumn tour.

But there was the foreboding figure of Jack Nicklaus, five strokes back with 54 holes to play.

An the weather and the condition of the greens, which tend to speed up in the late afternoon hot weather, figured to change the picture for the immediate challengers for first place.

Virtually all the low scorers in yesterday's first round started early and finished early, including Casper. Nicklaus was a late starter.

Mason Rudolph, one of the more consistent professionals, who finished late with a 73 yesterday, summed up the greens when he observed in his Tennessee drawl:

Casper opened up with a five-under par 66. Bobby Nichols and Dave Hill had 68s, and 10 others jammed the 69 bracket.

Eight more were tied at 70, and Nicklaus and nine companions were clustered at 71.

Play is at the 7,069-yard Paradise Valley Country Club, here par is 36-35—71.

The defending champion. R.H. (Dick) Sikes, had a 72. It was 10 strokes more than his first-round tournament record score a year ago.

Former U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi had a 74 in his first tournament competition since he unsuccessfully defended the title in the National Open last June. Venturi sai his approach shooting was a little rusty, but the circulatory ailment in his hansd apparently did not hamper his play.

Casper had a 32-34—66 round, which included six birdies and one bogey.

Haley Lone Seal Still Unsigned

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—One of the last two holdouts on the San Francisco Seals hockey team came to terms last night shortly before a game against the Portland Buckaroos.

Gerry Odrowski, defenseman with San Francisco the past two seasons, signed his contract and became eligible to play against Portland.

Seals Lose In Overtime To Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Portland's Cliff Schmautz scored on a scramble in front of the net three minutes into the overtime period Wednesday night to give the Bucks a 4-3 win over San Francisco.

The victory was Portland's third straight in league play while the Seals are 1-1.

Portland grabbed a 3-1 lead early in the second period as Bill Saunders, Gerry Goyer and Art Jones hit goals after Forbes Kennedy had one for the Seals.

But Kennedy scored again and Wayne Maxner tallied to knot the count after two stanzas. There were no goals in the final period.

Since Head appears better than ever this year, the Bucks sent young Dave Kelly to the, Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League.

First period: 1. San Francisco, Kennedy (Lund) 2:28. 2. Portland, Saunders (Leach, C. Schmautz) 18:55. Penalties: Madigan P minor and misconduuct 10:40, McNabb SF minor and misconduct 10:40, Kennedy SF 12:42, Winterstein P 12:42, San Francisco ben 18:24.

But Odds Switching To Giardello's Side

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — The odds favoring challenger Dick Tiger of Nigeria dropped to 7-5 over middleweight champion Joey Giardello today and may even swing the other way by the time they climb into the rin gtonight for their 15-round title fight.

Tiger, 36, was installed 3-1 by the odds-makers on Broadway when the Madison Square Garden fight was made several months ago. Since then the price has been dropping down as more support came in for the 35-year-old champion from Cherry Hill, N.J.

The aggressive, hard-hitting Nigerian was a 3-1 betting favorite the night he lost the title to the ring-smart Giardello at Atantic City, N.J., Dec. 7, 1963.

"For the iife of me I can't figure why the odds favor Tiger," said Giardello last night. "I beat him the last two times I fought him, and I can't see why I shouldn't beat him again. I'm telling you, I'm going to punch him silly. His style is right up my alley."

Tiger is hoping that the referee, who will be named at fight time, will prevent Giardello from excessive holding.

"I believe my chances are much stronger here than they were in Atlantic City," said the articulate Nigerian. "In that first fight the referee permitted him to get away with a lot of holding. I'm hoping he'll be forced to fight here.

"I am confident that with the proper officiating I will be able to defeat him."

The return fight has caught fire here and may lure a capacity crowd of 18,000 and a gross gate of $150,000 at prices ranging from $5 to $20.

Promoter Harry Markson of the Garden predicted a crowd of at least 15,000 and a gross gate of $125,000.

BACKUP MAN

Warriors Swap Two For Royals' Olsen

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The San Francisco Warriors finally had a back up man for center Nate Thurmond today.

The Warriors yesterday swapped Connie Dierking and Art Meyman, neither of whom wore a San Francisco uniform this season, to Cincinnati for Bud Olsen, a 6-8 veteran who can go at center or forward.

San Francisco had picked up Heyman on waivers from New York earlier this week. Dierking, who backed up Thurmond well last season, had refused to leave his Cincinnati business to go to another town.

The Warriors also got an undisclosed amount of cash in the deal.

San Francisco thought it had a back up man for Thurmond in rookie Fred Hetzel, but the Davidson flash is out for a month with a finger injury. He now becomes the team's 12th man, which means he can't put on a uniform.

Olsen is 25 and in his fourth National Basketball Assn. season. The former University of Louisville ace played about one-third of the time for Cincinnati last year and scored at a 7.5 point per game clip with a 45 per cent shooting average.

The Warriors Tuesday night nipped Cincinnati 100-99 to run their record to 1-1. The 6-foot-11 Thurmond went all the way in both contests since there was nobody who could back him up.

San Francisco concludes its brief road trip Saturday night against Baltimore, and the Bullets may not have the services of their best forward, Gus Johnson.

Johnson dislocated a bone in his wrist last week. A doctor manipulated it back into place but said he might miss a few games.

Sugar Ray Stops Foe In 3d Round

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson scored a technical knockout over Rudolph Bent of Kingstown, Jamaica, in 2:20 of the third round in a scheduled 10-round fight last night.

WHICH WAY YA' GOING?

Redwood linebacker Bill Niccolls (left) almost had a touchdown on this play Friday against Terra Linda. A pass was intended for Terra Linda's Jim Taylor (32) but it was short. Niccolls cut in and had a clear shot at the goal but couldn't hang on to the ball. As you can see, he was the only man running in that direction. Redwood plays Marin Catholic tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Kentfield Stadium, and Terra Linda plays San Rafael tomorrow night at 8 on the San Rafael High School field.

Prep Grid Deaths Mushrooming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

High school football fatalities have mushroomed to 21 with two more deaths yesterday.

The latest casualties were Sam Wortham, a 17-year-old fullback on the Titusville, Fla. High School team, and Leslie Pitts, 17-year-old guard for Orangeville, Ill. High School.

Coach John Gaines said films of the game showed no blows which could have caused Wortham's injury. The youngster was his team's leading scorer.

Pitts, a 160-pound senior, fell to the ground unconscious after blocking a defensive player in a game against Galena Friday night. The youngster never regained consciousness and died at St. Clare Hospital in Monroe, Wis.

Pitts suffered what was described as a mild concussion Sept. 24 in a game against the sophomore squad of Rockford East High School. He was released from a hospital after a four-day stay.

A week before Pitts was injured, Dr. Frank P. Smith, clinical associate professor and chairman of the division of neurological surgery at the University of Rochester, told a conference of 200 high school coaches, trainers and administrators that a player who continues in a game after a bruising tackle or block is a candidate for a fatal injury.

"We know from experience that it is the groggy player who is most likely to be killed," Dr. Smith said.

He urged the coaches not to accept the players' word that he is "okay" after an injury.

"Question them," he said. "Ask them their addresses, telephone numbers and the like to see if they are fully rational."

Dr. Smith explained that head injuries normally affect the central nervous system and prevent the player from reacting properly to protect themselves from impacts that are fatal.

There were 45 football deaths across the country last year, 34 in 1963 and 26 in 1962.

Tiger Favored To Win Title

Lester By Kayo Over Fernandez

Lester, 159 pounds, delighted about 5,100 hometown fans at Kezar Pavilion last night by dropping Fernandez twice before referee Vern Bybee ruled it a knockout at 49 seconds of the second round.

Fernandez got up both times at the count of six, but didn't know where he was the second time. A right hand decked the Cuban refugee in the first round and a left hook dumped him in the second.

Before the bout, promoters were negotiating to bring Griffith to San Francisco to meet Lester, who now has only one loss, on a decision, marring his record of 18 victories, 14 by knockout.

Fernandez, 161½, was a 2-1 choice in the fight, which drew a gross of $16,092. It marked the sixth time Fernandez failed to go the distance and his 10th defeat in 53 fights.

"I was confident when I started and only kept thinking of keeping my right hand up (to protect against Fernandez' left hook) and to jab," Lester said afterwards.

"He hurt me in the first round with two hooks to the body and two hooks to the head," Lester said. "The first time he went down I figured he'd get up and I also knew he'd make it the second time. But I felt as long as he could take it, I could give it to him."

In preliminaries:

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Tars Have Time On Their Hands; Sisler Joins Flighty 'U2' Club

WINCE UPON A TIME:

College of Marin halfback Dave Auerbach should be the most important player on the field when the Tars play Yuba J.C. on Oct. 30. Isn't that when Daylight Saving Time ends and we get that Auerbach? Anyway, he'll be the man to watch every second. The Tars might wind up and spring him loose on the opening tickoff. (Time out!)

THAT HEADLINE in Tuesday's I-J sounded more like a good plot for a spy thriller: "Cards Sign Deposed Red Pilot As Coach." Or, as Alvin said Darkly to Dick Sisler, "U2?"

DIVOTS: George Greenwood, who meets Milt Morely next Sunday for the Marin Country Club golf championship, is brother of ex-Philadelphia pitcher Bob Greenwood. Ex-American League All-Star shortstop Joe DeMaestri, also a Marin Country Clubber, remembers Bob well; he played against him back in the early 50s. DeMaestri, incidentally, is hitting that little pill well at Marin, reducing his handicap from 16 to 10 already this year.

BOOTLEGGER: The bootleg play which Drake High quarterback Bill Ingram used so successfully in engineering a 14-12 upset over Novato last Saturday was a last-minute addition to the Pirate repertoire. Coach Bob Franceschini inserted it into the Bucs' bag of tricks during the last five minutes of Friday's practice and—presto!—instant success . . . Ex-Terra Linda High star Rick Edwards is halfbacking it for the frosh grid team at Wash. St. where he's a business ad. major . . . I see where right winger (position, not politic) Len Haley is still holding out for more money. Whatsamatter with those Seals, they cheap skates or something?

PICK OF THE WEEK: Once-beaten, once-tied Novato over unbeaten Tam. By 20, by golly. I know this will probably get me drummed out of the Tam Chapter of the Marin Rob and Run Club and If I'm Wrong I'll eat this scrap of paper, especially prepared by Traitor Picks.

Trojans, Beware Of South Bend Ambush!

The other afternoon, a heartening thing happened in college football. Stanford's football team showed up with a real Indian on it. At quarterback. I take this to mean a wholesome trend has been established. I mean, an Indian at the controls of the Indians hasn't happened since Sitting Bull.

I also take this to mean we now may expect to see a real bear playing for the Chicago Bears and a few churchmen in red hats playing for the St. Louis Cardinals.

But my real hope is that, some day soon, the Fighting Irish from Notre Dame will have someone in the backfield with an apostrophe in his name instead of an umlaut. I have seen in recent years Fighting Irish teams which were neither. Then, back in the days when they were good, they had more consonants in the lineup than the Warsaw phone book. The Japanese army had more Irishmen than they did.

Then they went out a couple of years ago and hired a man with a fine County Clare ring to his name — Ara Parseghian. Someone suggested he bring his rugs when he came.

ARA PARSEGHIAN not only isn't Irish, he isn't even Catholic. He probably is even a Democrat. This is not a first at Notre Dame. The Fighting Irish legend was a compound of a Scandinavian coach, a Protestant halfback, a Southern Baptist journalist, a Jewish All-American, and so many Poles that the scoreboard would run out of "z's" when the fighting Irish showed up to play. The Ecumenical movement started in the Notre Dame backfield long before the Vatican thought of it.

But, for the first time in a long while in 1963, they had a coach who didn't know the "Hail Mary" and a team that didn't know much else. A Michigan coach once described his attack as a "pass, punt and prayer." All Parseghian had were prayers.

YEARE AGO, Notre Dame teams were so good its halfbacks got photographed on horseback more often than Tom Mix. But the 1963 team couldn't make a first down even on horseback. They usually got photographed on their own backs.

Parseghian took a team that played the game with all the cocky confidence of a band of fugitives. He found a quarterback cobwebbed on one corner of the bench and made a Heisman Trophy winner out of him. His predecessor wouldn't even let John Huarte pass the bread. He had thrown 91 straight passes without an interception at the time, but the word was, he was so scatter-armed that nobody could catch what he threw.

THE TEAM had more muscle that a Turkish palace guard and once Parseghian got them to quit playing like guys facing a firing squad, they manhandled 10 opponents. They were the best team in the country for nine games and 45 minutes. Then, in the USC game, someone got the bright idea of holding on the 1-foot line. Why nobody would feel holding was necessary for a 12-inch touchdown has never been satisfactoritly explained, but the handkerchief was on the ground. And the overalls were in the chowder. Notre Dame lost to USC, 20-17.

USC HAS made a specialty of spoiling unbeaten seasons for Notre Dame. They did it most spectacularly in 1931 when they also spotted the pride of Ireland a big lead and wiped it out in the last quarter, 16-14.

As this is written, I am on my way back to South Bend where I have a feeling the biggest ambush since Custer is being prepared. This time, USC is undefeated. If it beats Notre Dame, it will be the best team in the country. It already has the best player in the country. I expect that if you look at the tackling dummies in the Notre Dame practice field, the one bearing No. 20 will have the most sawdust falling out of it. It will be the one that looks as if a Doberman Pinscher got at it.

WATCH THE game carefully on TV Saturday. If the Irish lock the gates when they take the field, watch for the most one-sided contest since lions stopped eating up Christians. I have a feeling that it will be USC that needs a priest before it's over.

I I were they, I wouldn't let Mike Garrett get any closer to South Bend than Wichita. In fact, I'd be tempted to mail the loss in right now, because Notre Dame has had two weeks to get ready for this game. And the year to think about it.

THE WAY Notre Dame will run at them, it may be the first game in history to begin in South Bend and end in Terra Haute. If so, USC should re-christen it "Terror Haute." All I know is I'm not going to bring my binoculars. The only guy who likes murder in close-ups is Alfred Hitchcock. I have a feeling he's going to like this game.

Indians' Gabe Paul Gains In Commissioner's Ballot

By JOE REICHLER

CHICAGO (AP) — There is growing sentiment among the major league club owners to set the wheels in motion for a draft of Gabe Paul, part owner of the Cleveland Indians, as the next commissioner of baseball.

The inability of the owners to muster appreciable support yesterday for a single candidate outside the confines of baseball has changed the moguls' thinking again.

Most of the owners once again favor a ruler from their own ranks.

Paul's most enthusiastic supporter is Bill DeWitt, owner of the Cincinnati Reds. DeWitt originally proposed Paul but the president of the Indians subsequently asked that he not be considered.

"And I put it in writing, too," Paul emphasized.

Undaunted, DeWitt said he plans to try again.

"A man can always change his mind," said DeWitt, "especially if it is in the best interests of baseball.

"I believe Gabe would make an excellent commissioner. He has the ability, the thorough knowledge of all aspects of the game, the integrity, the leadership, the courage of his convictions. Furthermore, he is the ideal man for those who might tend toward drawing party lines. He has been both a National and an American Leaguer."

What started out as a list of 18 candidates when the club owners gathered Tuesday was reduced substantially with five men emerging as the leading candidates before the new development.

These five were Eugene M. Zuckert, secretary of the Air Force: Curtis E. LeMay, former chief of staff and head of the Strategic Air Command; G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange; Joe Cronin, president of the American League, and Louis Carroll, legal counsel for the National League.

Not one of these, however, could gather enough support to warrant even an unofficial ballot. Fourteen votes — seven from each league — are required for election.

When that fact became obvious, the co-chairmen of the screening committee, John Fetzer of Detroit and John Galbreath of Pittsburgh requested what they call an "advisory ballot," confining the candidates to men in baseball.

Ballots were passed out and the owners were asked to name their choice. Paul, according to reports, came through strongly in the unofficial balloting as did Cronin and Carroll.

Others who received votes were John McHale, president of the Milwaukee Braves; Lee MacPhail, president of the Baltimore Orioles; Buzzie Bavasi, general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Joe Brown, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The voting breakdown was unavailable.

"Paul would be very much acceptable to the owners if he made himself available," said a prominent club owner who did not want to be identified. "I feel he can get the necessary amount of votes.

"I can understand his hesitation to become a candidate. As a club owner he has an investment to consider as well as obligations, committments and responsibilities to other people.

"But I think he can be persuaded if the job is made attractive enough and his personal business involvements could be taken care of satisfactorily."

In any event, the election of a successor to Ford Frick will not take place until the annual major league winter meetings in Miami Beach, Dec. 2.

The owners entrusted the screening committee with the job of contacting and ierviewing the candidates and reporting back with recommendations to the Dec. 2 meeting.

The committee was enlarged by the addition of owners Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs and Bob Reynolds of the California Angels.

"We will not recommend anyone without unanimous agreement," said Fetzer.

Old Cards Getting Shuffled

KEN BOYER
He's now a Met

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ken Boyer, one of the greatest third basemen in St. Louis Cardinal history, has become the first to feel the bite of the Cardinals' plummet from world champion to seventh place in the National League.

Boyer, the Cardinal captain, was traded yesterday to the New York Mets for left-hander pitcher Al Jackson and third baseman Charley Smith. An unnamed triple-A player also will be sent to the Mets.

"If they started making trades, it figures that the older players would be the first to go," said the 34-year-old, $60,000-a-year power hitter.

If this is true, Boyer may be followed by others. Shortstop Dick Groat, who fell from a .292 batting average in 1964, to .254 last season, will be 35 next month. Left-hander Curt Simmons, who dropped to a 9-15 record after an 18-9 season, is 36. And right-hander Bob Purkey, who was ineffective at 10-9, is 36.

Boyer, however, was the biggest disappointment. Only one year ago, he was named the National League's Most Valuable Player. He was the hero who helped the Cardinals win the pennant with a .296 batting average, 24 home runs and a league-leading 119 runs batted in.

As a result, he shouldered much of the blame in the 1965 collapse, hitting only .260 with 13 homers and 74 RBI. He was hampered much of the season by a back injury.

Now, after 11 seasons with the Cardinals in which he hit 255 home runs, drove in 1,001 runs and averaged just under .300, Boyer is in a position of having to make a comeback.

Smith, 28, has bounced around with several teams for six years, only three as a regular. With the Mets he has hit .244 and .239 in two seasons, slammed 36 homers and driven in 120 runs.

Jackson, who will be 30 in december, has been with the Mets for four season, with records of 2-20, 13-17, 11-16 and 8-20. He features a sinking fast ball.

The Cardinals, and other clubs, have had their eyes on the 5-foot-9, 163-pound Jackson for some time.

Breedlove Undaunted By Wreck

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Scrappy Craig Breedlove, undaunted by a brush with death, says he'll take another shot at the 536.71 miles per hour world land speed record on Oct. 31.

Breedlove said late yesterday he would haul his jet racer into Salt Lake City for installation of two large nose fins to hold down the front of the car on the track.

The car, Spirit of America-Sonic I, almost dumped Breedlove into a pond of brine yesterday. Its front end rose as Breedlove hit what he said was 600 m.p.h.

The car started to veer off course. Breedlove twisted the steering wheel as the airspeed indicator passed 600 m.p.h., but nothing happened.

He opened his braking parachute, but it yanked off.

The racer careened out of the official timing area, off the track, across wet salt, through an opening in a line of telephone poles and finally rolled to a stop in front of a salt water pond.

Drake Freshman Sets A Record

Drake High School freshman Chuck Allen established a new school record yesterday to lead his cross country team to a 19-40 triumph over Marin Catholic.

Allen ran the 1.9 mile course in San Anselmo in 12:06. Drake won three of the first four places.

Joey Is Getting Betting Support

covering mostly eastern cities. The metropolitan New York area will be blacked out of the telecast. There will be a local radio broadcast.

Giardello, a veteran of 18 years of pro fighting, has been guaranteed $50,000 or the privilege of 40 per cent of the net gate and television receipts. Tiger, a pro 14 years, will collect $15,000 or 20 per cent of the package.

This is a big payday for Giardello and he hopes to keep on collecting more of them. He may because he seems to be improving with age.

Pal Joey can't punch too hard and when it comes to speed afoot he is more turtle than rabbit. All Joey seems to have done in recent years is win so he must be doing something right.

The ring-scarred boxing master has won nine straight in nearly three years including the title win over Tiger and a narrow 15-round decision in his only title defense. That was over hard-hitting Hurricane Carter at Philadelphia Dec. 14, 1964.

Tiger, on the other hand, looked most impressive in dropping Carter and handing him a sound pounding in a Garden 10-rounder last May 20. That could be the reason for the betting backing Tiger.

Giardello's won-lost-draw record is 98-22-7, including 32 knockouts. He's been stopped three times on cuts but the last time was seven years ago. The champion can take a good punch.

Tiger's record is 51-14-3 including 24 kayos. He's never been stopped.

Scoring will be by the rounds sytem. The referee and two judges will be named at fight time.

MARIN 'CATS, REDWOOD IN DAYTIME TILT

Weekday prep football hits College of Marin Stadium tomorrow afternoon when Redwood and Marin Catholic high schools clash at 3:30 p.m.

Redwood, being the home team for this game, elected to hold it during the day rather than night as is the case for all other prep Friday games.

It's a contest Redwood must win to remain in title contention, as the Giants have already lost one game and have been tied in another. Redwood has been tabbed an overwhelming choice to hand Marin Catholic's Wildcats their fourth straight Marin Athletic League loss.

2 Novatans Among Prep Grid Leaders

Novato has two gridders on top of two catagories that make up a potent passing attack, according to latest statistics in the Marin Athletic League.

Hornet southpaw quarterback John Dolinsek is top man, according to percentage of completions, in the passing department, completing 14 of 26 passes, and end Tom Corder has been his favorite target, leading the receivers of the league with nine receptions for 202 yards.

Drake's fleet fullback Dean Lazzarini is still the leading rusher in the MCAL, with 363 yards in 59 carries, a nifty 6.2 average. Rocky Shone, halfback for the San Rafael Bulldogs, is the top scorer so far with 24 points in league competition.

In team statistics, Drake leads rushing with a 178-yard average, and Novato leads in passing (131 average) and total offense, averaging 290 yards per game. Defensively, Terra Linda has the best figures in all three categories, rush defense (77 average), pass defense (59 average), and total defense (136 average).

Big Bill Stars Again As Celts Stop Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As long as they have Big Bill Russell, the champion Boston Celtics are the team to beat for the National Basketball Association title.

Big Bill, the highest paid player in the NBA with a $100,001 contract, has led the Celtics to seven straight NBA championships. The former All-America from the University of San Francisco demonstrated anew his value to the Celtics last night in leading Boston to a 100-96 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

The Lakers, with a team reported to be their best in six years, had been touted as the club that would end the Celtics' championship reign this year. But the Lakers suffered their first defeat after victories over San Francisco and St. Louis.

"Russell, as usual, was the difference," said Fred Schaus, the Los Angeles coach, after the game in Boston. "We just couldn't get the ball even off our own board."

Russell grabbed a total of 29 rebounds and contributed 10 points as the Celtics spurted in the last quarter to wipe out a 77-74 Laker lead. An 11-point spree put the Celtics on top 85-78 and they stayed in front the rest of the way.

Marin Runner Ties Vallejo Course Mark

Carl Jensen of Novato, sophomore at College of Marin, tied a cross country course record at Vallejo College yesterday when he led the Tars to a 24-32 victory.

Trojans, Beware Of South Bend Ambush!

The other afternoon, a heartening thing happened in college football. Stanford's football team showed up with a real Indian on it. At quarterback. I take this to mean a wholesome trend has been established. I mean, an Indian at the controls of the Indians hasn't happened since Sitting Bull.

I also take this to mean we now may expect to see a real bear playing for the Chicago Bears and a few churchmen in red hats playing for the St. Louis Cardinals.

But my real hope is that, some day soon, the Fighting Irish from Notre Dame will have someone in the backfield with an apostrophe in his name instead of an umlaut. I have seen in recent years Fighting Irish teams which were neither. Then, back in the days when they were good, they had more consonants in the lineup than the Warsaw phone book. The Japanese army had more Irishmen than they did.

Then they went out a couple of years ago and hired a man with a fine County Clare ring to his name — Ara Parseghian. Someone suggested he bring his rugs when he came.

ARA PARSEGHIAN not only isn't Irish, he isn't even Catholic. He probably is even a Democrat. This is not a first at Notre Dame. The Fighting Irish legend was a compound of a Scandinavian coach, a Protestant halfback, a Southern Baptist journalist, a Jewish All-American, and so many Poles that the scoreboard would run out of "z's" when the fighting Irish showed up to play. The Ecumenical movement started in the Notre Dame backfield long before the Vatican thought of it.

But, for the first time in a long while in 1963, they had a coach who didn't know the "Hail Mary" and a team that didn't know much else. A Michigan coach once described his attack as a "pass, punt and prayer." All Parseghian had were prayers.

YEARE AGO, Notre Dame teams were so good its halfbacks got photographed on horseback more often than Tom Mix. But the 1963 team couldn't make a first down even on horseback. They usually got photographed on their own backs.

Parseghian took a team that played the game with all the cocky confidence of a band of fugitives. He found a quarterback cobwebbed on one corner of the bench and made a Heisman Trophy winner out of him. His predecessor wouldn't even let John Huarte pass the bread. He had thrown 91 straight passes without an interception at the time, but the word was, he was so scatter-armed that nobody could catch what he threw.

THE TEAM had more muscle that a Turkish palace guard and once Parseghian got them to quit playing like guys facing a firing squad, they manhandled 10 opponents. They were the best team in the country for nine games and 45 minutes. Then, in the USC game, someone got the bright idea of holding on the 1-foot line. Why nobody would feel holding was necessary for a 12-inch touchdown has never been satisfactoritly explained, but the handkerchief was on the ground. And the overalls were in the chowder. Notre Dame lost to USC, 20-17.

USC HAS made a specialty of spoiling unbeaten seasons for Notre Dame. They did it most spectacularly in 1931 when they also spotted the pride of Ireland a big lead and wiped it out in the last quarter, 16-14.

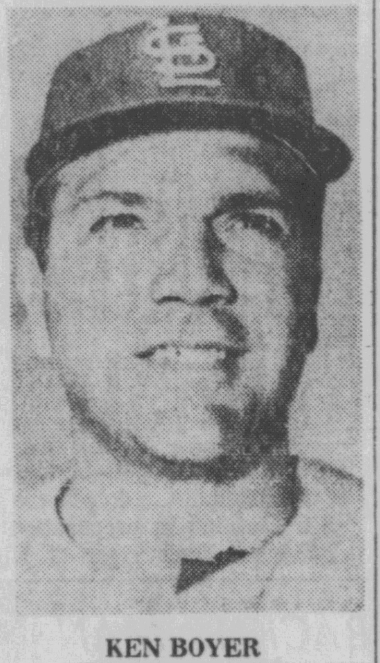
Old Cards Getting Shuffled



KEN BOYER
He's now a Met

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ken Boyer, one of the greatest third basemen in St. Louis Cardinal history, has become the first to feel the bite of the Cardinals' plummet from world champion to seventh place in the National League.

Boyer, the Cardinal captain, was traded yesterday to the New York Mets for left-hander pitcher Al Jackson and third baseman Charley Smith. An unnamed triple-A player also will be sent to the Mets.

"If they started making trades, it figures that the older players would be the first to go," said the 34-year-old, $60,000-a-year power hitter.

If this is true, Boyer may be followed by others. Shortstop Dick Groat, who fell from a .292 batting average in 1964, to .254 last season, will be 35 next month. Left-hander Curt Simmons, who dropped to a 9-15 record after an 18-9 season, is 36. And right-hander Bob Purkey, who was ineffective at 10-9, is 36.

Boyer, however, was the biggest disappointment. Only one year ago, he was named the National League's Most Valuable Player. He was the hero who helped the Cardinals win the pennant with a .296 batting average, 24 home runs and a league-leading 119 runs batted in.

As a result, he shouldered much of the blame in the 1965 collapse, hitting only .260 with 13 homers and 74 RBI. He was hampered much of the season by a back injury.

Now, after 11 seasons with the Cardinals in which he hit 255 home runs, drove in 1,001 runs and averaged just under .300, Boyer is in a position of having to make a comeback.

Smith, 28, has bounced around with several teams for six years, only three as a regular. With the Mets he has hit .244 and .239 in two seasons, slammed 36 homers and driven in 120 runs.

Jackson, who will be 30 in december, has been with the Mets for four season, with records of 2-20, 13-17, 11-16 and 8-20. He features a sinking fast ball.

The Cardinals, and other clubs, have had their eyes on the 5-foot-9, 163-pound Jackson for some time.

Breedlove Undaunted By Wreck

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Scrappy Craig Breedlove, undaunted by a brush with death, says he'll take another shot at the 536.71 miles per hour world land speed record on Oct. 31.

Breedlove said late yesterday he would haul his jet racer into Salt Lake City for installation of two large nose fins to hold down the front of the car on the track.

The car, Spirit of America-Sonic I, almost dumped Breedlove into a pond of brine yesterday. Its front end rose as Breedlove hit what he said was 600 m.p.h.

The car started to veer off course. Breedlove twisted the steering wheel as the airspeed indicator passed 600 m.p.h., but nothing happened.

He opened his braking parachute, but it yanked off.

The racer careened out of the official timing area, off the track, across wet salt, through an opening in a line of telephone poles and finally rolled to a stop in front of a salt water pond.

Drake Freshman Sets A Record

Drake High School freshman Chuck Allen established a new school record yesterday to lead his cross country team to a 19-40 triumph over Marin Catholic.

Allen ran the 1.9 mile course in San Anselmo in 12:06. Drake won three of the first four places.

Joey Is Getting Betting Support

covering mostly eastern cities. The metropolitan New York area will be blacked out of the telecast. There will be a local radio broadcast.

Giardello, a veteran of 18 years of pro fighting, has been guaranteed $50,000 or the privilege of 40 per cent of the net gate and television receipts. Tiger, a pro 14 years, will collect $15,000 or 20 per cent of the package.

This is a big payday for Giardello and he hopes to keep on collecting more of them. He may because he seems to be improving with age.

Pal Joey can't punch too hard and when it comes to speed afoot he is more turtle than rabbit. All Joey seems to have done in recent years is win so he must be doing something right.

The ring-scarred boxing master has won nine straight in nearly three years including the title win over Tiger and a narrow 15-round decision in his only title defense. That was over hard-hitting Hurricane Carter at Philadelphia Dec. 14, 1964.

Tiger, on the other hand, looked most impressive in dropping Carter and handing him a sound pounding in a Garden 10-rounder last May 20. That could be the reason for the betting backing Tiger.

Giardello's won-lost-draw record is 98-22-7, including 32 knockouts. He's been stopped three times on cuts but the last time was seven years ago. The champion can take a good punch.

Tiger's record is 51-14-3 including 24 kayos. He's never been stopped.

Scoring will be by the rounds sytem. The referee and two judges will be named at fight time.

MARIN 'CATS, REDWOOD IN DAYTIME TILT

Weekday prep football hits College of Marin Stadium tomorrow afternoon when Redwood and Marin Catholic high schools clash at 3:30 p.m.

Redwood, being the home team for this game, elected to hold it during the day rather than night as is the case for all other prep Friday games.

It's a contest Redwood must win to remain in title contention, as the Giants have already lost one game and have been tied in another. Redwood has been tabbed an overwhelming choice to hand Marin Catholic's Wildcats their fourth straight Marin Athletic League loss.

Big Bill Stars Again As Celts Stop Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As long as they have Big Bill Russell, the champion Boston Celtics are the team to beat for the National Basketball Association title.

Big Bill, the highest paid player in the NBA with a $100,001 contract, has led the Celtics to seven straight NBA championships. The former All-America from the University of San Francisco demonstrated anew his value to the Celtics last night in leading Boston to a 100-96 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

The Lakers, with a team reported to be their best in six years, had been touted as the club that would end the Celtics' championship reign this year. But the Lakers suffered their first defeat after victories over San Francisco and St. Louis.

"Russell, as usual, was the difference," said Fred Schaus, the Los Angeles coach, after the game in Boston. "We just couldn't get the ball even off our own board."

Russell grabbed a total of 29 rebounds and contributed 10 points as the Celtics spurted in the last quarter to wipe out a 77-74 Laker lead. An 11-point spree put the Celtics on top 85-78 and they stayed in front the rest of the way.

Marin Runner Ties Vallejo Course Mark

Carl Jensen of Novato, sophomore at College of Marin, tied a cross country course record at Vallejo College yesterday when he led the Tars to a 24-32 victory.

Waterfowl Season Nears

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

Now comes the moment of truth! The word has been passed around that the long looked for run of striped bass in the upper San Pablo has arrived. The fact that 21 nice fish ranging from 20 pounds, 8 ounces, to 35 pounds were winners of prizes in the Rodeo Bass Derby over the past weekend is given as proof.

It's a fact that 21 fish were winners. The chances are that many more fish were caught but were not entered in the derby. But—how many fishermen did it take to reach the 21 winners? If an estimated 400 fishermen were out on the water trying hard to catch a bass large enough to enter into the contest, the take was actually small.

I ASKED at a number of spots where small craft or party boats were fishing on Saturday and Sunday, and the number of fish per person was extremely small. For example: The Quans of China Camp reported a dozen bass for Sunday and only one bass on Monday. From Crockett I learned that Johnny Sivera brought in five bass on a large number of rods working. Cap Arnie piloting Dowrelio No. 5, netted only two bass for his crowd and the Bluefish also had two bass to 17 pounds. There were a total of 77 anglers fishing. Dillon's Point reported very spotty fishing but an occasional bass has been caught on plugs and ditto on bait.

Why am I mentioning all this? Simply because it would be too bad if my readers got the idea that fishing was as it used to be a few years ago during the month of October, and go fishing with the expectation of limiting out in short order.

IF YOU HAPPEN to be in the right spot at the right stage of the tide and have the right tackle and the right bait, you may get your legal limit of nice fish, but don't be disappointed if it doesn't happen that way. You are going fishing not for fish alone, but for the relaxation in the fresh air, when you can forget your trials and tribulations and just soak up the uncontaminated air, and forget everything else. Oh, sure such a trip is still better if you do happen to hook a good-sized bass on your light tackle. I hope it happens that way with each of you, but I also hope very earnestly that you are content to be trying even if you get no fish.

Salmon fishing outside the Gate is very very slow . . . it's not the weather or the water, it's just that there are no schools of salmon around. Which makes some of the old-timers wonder why we have had no news of salmon being caught inside the Gate. In the Red Rock area for example.

BY THE WAY, speaking of salmon, I received a report from Jim Roads of Happy Camp. Jim said a new run of salmon and steelhead has been spotted at Ishi Pishi, 39 miles downstream from Happy Camp: "Should be here in two weeks," reported Jim.

I note from Jim Road's report that a number of anglers from the Bay Area have been having a ball with fish to 8 pounds. Night crawlers are being used successfully, as are Jensen's lures (⅓ ounce), same weight with little jewel in silver. Fly fishing has been slow.

The March To Marshes Get Started Saturday

By JERRY HARRELL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The annual march to the marshes starts Saturday for most of California's 135,000 waterfowl hunters.

The hunting season opens one-half hour before sunrise in most of the state, including such prime shooting areas as the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys and the San Francisco Bay Area.

The season continues in areas where it began two weeks ago—in the northeast and along the Colorado River. Seasons there are set to coincide with those of Oregon and Arizona.

Duck populations indicate this season's hunting could be slightly better than last year's. But stricter rules on mallards and pintails—the state's most popular birds —could result in a slightly reduced kill.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, reporting reduced populations of sprig and greenheads on the Canadian breeding grounds, ruled that the bag this year could contain no more than three of the two species singly or in combination.

This stirred controversy in California, primary wintering ground for Pacific Flyway waterfowl, because hunters claimed there was no shortage of the birds in the West as there was in the East.

Concern has been expressed, too, that many of the private clubs which provide winter habitat for ducks won't bother to flood their fields with the limit trimmed on sprig and mallards.

Five more state-federal waterfowl management areas will open for hunters Saturday. They are Grizzly Island, San Luis Wasteway, Los Banos, Mendota and Imperial. Honey Lake, in the northeast, opened Oct. 9 and remains open.

Six others have later starts so they can hold ducks during harvests of surrounding crop areas and hold raids by hungry ducks to a minimum.

Opening Oct. 30 will be Gray Lodge, Colusa, Sutter, Delevan and Sacramento. Merced is slated for a Nov. 30 opener.

More than 67,000 hunters used the management areas and refuges last year. They averaged a bag of 1.8 birds.

Bob LaDonne, game biologist for the State Fish and Game Department, looks for a good opener and a generally good season. That's subject, of course, to the weather. Good duck hunting depends on bad weather as a rule.

An exception to the rule has been the northeast, which continues to provide good shooting despite only fair duck populations and bluebird weather.

John Reginato, manager for the Shasta-Cascade Wonderland Association and a veteran duck hunter, said the only problem on a hunt earlier this week was finding lesser birds after taking limits of pintails and mallards.

The general duck season continues through Jan. 5 with a limit of five ducks per day and 10 in possession. The daily bag may include no more than three mallard or pintail in the aggregate. The two-bird limit on wood ducks and canvasbacks remains in effect this year.

Goose hunters get a few extra days, with the general season continuing through Jan. 9. The limit is six per day and six in possession, including not less than three white geese and not more than three of the dark species.

Bag limits vary in the northeast and Colorado River areas, and hunters should check the detailed local regulations.

The Novato Sports Car Club will hold a "Halloween Hunt" time and distance rally Sunday, starting at Schard's Brothers Mobile Station on South Novato Boulevard, at 1 p.m.

Howard Nabs A.L. Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Howard, the towering, former Dodger who became a big man in Washington, has been chosen the American League's Comeback Player-of-the-Year for 1965.

The 6-foot-7 outfielder drew 61 votes in the annual Associated Press poll of 281 sports writers and sportscasters. The results announced today showed that Minnesota pitcher Jim Grant was second with 58 votes followed by Norm Cash, Detroit first baseman, with 24.

Howard boosted his batting average 63 points the past season, finishing with .289 compared to .226 with the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1964. The Senators obtained him last winter, sending pitcher Claude Osteen, infielder John Kennedy, first baseman Dick Nen and an estimated $100,000 to Los Angeles.

Waterfowl Season Nears

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

Now comes the moment of truth! The word has been passed around that the long looked for run of striped bass in the upper San Pablo has arrived. The fact that 21 nice fish ranging from 20 pounds, 8 ounces, to 35 pounds were winners of prizes in the Rodeo Bass Derby over the past weekend is given as proof.

It's a fact that 21 fish were winners. The chances are that many more fish were caught but were not entered in the derby. But—how many fishermen did it take to reach the 21 winners? If an estimated 400 fishermen were out on the water trying hard to catch a bass large enough to enter into the contest, the take was actually small.

I ASKED at a number of spots where small craft or party boats were fishing on Saturday and Sunday, and the number of fish per person was extremely small. For example: The Quans of China Camp reported a dozen bass for Sunday and only one bass on Monday. From Crockett I learned that Johnny Sivera brought in five bass on a large number of rods working. Cap Arnie piloting Dowrelio No. 5, netted only two bass for his crowd and the Bluefish also had two bass to 17 pounds. There were a total of 77 anglers fishing. Dillon's Point reported very spotty fishing but an occasional bass has been caught on plugs and ditto on bait.

Why am I mentioning all this? Simply because it would be too bad if my readers got the idea that fishing was as it used to be a few years ago during the month of October, and go fishing with the expectation of limiting out in short order.

IF YOU HAPPEN to be in the right spot at the right stage of the tide and have the right tackle and the right bait, you may get your legal limit of nice fish, but don't be disappointed if it doesn't happen that way. You are going fishing not for fish alone, but for the relaxation in the fresh air, when you can forget your trials and tribulations and just soak up the uncontaminated air, and forget everything else. Oh, sure such a trip is still better if you do happen to hook a good-sized bass on your light tackle. I hope it happens that way with each of you, but I also hope very earnestly that you are content to be trying even if you get no fish.

Salmon fishing outside the Gate is very very slow . . . it's not the weather or the water, it's just that there are no schools of salmon around. Which makes some of the old-timers wonder why we have had no news of salmon being caught inside the Gate. In the Red Rock area for example.

BY THE WAY, speaking of salmon, I received a report from Jim Roads of Happy Camp. Jim said a new run of salmon and steelhead has been spotted at Ishi Pishi, 39 miles downstream from Happy Camp: "Should be here in two weeks," reported Jim.

I note from Jim Road's report that a number of anglers from the Bay Area have been having a ball with fish to 8 pounds. Night crawlers are being used successfully, as are Jensen's lures (1/3 ounce), same weight with little jewel in silver. Fly fishing has been slow.

The March To Marshes Get Started Saturday

By JERRY HARRELL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The annual march to the marshes starts Saturday for most of California's 135,000 waterfowl hunters.

The hunting season opens one-half hour before sunrise in most of the state, including such prime shooting areas as the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys and the San Francisco Bay Area.

The season continues in areas where it began two weeks ago—in the northeast and along the Colorado River. Seasons there are set to coincide with those of Oregon and Arizona.

Duck populations indicate this season's hunting could be slightly better than last year's. But stricter rules on mallards and pintails—the state's most popular birds —could result in a slightly reduced kill.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, reporting reduced populations of sprig and greenheads on the Canadian breeding grounds, ruled that the bag this year could contain no more than three of the two species singly or in combination.

This stirred controversy in California, primary wintering ground for Pacific Flyway waterfowl, because hunters claimed there was no shortage of the birds in the West as there was in the East.

Concern has been expressed, too, that many of the private clubs which provide winter habitat for ducks won't bother to flood their fields with the limit trimmed on sprig and mallards.

Five more state-federal waterfowl management areas will open for hunters Saturday. They are Grizzly Island, San Luis Wasteway, Los Banos, Mendota and Imperial. Honey Lake, in the northeast, opened Oct. 9 and remains open.

Six others have later starts so they can hold ducks during harvests of surrounding crop areas and hold raids by hungry ducks to a minimum.

Opening Oct. 30 will be Gray Lodge, Colusa, Sutter, Delevan and Sacramento. Merced is slated for a Nov. 30 opener.

More than 67,000 hunters used the management areas and refuges last year. They averaged a bag of 1.8 birds.

Bob LaDonne, game biologist for the State Fish and Game Department, looks for a good opener and a generally good season. That's subject, of course, to the weather. Good duck hunting depends on bad weather as a rule.

An exception to the rule has been the northeast, which continues to provide good shooting despite only fair duck populations and bluebird weather.

John Reginato, manager for the Shasta-Cascade Wonderland Association and a veteran duck hunter, said the only problem on a hunt earlier this week was finding lesser birds after taking limits of pintails and mallards.

The general duck season continues through Jan. 5 with a limit of five ducks per day and 10 in possession. The daily bag may include no more than three mallard or pintail in the aggregate. The two-bird limit on wood ducks and canvasbacks remains in effect this year.

Goose hunters get a few extra days, with the general season continuing through Jan. 9. The limit is six per day and six in possession, including not less than three white geese and not more than three of the dark species.

Bag limits vary in the northeast and Colorado River areas, and hunters should check the detailed local regulations.

Heavy Trading Advances Market To New Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market surged to record highs in heavy trading late this afternoon.

Volume for the day was estimated at 9.1 million shares compared with 8.23 million Wednesday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains of fractions to a point among key stocks pushed the averages toward all-time peaks.

Some prices were trimmed as traders took profits in the afternoon but the list remained well ahead.

Many low-priced issues and speculative stocks were traded heavily. At the same time blue chips were far from backward.

Fairchild Camera spurted more than 5 points. Up 2 or better were Anaconda, Reveer Copper and McIntyre-Porcupine. Atlantic Coast Line rose more than 3.

Some stocks faltered as profits were taken. Xerox lost 2, Zenith about a point.

Among the lower - priced issues, Lehigh Valley Industries gained a substantial fraction for a big percentage gain and looked like the most active stock.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds showed little change.

Stan's For Sports Prepares Debut For First Branch Store

The first branch store of Stan's for Sports will make its opening debut tomorrow at 2 Tiburon Boulevard in Strawberry.

Like the San Rafael store, which is across from the Montecito Shopping Center, it is located close enough (at the north edge) to Strawberry Town and Country Village to benefit by its shopping pattern.

It is in an attractive building of its own, designed by Donald Keith Olsen and constructed by Al Villa, with about 8,000 square feet of retail space. Not quite as large as the San Rafael store, but it has room for a wide variety of sporting equipment and men's and women's sports wear which is being added to the shelves daily. There is offstreet parking for 35 cars.

Store manager is William Holloway, who has been with Stan Goldsmith at the San Rafael store for five years. Head of the women's department is Carol Gamas, who started working for Stan's part time while going to school and then went into full time work.

SUNDAY from noon until 5 p.m., Goodman Building Supplies stores in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael, and across the 101 Highway from Strawberry Town and Country Village will have their annual demonstration of home "built-in food centers."

As in the past, each store will cook a 100-pound roast in an ordinary oven as part of the demonstration, and this will be served up to visitors in sandwiches and with refreshments throughout the afternoon—or as long as the food lasts.

JON O. HOOPER of San Rafael has been promoted to materials manager for the marine products operation of Raytheon Co. Previously he was materials control supervisor. Hooper joined Raytheon in 1959, held supervisory posts at the Waltham, Mass., plant for four years, and was administrative assistant in Mountain View before transferring to the South San Francisco facility.

Previously he was a media buyer and account executive in the San Francisco and New York offices of Young and Rubicam, Inc.

For the past 18 months he has served as lending officer at the Corte Madera office. He joined Bank of America at the West Oakland branch on a special training program in 1961 and later worked at Fruitvale and Livermore branches and at the San Francisco headquarters.

Heavy Trading Advances Market To New Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market surged to record highs in heavy trading late this afternoon.

Volume for the day was estimated at 9.1 million shares compared with 8.23 million Wednesday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains of fractions to a point among key stocks pushed the averages toward all-time peaks.

Some prices were trimmed as traders took profits in the afternoon but the list remained well ahead.

Many low-priced issues and speculative stocks were traded heavily. At the same time blue chips were far from backward.

Fairchild Camera spurted more than 5 points. Up 2 or better were Anaconda, Reveer Copper and McIntyre-Porcupine. Atlantic Coast Line rose more than 3.

Some stocks faltered as profits were taken. Xerox lost 2, Zenith about a point.

Among the lower - priced issues, Lehigh Valley Industries gained a substantial fraction for a big percentage gain and looked like the most active stock.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds showed little change.

Stan's For Sports Prepares Debut For First Branch Store

The first branch store of Stan's for Sports will make its opening debut tomorrow at 2 Tiburon Boulevard in Strawberry.

Like the San Rafael store, which is across from the Montecito Shopping Center, it is located close enough (at the north edge) to Strawberry Town and Country Village to benefit by its shopping pattern.

It is in an attractive building of its own, designed by Donald Keith Olsen and constructed by Al Villa, with about 8,000 square feet of retail space. Not quite as large as the San Rafael store, but it has room for a wide variety of sporting equipment and men's and women's sports wear which is being added to the shelves daily. There is offstreet parking for 35 cars.

Store manager is William Holloway, who has been with Stan Goldsmith at the San Rafael store for five years. Head of the women's department is Carol Gamas, who started working for Stan's part time while going to school and then went into full time work.

SUNDAY from noon until 5 p.m., Goodman Building Supplies stores in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael, and across the 101 Highway from Strawberry Town and Country Village will have their annual demonstration of home "built-in food centers."

As in the past, each store will cook a 100-pound roast in an ordinary oven as part of the demonstration, and this will be served up to visitors in sandwiches and with refreshments throughout the afternoon—or as long as the food lasts.

JON O. HOOPER of San Rafael has been promoted to materials manager for the marine products operation of Raytheon Co. Previously he was materials control supervisor. Hooper joined Raytheon in 1959, held supervisory posts at the Waltham, Mass., plant for four years, and was administrative assistant in Mountain View before transferring to the South San Francisco facility.

CIA Held Hiring Viet Cong Killers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young says he has learned the Central Intelligence Agency hired South Vietnamese to dress as Viet Cong and kill men and rape women with the objective of discrediting the Communists. A CIA spokesman calls the charge "absolutely false."

And Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., said of the Ohio Democrat's allegation yesterday: "It may well be that he spoke to a Viet Cong disguised as a CIA man."

Both Young and Gallagher were in South Viet Nam several months ago and were briefed there by American officials.

Last night, he denied he had said a CIA man was his source and said he got his information from an American military officer. He did not name the man.

Nevertheless, Young said, "I confirmed through the CIA today that it employed some South Vietnamese nationals to pose as Viet Cong—and I take a dim view of that."

Young, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he will ask the committee to investigate CIA activities.

Man Says He Was Robbed Of $500

John N. Camelow, 1108 Irwin Street, San Rafael, told police Tuesday he was jumped by two men in an alley outside his home Friday night and robbed of $500.

He said he met a man called "Les" in a bar and they had two drinks at the rear of the house in Irwin Street. The man then left and Camelow said he was robbed as he made his way back to his home.

Camelow did not report the theft but was questioned by officers after Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa heard an account "in a round-about manner," police said.

A one-kwan note of the 14th Century China on exhibit at the Chase Manhattan Bank Money Museum bears the inscription: "Counterfeiters will be decapitated."

Quicksilver Mine Gets Use Permit

Marin County supervisors Tuesday granted a five-year use permit for Buttes Gas and Oil Co. to operate a mercury mine on the Gambonini Ranch east of Marshall, with strict regulations on reseeding of cuts and fills.

The permit will be subject to yearly review by the county planning department.

Immediately after the permit approval, Mrs. Grace Wellman of Kentfield asked that the county look into regulations that could be established at the state level on strip mining. The supervisors agreed to do so.

Paul Brindel Slated To Revisit Vatican

Paul Brindel, Novato Catholic writer who covered the 1962-63 and '64 ecumenical councils in Rome, will leave Saturday for Rome for the end of this year's council.

Brindel, whose trip was delayed because of illness, will make stops in New York, Ireland, London, Paris and Switzerland before reaching Rome on Nov. 7. He has been invited to spend Christmas with Archbishop George Hakim of Galilee, who visited him in Novato last year.

Federal Support Believed Available For County Dump

A county dump that would eventually be converted to a golf course in Corte Madera could qualify for federal support, county public works director Donald R. Frost said today.

Frost, Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald Usher and acting park and recreation director Walter Horchler yesterday went to the San Francisco regional office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, which administers federal grants for purchase of open space.

Oliver Everett, assistant director of the office, said the proposed golf course use would make it possible to apply to the federal agency for 50 per cent of the purchase cost.

The 90-acre site is on the south bank of Corte Madera Creek, just east of Highway 101. Under the proposal, the county would use the land as a dump for about 10 years. Then it would be converted to a nine-hole golf course.

When first proposed several months ago, the dump brought several protesting letters to the board of supervisors. The board asked Frost to look into other sites.

Frost said today there does not appear to be any other choice than the Corte Madera site.

Everett told the Marin officials that the project first must have the blessing of the recently formed Bay Fill Study Commission. If the commission approves the proposal, the application for an HHFA grant could then be filed.

Welfare Programs Grease Skids To Overindebtedness

The widespread use of credit cards and installment buying is both a convenience and a handicap for many consumers today.

For the disciplined who do not overextend their credits, the system has been a boon. But for those who can't resist the impulse to go on a spending spree with no thought to the day of reckoning, the system poses a serious problem.

"Overindebtedness has become the No. 1 family financial problem of our times," according to Sidney Margolius, a member of the President's Consumer Advisory Council.

In some cases, overindebtedness is unavoidable. Unexpected medical bills, vocational problems, and unforeseen tragedies often saddle responsible families with bills that cannot be paid.

But family consultants have found that many families seeking guidance in handling their debts are not really poor, but have incomes in the $5,000 to $10,000 range, some as high as $20,000.

This is the group that can, if it has the will, exercise more discipline so that a balance can be restored between spending habits and their resources.

Individual laxity is not entirely to blame. Society as a whole, by adopting various programs to aid the unfortunate, also may be partially responsible for lulling citizens into the belief that the county, the state and federal government will come to their rescue.

There is less inducement for the irresponsible to stock up for a rainy day if they know that parents, a big brother or rich uncle (Sam) stands ready to catch them when they fall.

War on poverty, aid to the needy and other welfare programs have their place in modern society.

But county, state and federal agencies, which administer such programs, have as much obligation to keep a constant rein on amounts doled out as in seeing that the genuinely needy are fed, clothed and educated.

Constant checks and reminders are needed to re-instill in Americans the idea that dependence on public aid should be the exception, not the rule; that they are expected to meet every obligation they incur, barring unexpected tragedies.

Overindebtedness and liberal spending via installment payments may be the modern way. But when a member of the National Consumer Advisory Council warns that the practice has reached a critical stage, it's time we took notice.

The step back toward self-discipline in spending and more self-reliance may be a bitter one. Nevertheless, it will have to be taken if individuals are to retain their initiative and self-respect.

Autumn—Season Of Seeds

Autumn in Marin, as elsewhere, is the season of the seeds. A few plants, such as the acacias, mature their seeds in mid-summer, but the vast majority of them ripen in the fall.

Seeds are a true miracle of Nature. Their abundance is staggering. For every seed that grows into a new plant, thousands go to waste. With incredible precision and economy, each seed packs a condensed image of its parents into a neat capsule, along with food and a tough skin or shell to protect it until it finds proper conditions for growth.

It is the miracle of life. Something which makes even scientists humble, for they cannot understand all the facets of seed production. And the more they learn, the more they discover that they do not know.

This time of year sees the end and the beginning of the cycle of life. Seeds. Seeds. Seeds. Winter's moisture, the good earth, and spring's warming sun will complete the transition from seed to plant. And Nature will be off on another round.

Politics Account For Some Odd Goings-On In Official Circles

By HENRY MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — Some highly amusing as well as confusing things are happening around Sacramento these days. This is common when politicians start thinking about running for office next year. Of course, they always are thinking along those lines, but the actual fact that campaign time is approaching leads to some unusual gyrations.

FIRST, Gov. Edmund G. Brown recently made a "tour" of tomato fields south of Sacramento. His office issued a press release the day before the tour, declaring California had a "tremendous" tomato harvest, and suggested that Republican U.S. Sen. George Murphy "eat crow" for Thanksgiving dinner, and apologize to California workers for his "long series of damaging statements about our agricultural industry."

Brown lauded reduction in the use of Mexican braceros, and use of domestic labor in harvesting what his pre-issued press release said would be a near record crop, and declared that next year, it is unlikely braceros will be needed in California.

Of course, the big question is how many domestics will be needed if all the tomato growers manage to secure mechanical harvesters?

THE NEXT amusing item is revival of the battle between Tom Braden, head of the state board of education, Democrat, and Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, Republican, who have been feuding nearly four years.

Braden so far isn't running for anything, although he has been mentioned as a possible candidate for lieutenant governor in place of Glenn Anderson, who is somewhat on the spot because of his alleged mishandling of the Watts Negro riots.

Rafferty, it is assumed, will run again for the office he now holds, despite the fact he has been mentioned many times as a possible Republican gubernatorial candidate.

It seems Braden invited Rafferty to go to Oregon, and represent the state board of education at a meeting in that state. After Rafferty was safely across the state line, the board held a meeting in San Francisco, and jumped all over Rafferty for "dallying" in putting a federal aid program into effect.

RAFFERTY came right back in a press conference, declaring everything is being done in accordance with law to enable California to get the federal money, and termed the attack by Braden and two other board members as "shabby."

Although education administration in California is supposed to be on a non-partisan basis, it would appear this has somewhat changed with the top administrator and the top policy maker, both who seem to have political ambitions, a Republican and a Democrat. So the situation becomes amusing, but not confusing, at least to those who understand a few things about politics!

Chamber Argues For 'Try Marin First'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

During this Marin Chamber of Commerce Month, many promotional groups wil be urging us to BUY IN MARIN, SHOP MARIN, and TRY MARIN FIRST before purchasing goods or services elsewhere. In response, Marinites can rightly ask what economic significance such programs have for them.

The answer lies in growth. Marin is growing; and so are its taxes, problems, and advisors. Some want still more growth in the form of industry, tourists, and even government growth administrators. What most of us probably want is relief—from taxes, from prices, from traffic and probably from people too.

The Chamber "Buy In Marin" program offers significant relief. Local business pays substantial taxes—sales, business inventory, license, and real property. In Corte Madera, for example, Town sales tax revenue exceeds Town property tax revenue. Furthermore, successful businesses expand; and as they do, they pay still more in taxes that afford relief. And Marin residents can aid such expansion by their own business habits. It is easier for us to get a local business to expand, broaden its services, or relocate than it is to attract industries or visitors which may not be as welcome as our tax-base-broadeners may suggest.

Obviously, there is no single solution to the complex problems of growth and tax relief. But the "Try Marin First" theme deserves our attention. Established and reputable businesses in downtown areas, accessible and problem-free facilities in regional centers, and the numerous supporting goods and services located throughout Marin now afford the Marin resident a real opportunity to buy at home, at competitive prices, and with substantial variety. If we avail ourselves of this opportunity, we can contribute materially to the solution of some of the tax and other problems that growth creates.

Judge Goldstein Receives Plaudits

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The editorial of Oct. 5, 1965, is indeed a credit to your paper as well as to men like the Hon. Judge Alvin Goldstein . . .

Whenever such articles can be submitted to the press without fear by respectable citizens, based on truth beyond any doubt, officials with appointive privileges should by all means take a personal interest in whom they appoint to carry on the ethical function of law and justice according to true American traditions.

Student Marchers Should Be Drafted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . Anyone is free to protest the involvement of our government in foreign affairs, even when that involvement is our own future protection . . . I am speaking of the Viet Nam Peace Committee — or whatever it is named.

The people participating in this protest I have seen (as have news reporters) in practically every demonstration of protest in the U.S.A.

It is my belief that even though a person is attending college and is exempt from the draft, it's fine, as long as it's an education he wants. But if that person wishes to protest against people keeping this country free and safe, then he should automatically be drafted . . . These protest people help the enemy . . .

Every intelligent person knows to pull out of Viet Nam would not mean peace of any kind. Only another gain for communism. So what the pacifist of this type is doing is aiding communism. Though I'm sure their intentions are good. They are misguided misfits . . .

I believe they should be allowed to march as long as they don't harm anything or anyone. Then the news media and everyone should ignore them. Their importance should and would diminish if ignored . . .

They are a disgrace to our American way of life . . . They are mostly college dropouts and beatniks. I believe they are sick. But it's another price we pay for freedom. While decent men go and fight to preserve life, they have to protect the rights of these bums, who are in a way helping the enemy.

If we ignored Viet Nam, then another gain for the Reds. Too bad it's not as simple as some writers think. Like bombing them with food. Marvelous if it could work. The world would be nice and easy if that was all it took.

This letter is written to offer hearty congratulations on the objectively informative editorial coverage the Independent-Journal is devoting to (1) the unfortunate Gallinas Village Community Services District matter, (2) the equally unfortunate board of supervisors' Fairchild semi-conductor tax decision, and (3) Supervisor E. In my judgment, Albert R. Borden deserves all possible commendation for bringing the Gallinas Village matter to the public's attention, because it is already abundantly evident that much constructive public good has resulted from his dedicated efforts.

But it is heartening and refreshing to Mrs. Stuart and myself beyond any means of adequate expression for two public officials, who were elected by all Marin County citizens, to speak up forthrightly, clearly and in full conformance with their sworn public trust, responsibility and duty as Mitchell and Fontez for their valiantly constructive observations in this board of supervisors' tax decision matter.

Johnson's Congressional Batting Average Good But Not Perfect

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Lyndon B. Johnson's batting average with the 89th Congress now pressing for adjournment of its first session will compare favorably with the best of any of his predecessors.

BUT IT WON'T show all hits and runs. There are going to be some major bills left on base.

But not even Johnson got everything he wanted. He still could, for this is only the first session of the 89th, and all unfinished business carries over to next year when Congress takes up where it leaves off in 1965.

Topping the list of deferred legislation are two bills close to the heart of organized labor which supported Johnson in the 1964 elections.

ONE IS the controversial measure to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. This section allows states to ban inclusion in labor-management contracts of provisions requiring all covered employes to belong to or contribute to a union.

The House passed the bill July 28. But the measure ran into a filibuster in the Senate. So the Democratic leadership took the bill off the calendar and laid it aside until next year.

Labor's other top-priority bill got sidetracked in the House after being approved by the Education and Labor Committee in much more liberal form than the President wanted. It would raise the minimum wages of workers in interstate industry and extend coverage to millions of additional workers.

ALSO STILL high and dry is the President's proposal for home rule for residents of the District of Columbia, for whom Congress has been acting as a city council for years. The Senate went along with the President on this legislation but the House passed a much different bill calling for a referendum of capital voters to decide if they want a home rule charter. The two branches haven't been able to get together on a compromise version.

On some of the things he did get from Congress, the President got more than he wanted. This was true of the military pay raise bill and the bill setting up a program of health care for the elderly within the Social Security System.

HE MIGHT get another setback before Congress goes home. The House has refused to approve funds to put into operation the rent subsidy provision of the new housing law. The Senate may restore some of the money. If it does, there is certain to be another hassle in the House.

Our Jets Unleashed On Missile Bases

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — U.S. pilots finally are being allowed to go after those murderous Russian ground-to-air (SAM) missiles that have killed a number of them in North Viet Nam.

In the brief period this new unannounced policy has been in effect, an estimated six SAM launchers have been destroyed.

WHILE BELATEDLY authorizing these attacks, President Lyndon B. Johnson at the same time imposed two severely restrictive limitations—that drastically minimize the scope and effectiveness of his action:

SAM missile sites in the crucial Hanoi-Haiphong area are still off limits. Air strikes against any targets in this key Communist stronghold are rigidly barred. Between 15 and 20 fixed SAM sites have been spotted around the Red capital and principal seaport.

Only mobile SAM launchers can be attacked. Most of these deadly Soviet weapons have been encountered at important bridges and other transportation and communication points.

But the overdue—though limited—permission has boosted pilot morale. There had been widespread resentment against the ban on attacking SAMs, especially as their toll of casualties mounted.

It was this tragic factor that finally impelled the president to accede to the long urging of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to approve anti-SAM strikes.

Both the Air Force and Navy are still forcefully advocating attacks on the extensive anti-aircraft and other defenses of Hanoi and Haiphong. They are stressing these are constantly being reinforced and increasingly more difficult and costly to "take out."

But the president is still siding with his State Department advisers, who are strenuously against carrying the war directly to North Viet Nam's vulnerable vitals.

Secretary Rusk, McGeorge Bundy, White House foreign affairs assistant, and others of this influential inner group contend such attacks are an "ace in the hole" and should be "resorted to only if and when it looks as if there is no hope for a negotiated peace."

The military leaders argue this course is self-destructive as it "makes a sanctuary of Hanoi and Haiphong and encourages the Communists to flout all peace overtures."

A number have indicated they want to do that for first-hand observations. To discourage this, State and Defense department spokesmen are pointedly citing various risks and difficulties.

The headlined furore over lobbyist operations on the heatedly controversial sugar bill completely obscured an attempt by the Johnson administration to pull the teeth of a tough provision in the House-passed measure.

This section strengthened the existing law that automatically suspends the sugar allotment of any foreign country that seizes U.S. property.

The State Department, with White House backing, sought to water this down.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., bluntly served notice he would fight the administration's proposal "to the end."

The Finance Committee's sugar bill deliberations also brought to light a striking illustration of bureaucracy in full bloom.

Thomas Murphy, director of the Agriculture Department's sugar policy staff, was expounding on what was wrong with the controversial measure as approved by the House.

"In Latin America, as well as elsewhere," said Senator Hartke, "it is vital to our national welfare and defense that we consider friendly and unfriendly governments; that we consider those leaning to Communism and those in accord with our policies. Can you tell us whether the Alliance for Progress was consulted in allocating sugar quotas?"

"I am sure the Alliance is consulted," said Murphy, "but I really don't know."

"Then you don't know," continued Hartke, "whether any consideration is given to Communist or non-Communist countries, and whether sugar quota recipients are friendly or unfriendly to us?"

Murphy admitted that was was the case.

Welfare Programs Grease Skids To Overindebtedness

The widespread use of credit cards and installment buying is both a convenience and a handicap for many consumers today.

For the disciplined who do not overextend their credits, the system has been a boon. But for those who can't resist the impulse to go on a spending spree with no thought to the day of reckoning, the system poses a serious problem.

"Overindebtedness has become the No. 1 family financial problem of our times," according to Sidney Margolius, a member of the President's Consumer Advisory Council.

In some cases, overindebtedness is unavoidable. Unexpected medical bills, vocational problems, and unforeseen tragedies often saddle responsible families with bills that cannot be paid.

But family consultants have found that many families seeking guidance in handling their debts are not really poor, but have incomes in the $5,000 to $10,000 range, some as high as $20,000.

This is the group that can, if it has the will, exercise more discipline so that a balance can be restored between spending habits and their resources.

Individual laxity is not entirely to blame. Society as a whole, by adopting various programs to aid the unfortunate, also may be partially responsible for lulling citizens into the belief that the county, the state and federal government will come to their rescue.

There is less inducement for the irresponsible to stock up for a rainy day if they know that parents, a big brother or rich uncle (Sam) stands ready to catch them when they fall.

War on poverty, aid to the needy and other welfare programs have their place in modern society.

But county, state and federal agencies, which administer such programs, have as much obligation to keep a constant rein on amounts doled out as in seeing that the genuinely needy are fed, clothed and educated.

Constant checks and reminders are needed to re-instill in Americans the idea that dependence on public aid should be the exception, not the rule; that they are expected to meet every obligation they incur, barring unexpected tragedies.

Overindebtedness and liberal spending via installment payments may be the modern way. But when a member of the National Consumer Advisory Council warns that the practice has reached a critical stage, it's time we took notice.

The step back toward self-discipline in spending and more self-reliance may be a bitter one. Nevertheless, it will have to be taken if individuals are to retain their initiative and self-respect.

Autumn—Season Of Seeds

Autumn in Marin, as elsewhere, is the season of the seeds. A few plants, such as the acacias, mature their seeds in mid-summer, but the vast majority of them ripen in the fall.

Seeds are a true miracle of Nature. Their abundance is staggering. For every seed that grows into a new plant, thousands go to waste. With incredible precision and economy, each seed packs a condensed image of its parents into a neat capsule, along with food and a tough skin or shell to protect it until it finds proper conditions for growth.

It is the miracle of life. Something which makes even scientists humble, for they cannot understand all the facets of seed production. And the more they learn, the more they discover that they do not know.

This time of year sees the end and the beginning of the cycle of life. Seeds. Seeds. Seeds. Winter's moisture, the good earth, and spring's warming sun will complete the transition from seed to plant. And Nature will be off on another round.

Politics Account For Some Odd Goings-On In Official Circles

By HENRY MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — Some highly amusing as well as confusing things are happening around Sacramento these days. This is common when politicians start thinking about running for office next year. Of course, they always are thinking along those lines, but the actual fact that campaign time is approaching leads to some unusual gyrations.

FIRST, Gov. Edmund G. Brown recently made a "tour" of tomato fields south of Sacramento. His office issued a press release the day before the tour, declaring California had a "tremendous" tomato harvest, and suggested that Republican U.S. Sen. George Murphy "eat crow" for Thanksgiving dinner, and apologize to California workers for his "long series of damaging statements about our agricultural industry."

Brown lauded reduction in the use of Mexican braceros, and use of domestic labor in harvesting what his pre-issued press release said would be a near record crop, and declared that next year, it is unlikely braceros will be needed in California.

Of course, the big question is how many domestics will be needed if all the tomato growers manage to secure mechanical harvesters?

THE NEXT amusing item is revival of the battle between Tom Braden, head of the state board of education, Democrat, and Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, Republican, who have been feuding nearly four years.

Braden so far isn't running for anything, although he has been mentioned as a possible candidate for lieutenant governor in place of Glenn Anderson, who is somewhat on the spot because of his alleged mishandling of the Watts Negro riots.

Rafferty, it is assumed, will run again for the office he now holds, despite the fact he has been mentioned many times as a possible Republican gubernatorial candidate.

It seems Braden invited Rafferty to go to Oregon, and represent the state board of education at a meeting in that state. After Rafferty was safely across the state line, the board held a meeting in San Francisco, and jumped all over Rafferty for "dallying" in putting a federal aid program into effect.

RAFFERTY came right back in a press conference, declaring everything is being done in accordance with law to enable California to get the federal money, and termed the attack by Braden and two other board members as "shabby."

Although education administration in California is supposed to be on a non-partisan basis, it would appear this has somewhat changed with the top administrator and the top policy maker, both who seem to have political ambitions, a Republican and a Democrat. So the situation becomes amusing, but not confusing, at least to those who understand a few things about politics!

Chamber Argues For 'Try Marin First'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

During this Marin Chamber of Commerce Month, many promotional groups wil be urging us to BUY IN MARIN, SHOP MARIN, and TRY MARIN FIRST before purchasing goods or services elsewhere. In response, Marinites can rightly ask what economic significance such programs have for them.

The answer lies in growth. Marin is growing; and so are its taxes, problems, and advisors. Some want still more growth in the form of industry, tourists, and even government growth administrators. What most of us probably want is relief—from taxes, from prices, from traffic and probably from people too.

The Chamber "Buy In Marin" program offers significant relief. Local business pays substantial taxes—sales, business inventory, license, and real property. In Corte Madera, for example, Town sales tax revenue exceeds Town property tax revenue. Furthermore, successful businesses expand; and as they do, they pay still more in taxes that afford relief. And Marin residents can aid such expansion by their own business habits. It is easier for us to get a local business to expand, broaden its services, or relocate than it is to attract industries or visitors which may not be as welcome as our tax-base-broadeners may suggest.

Obviously, there is no single solution to the complex problems of growth and tax relief. But the "Try Marin First" theme deserves our attention. Established and reputable businesses in downtown areas, accessible and problem-free facilities in regional centers, and the numerous supporting goods and services located throughout Marin now afford the Marin resident a real opportunity to buy at home, at competitive prices, and with substantial variety. If we avail ourselves of this opportunity, we can contribute materially to the solution of some of the tax and other problems that growth creates.

Student Marchers Should Be Drafted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . Anyone is free to protest the involvement of our government in foreign affairs, even when that involvement is our own future protection . . . I am speaking of the Viet Nam Peace Committee — or whatever it is named.

The people participating in this protest I have seen (as have news reporters) in practically every demonstration of protest in the U.S.A.

It is my belief that even though a person is attending college and is exempt from the draft, it's fine, as long as it's an education he wants. But if that person wishes to protest against people keeping this country free and safe, then he should automatically be drafted . . . These protest people help the enemy . . .

Every intelligent person knows to pull out of Viet Nam would not mean peace of any kind. Only another gain for communism. So what the pacifist of this type is doing is aiding communism. Though I'm sure their intentions are good. They are misguided misfits . . .

I believe they should be allowed to march as long as they don't harm anything or anyone. Then the news media and everyone should ignore them. Their importance should and would diminish if ignored . . .

They are a disgrace to our American way of life . . . They are mostly college dropouts and beatniks. I believe they are sick. But it's another price we pay for freedom. While decent men go and fight to preserve life, they have to protect the rights of these bums, who are in a way helping the enemy.

If we ignored Viet Nam, then another gain for the Reds. Too bad it's not as simple as some writers think. Like bombing them with food. Marvelous if it could work. The world would be nice and easy if that was all it took.

Empty Downtown Store Building Hurts San Anselmo's Appearance

WHEN I WAS a boy, San Anselmo was my territory.

I walked, bicycled and, finally, drove its streets, sidewalks, paths and hills for 11 of the years I remember best. Because so many things happened to me there, that town was a part of my life and is a part of most memories.

There I went through school, met good friends, went on my first date, stumbled through adolescence, soloed for the first time behind the wheel of an automobile, met and proposed to my wife.

All the time that town was part of my life, though, I rarely made note of it. It was just there — a good, comfortable, friendly place to be living. I have since moved away, first to San Francisco, then back to Marin County, this time San Rafael.

As is probably natural, I have started to notice San Anselmo. One of my observations may be worth passing on to those living there and not really looking at their town.

WHAT I NOTICE first, every time I drive into the town, is a rather cancerous splotch on the face of downtown San Anselmo. Having lived there myself, I know that San Anselmo is a healthy town. However, what I know to be nothing more than an annoying wart waiting to be burned off, might appear, to the casual visitor or investor, a sign of an ill and faltering business section.

This splotch is the building, vacant save for a "for lease" sign in its window, on what is probably the most natural business corner in downtown San Anselmo. Located at Tunstead and San Anselmo avenues, the building has not had a tenant since Jack's Drug Store's lease there expired at the end of 1964. The business that store did on that corner expanded so that the store finally exploded over into a building which once housed a Purity supermarket, a short way down Tunstead Avenue.

Why this building has not been rented, I am not prepared to even guess. William A. Trewhella, president of San Anselmo's Chamber of Commerce has suggested that the rent may be too high.

Whatever the problem is, it is to the advantage of the City of San Anselmo to get that piece of property rented. I imagine that vacant store does San Anselmo's business district as much good as the lack of two front teeth would do a model in toothpaste advertisements.

I do not think the people of San Anselmo have failed to notice this vacancy as a boy would fail to notice his town. They may, though have done worse. They may have noticed it and then attempted to forget it, for lack of an idea to correct the problem.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

A passenger car toll of 75 cents was set for the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge by the California Toll Bridge Authority, triple the charge for autos on the San Francisco - Oakland Bay Bridge and the Golden Gate Bridge.

Marin faced a quarantine of all dogs in the county and a voluntary vaccination program as a result of rabies cases among wild animals in the county.

20 YEARS AGO

Postmistress Mary L. Jordan reported the Federal Works Agency had appropriated $85,000 for a new postoffice building in Fairfax.

Dr. J. B. Askew, representative of the California Department of Public Health, recommended that a 100-bed general hospital be constructed in Marin and 30 beds be made available for tuberculosis cases.

Only Ulysses Might Resist Songs Of Topless Welfare State Sirens

A number of conservatives, dismayed at what they deem the suicidal course of the Ship of State, ask what may be done to avoid the rapids the current captain and crew are heading us for.

ALAS, IT TAKES a wiser man than I to drown out the something-for-nothing songs of the topless Welfare State sirens who lure men to their destruction. Ulysses did it by filling the ears of his sailors with wax and lashing himeslf to the mast—but, of course, that was in the hard-hearted McKinley Era. He wouldn't get away with such brutality today.

After all, Ulysses was just a dumb Greek who didn't have a restaurant to his name and didn't make any of the fraternities, let alone Phi Beta Kappa. By no stretch of the imagination would he rank with the modern intelligentsia who take their bearings by slogan and shibboleth, instead of relying on the compass needle.

Maybe it's because they can't read the compass. For, inspite of all their honorary degrees and awards, they remain uneducable in the school of experience. The lessons of the past are a closed book to them, and they even blot out the knowledge of the things they have seen.

THEY KNOW what happened to the three great welfare states of our times—Hitler's Germany, Mussolini's Italy and Stalin's Russia—but they remain undaunted. Give them A for effort: if at first—and second—and third they have not succeeded, they're prepared to flop, flop again.

Ulysses was careful to avoid the rocks, but then he was not a genuine music-lover. The current mariners, far more cultured, have scorned the wax treatment and installed hi-fi and are entranced by the dulcet tones of both Scylla and Charybdis. And the nearer they get to Utopia-on-the-Rocks, the better the music sounds.

Surely, they reason, any group which can produce such melodious harmony can't be all bad and is worth exchanging culture with. And they obviously yearn for a conference out of which will come a concert where both parties can make beautiful music together. For that, they're even willing to play second fiddle.

THE DOSSIER on all conferences at which the lamb lies down with the lion or the fly enters the spider's parlor for a cozy chat, fails to reveal that the party of the second part has ever become a bona-fide vegetarian. But perhaps in the Great Society things will be different.

Still, I'd rather have Ulysses at the helm. If I recall rightly, he got home safely.

I'd like to be more encouraging, but an honest scorekeeper, however he's rooting, must give you the actual tally.

WHAT GLIMMER of hope I see lies in the distance. Norway has dislodged its Socialists, and even the Kremlin is talking of the incentive motive. But here, under government exerts, we still head for 1984.

We have made other trips with these experts and their like. Twenty years ago they told us Mao was just an agrarian reformer and, if we played our cards right, we could woo him away from the Communists. Today these same cognoscenti tell us if we play ball with the Muscovites we can woo them away from Mao.

Through the F.D.R. years we argued taxes were too high and that the law of diminishing returns would destory our incentive and our system. We pointed out that the Coolidge regime had cut taxes and thereby increased government revenues, which were used to cut the national debt.

For that we were sneered at as "economic royalists." Then the experts did an about-face under LBJ and cut taxes and promptly boasted of higher government intake: as though they were the ones who discovered the law of diminishing returns.

But when we objected that they hadn't followed through and were actually increasing the debt, they peered at our "Puritan ethics."

The masterpiece of illogic came from that old pro, Hubert Humphrey, in a recent speech. For years the Vice-President has been a relentless advocate of foreign aid, regardless of the state of our debt or our gold reserves. This time, defending our domestic spending, he asked plaintively, "if we can support foreign countries, why can't we take care of our own?" If that doesn't win the brass ring, heaven only knows what will. It shames that old one about the man who killed his parents and asked for leniency because he was an orphan.

I HAVE ONLY one suggestion, and I think time is running out on that. What we need desperately is a crash program for birth control among government experts. If they can't add, why should we let them keep on multiplying?

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By STEPHEN COOK

Empty Downtown Store Building Hurts San Anselmo's Appearance

WHEN I WAS a boy, San Anselmo was my territory.

I walked, bicycled and, finally, drove its streets, sidewalks, paths and hills for 11 of the years I remember best. Because so many things happened to me there, that town was a part of my life and is a part of most memories.

There I went through school, met good friends, went on my first date, stumbled through adolescence, soloed for the first time behind the wheel of an automobile, met and proposed to my wife.

All the time that town was part of my life, though, I rarely made note of it. It was just there — a good, comfortable, friendly place to be living. I have since moved away, first to San Francisco, then back to Marin County, this time San Rafael.

As is probably natural, I have started to notice San Anselmo. One of my observations may be worth passing on to those living there and not really looking at their town.

WHAT I NOTICE first, every time I drive into the town, is a rather cancerous splotch on the face of downtown San Anselmo. Having lived there myself, I know that San Anselmo is a healthy town. However, what I know to be nothing more than an annoying wart waiting to be burned off, might appear, to the casual visitor or investor, a sign of an ill and faltering business section.

This splotch is the building, vacant save for a "for lease" sign in its window, on what is probably the most natural business corner in downtown San Anselmo. Located at Tunstead and San Anselmo avenues, the building has not had a tenant since Jack's Drug Store's lease there expired at the end of 1964. The business that store did on that corner expanded so that the store finally exploded over into a building which once housed a Purity supermarket, a short way down Tunstead Avenue.

Why this building has not been rented, I am not prepared to even guess. William A. Trewhella, president of San Anselmo's Chamber of Commerce has suggested that the rent may be too high.

Whatever the problem is, it is to the advantage of the City of San Anselmo to get that piece of property rented. I imagine that vacant store does San Anselmo's business district as much good as the lack of two front teeth would do a model in toothpaste advertisements.

I do not think the people of San Anselmo have failed to notice this vacancy as a boy would fail to notice his town. They may, though have done worse. They may have noticed it and then attempted to forget it, for lack of an idea to correct the problem.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

A passenger car toll of 75 cents was set for the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge by the California Toll Bridge Authority, triple the charge for autos on the San Francisco - Oakland Bay Bridge and the Golden Gate Bridge.

Marin faced a quarantine of all dogs in the county and a voluntary vaccination program as a result of rabies cases among wild animals in the county.

20 YEARS AGO

Postmistress Mary L. Jordan reported the Federal Works Agency had appropriated $85,000 for a new postoffice building in Fairfax.

Dr. J. B. Askew, representative of the California Department of Public Health, recommended that a 100-bed general hospital be constructed in Marin and 30 beds be made available for tuberculosis cases.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Only Ulysses Might Resist Songs Of Topless Welfare State Sirens

A number of conservatives, dismayed at what they deem the suicidal course of the Ship of State, ask what may be done to avoid the rapids the current captain and crew are heading us for.

ALAS, IT TAKES a wiser man than I to drown out the something-for-nothing songs of the topless Welfare State sirens who lure men to their destruction. Ulysses did it by filling the ears of his sailors with wax and lashing himeslf to the mast—but, of course, that was in the hard-hearted McKinley Era. He wouldn't get away with such brutality today.

After all, Ulysses was just a dumb Greek who didn't have a restaurant to his name and didn't make any of the fraternities, let alone Phi Beta Kappa. By no stretch of the imagination would he rank with the modern intelligentsia who take their bearings by slogan and shibboleth, instead of relying on the compass needle.

Maybe it's because they can't read the compass. For, inspite of all their honorary degrees and awards, they remain uneducable in the school of experience. The lessons of the past are a closed book to them, and they even blot out the knowledge of the things they have seen.

THEY KNOW what happened to the three great welfare states of our times—Hitler's Germany, Mussolini's Italy and Stalin's Russia—but they remain undaunted. Give them A for effort: if at first—and second—and third they have not succeeded, they're prepared to flop, flop again.

Ulysses was careful to avoid the rocks, but then he was not a genuine music-lover. The current mariners, far more cultured, have scorned the wax treatment and installed hi-fi and are entranced by the dulcet tones of both Scylla and Charybdis. And the nearer they get to Utopia-on-the-Rocks, the better the music sounds.

Surely, they reason, any group which can produce such melodious harmony can't be all bad and is worth exchanging culture with. And they obviously yearn for a conference out of which will come a concert where both parties can make beautiful music together. For that, they're even willing to play second fiddle.

THE DOSSIER on all conferences at which the lamb lies down with the lion or the fly enters the spider's parlor for a cozy chat, fails to reveal that the party of the second part has ever become a bona-fide vegetarian. But perhaps in the Great Society things will be different.

Still, I'd rather have Ulysses at the helm. If I recall rightly, he got home safely.

I'd like to be more encouraging, but an honest scorekeeper, however he's rooting, must give you the actual tally.

WHAT GLIMMER of hope I see lies in the distance. Norway has dislodged its Socialists, and even the Kremlin is talking of the incentive motive. But here, under government exerts, we still head for 1984.

We have made other trips with these experts and their like. Twenty years ago they told us Mao was just an agrarian reformer and, if we played our cards right, we could woo him away from the Communists. Today these same cognoscenti tell us if we play ball with the Muscovites we can woo them away from Mao.

Through the F.D.R. years we argued taxes were too high and that the law of diminishing returns would destory our incentive and our system. We pointed out that the Coolidge regime had cut taxes and thereby increased government revenues, which were used to cut the national debt.

For that we were sneered at as "economic royalists." Then the experts did an about-face under LBJ and cut taxes and promptly boasted of higher government intake: as though they were the ones who discovered the law of diminishing returns.

But when we objected that they hadn't followed through and were actually increasing the debt, they peered at our "Puritan ethics."

The masterpiece of illogic came from that old pro, Hubert Humphrey, in a recent speech. For years the Vice-President has been a relentless advocate of foreign aid, regardless of the state of our debt or our gold reserves. This time, defending our domestic spending, he asked plaintively, "if we can support foreign countries, why can't we take care of our own?" If that doesn't win the brass ring, heaven only knows what will. It shames that old one about the man who killed his parents and asked for leniency because he was an orphan.

I HAVE ONLY one suggestion, and I think time is running out on that. What we need desperately is a crash program for birth control among government experts. If they can't add, why should we let them keep on multiplying?

Fire Caution Urged For Halloween

Precautions to keep a Halloween safe from accidents and fires were outlined today by Capt. Richard Beyer, fire prevention officer for the Novato Fire District.

A quick check around the home should show whether the decorations are of flame retardant type, he said. If the home jack-o-lantern has a candle for light, be sure it is not near curtains or drapes, Beyer warned. If the jack-o-lantern is left alone, the candle should be extinguished, he said.

Costumes should fit well enough to prevent small goblins from stumbling or tripping, he said. Masks should be fixed so that the small fry can see and put on and take off the mask by himself, Beyer said.

In line for a safe Halloween, witches are now getting brooms that have seat belts, he added.

Bike Rider Collides With Car, Bruised

Michael Antoine Jean, 8-year-old son of Antoine Jean of 38 Ash Avenue, Corte Madera, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and bruises suffered when he rode his bicycle out of a Larkspur driveway into a car Tuesday.

Larkspur police said that at 5:30 p.m., Michael drove out of a driveway at 56 Bayview Street without looking, and collided with a car driven by Alice L. Slocum, 42, of 11 Bayview Street.

MONTEVIDEO VISIT

Uruguay Retarded Teaching Praised

Mrs. Mary Ann Tunnard of Bolinas, teacher of Marin County's kindergarten for mentally retarded pupils in Santa Venetia, has returned from Uruguay with great respect for teachers of mentally retarded in that country.

Mrs. Tunnard spent two-and-a-half months this past summer as a consultant in Montevideo, as a guest of the Uruguayan minister of education.

She praised Uruguayan teachers for their dedication, and noted that they are paid only about $60 a month.

One area in which Uruguay is advanced in the teaching of mentally retarded is the home teaching program, Mrs. Tunnard said.

"They have teachers who go into homes and work with parents and children, when the children are very young," she said. "When the child is four, he is admitted into the pre-school program."

In contrast, the Bay Area offers nothing from the time the child leaves the diagnostic center until he enters some kind of a program, Mrs. Tunnard said. "There is a lag between diagnosis and participating in a program."

The home teaching system in Uruguay gives support to the parents "and keeps the parents from rearing the child in a vacuum," she said.

"None of the home teachers have cars, and they must go by buses," she said.

Mrs. Tunnard said she was a consultant to the pre-school program and the diagnostic center, which serves the entire country.

"I gave them the framework and philosophy, in terms of what you do and in what way, in the pre-school program," she said. "I felt I learned a great deal."

Student Accepted In Honors Program

Stephen Yeazell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Yeazell, 21 Miller Avenue, Sausalito, has been accepted for the honors program at Swathmore College, Pennsylvania, which is designed to free students from classroom routine to undertake independent study.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Yeazell plans a major in English literature.

Halloween Fete In Terra Linda

Wanda the Witch will greet youngsters at the Terra Linda shopping center at 3:30 p.m. Oct. 29 for the start of a trek to the Terra Linda Recreation Center in a Holloween program sponsored by the recreation and parks district.

Costumes will be judged and prizes awarded after the parade.

The recreation center will also have UNICEF collection cartons for those participating in the children's relief fund collection on Halloween.

Comet's Brilliance Seen, But Not By Marin Viewers

HONOLULU (AP) — Blazing Ikeya-Seki, first comet in 83 years bright enough to be seen in daylight, whipped around the sun today and headed back into oblivion.

Astronomers here and on the American mainland watched the celestial spectacle across 93 million miles of space. Its 80,000-mile-diameter head was followed by a streaming 20-million-mile tail.

But its brilliance was mostly overpowered by the sun, which it approached to within 300,000 to 800,000 miles. Not one observer aboard a National Aeronautics and Space Administration jet plane saw the comet.

(Ikeya-Seki eluded would-be views in Marin again yesterday and this morning.

As elsewhere, the comet in the Bay Area was visible only with powerful viewing equipment.)

He called it "extremely bright — 1,000 times brighter than the planet Venus."

The comet left scientists puzzled by several mysteries. Delicate instruments detected internal heat and the presence of sodium, calcium and iron. Comets were believed to be cold and made up of nitrogen gas loosely combined with chunks of rock.

George Bunton, manager of the Bishop Museum Planetarium in Honolulu, said Ikeya-Seki was at least five times brighter than Venus and appeared to have a forked tail.

The report that pieces of the comet were breaking off came late yesterday from Lick Observatory near San Jose. Mt. Wilson Observatory, near Pasadena, had difficulty detecting it through the bright shimmer of an autumn heat wave.

Ship Radiomen's Strike Settled

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A five-day strike of ships radio operators on the West Coast was settled last night with agreement on a four-year pact, retroactive to June 16.

The agreement was negotiated by the Pacific Maritime Assn. and the AFL-CIO American Radio Assn. with the assistance of Roger L. Randall of the regional office of the Federal Mediation and Concilliation Service.

J. O. B. Short, a native of Kentucky, with his mother and brothers, came to San Rafael in 1847 and first lived in an old mission building where the courthouse square is now located. He built Short's Hall at the southeast corner of Fourth and C streets in the 1860s.

GETS SCHOLARSHIP —Charles H. Adams of 100 Bayo Vista Way, San Rafael, has received a two-year ROTC scholarship to the University of Wyoming in Laramie, one of two given at the school. He is a junior majoring in history.

Although Marin had no "pay dirt" during the gold rush, it profited far better than many sections where gold was mined. Many influential men in county and state government became permanent residents and were its best assets.

Comet's Brilliance Seen, But Not By Marin Viewers

HONOLULU (AP) — Blazing Ikeya-Seki, first comet in 83 years bright enough to be seen in daylight, whipped around the sun today and headed back into oblivion.

Astronomers here and on the American mainland watched the celestial spectacle across 93 million miles of space. Its 80,000-mile-diameter head was followed by a streaming 20-million-mile tail.

But its brilliance was mostly overpowered by the sun, which it approached to within 300,000 to 800,000 miles. Not one observer aboard a National Aeronautics and Space Administration jet plane saw the comet.

(Ikeya-Seki eluded would-be views in Marin again yesterday and this morning.

As elsewhere, the comet in the Bay Area was visible only with powerful viewing equipment.)

He called it "extremely bright — 1,000 times brighter than the planet Venus."

The comet left scientists puzzled by several mysteries. Delicate instruments detected internal heat and the presence of sodium, calcium and iron. Comets were believed to be cold and made up of nitrogen gas loosely combined with chunks of rock.

Tam Murder Suspect Nabbed After Months

Victim's Boy Friend 'Tired Of Running'

An emotionally upset and penitent 24-year-old dishwasher, sought for six months in the slaying of a girl whose body was dumped near Muir Woods in Marin County last April, was nabbed in San Francisco last night.

Virgilio L. Restauro was booked on suspicion of the gunshot and knifing death of Nonita Vicera, 16, of Daly City, and for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder. He was held in San Francisco City Prison without bail.

Leonard Shaw, assistant Marin County district attorney, said today there is "sufficient evidence to clearly establish that the crime was committed in San Francisco."

He added, however, that a murder complaint filed in Marin County shortly after the slaying will remain until jurisdiction is determined without a doubt.

FOUND ON ROAD

The girl's body was found April 19 on Muir Woods Road about a half mile from Panoramic Highway. Marin officers launched a search for Restauro, her fiance, who disappeared from his dishwashing job in San Francisco.

Sheriff's officers said Restauro had been doing odd jobs in the Bay Area and in Los Angeles area since that time. He was first heard from when he telephoned his sister-in-law, Venida Restauro, at her San Francisco home about 10:30 a.m. yesterday.

He declined to give his whereabouts, officers said. When his brother, Vincenzia Restauro, arrived home from work at 5 p.m., his wife told him of the call.

About 7 p.m., officers said, the suspect again phoned, talking to his brother. Following that call, police arrested him in the Gordon Hotel in San Francisco.

NOT ARMED

Marin law enforcement officers were notified. Sheriff Louis P. Mountanous; Ellis L. Seibert, chief deputy; Shaw of the district attorney's office, and Sheriff's Inspector Marco Melovich went to San Francisco City Prison and quizzed Restauro.

Sheriff Mountanous said Restauro, nervous and frequently holding his head in his hands, was quizzed about 45 minutes. He described him as "very cooperative."

Restauro told reporters at San

COURTHOUSE SQUARE, 1970? — Architect Robert W. F. Severin has proposed replacement of the present County Courthouse with a development of which this is a model, featuring a high-rise hotel and convention center built over a three-story underground parking garage, with a large store or office building on Fourth Street, lower right, and a series of small shops with a restaurant on top near Fourth and A streets. He said such a project would actually increase open space on the block. (Independent-Journal photo)

Another Fire In Mill Valley Is Blamed On An Arsonist

Fire which broke out at 3:34 a.m. today in a Mill Valley garage at 290 Marion Avenue was labeled arson by police.

It was the second fire in Mill Valley in less than a week laid to arsonist. The home of Pierre Arretche of 41 Locke Lane was gutted by an $8,000 fire last Saturday which Fire Chief Leslie Armager said had been deliberately set.

The garage, with a room above it, and a one-half ton Chevrolet pickup truck inside it were destroyed, firemen said. The untenanted property is believed to be owned by T. Secchitano, who recently moved away. His vacant home nearby was also threatened by the fire.

Armager estimated damage at $5,000.

A resident of Millside Lane told police at 3:50 a.m., that, while he and his wife were watching the fire, they saw a man apparently "feeding the fire." The man, hearing fire engines, ran from the scene, they said.

Another neighbor, David Armstrong of 300 Marion Avenue, said he arrived to see what he could do and saw a man standing in front of the fire. Armstrong said he asked the man to assist in finding whether anyone was inside the building, but as he entered, the man vanished.

Armstrong said he found a can of gasoline burning.

Arretche has reported that $100 was taken from his home, the money having been in a clothes closet in a plastic piggy bank. He also reported that entry had been made to his home by cutting the screen on the kitchen door.

San Rafael's Courthouse Square could have a high-rise hotel and convention center, a large store or office building, a group of small shops, a restaurant and a three-story garage and still look more like a park than it does now, San Rafael architect Robert W. F. Severin contends.

"What you would have is urban renewal in the middle of town without the bitter pill of dislocation of existing businesses," he said.

Severin, last year's president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, feels such a development is feasible and is badly needed if downtown San Rafael is to fight off competition from Northgate for customers.

It is his proposed solution to the "what to do with the courthouse square?" problem that is plaguing county supervisors, who must sell the property to raise funds to help pay for the expensive second stage of the Civic Center.

As for proposals to preserve the present courthouse when courts are moved to the new wing of the Civic Center in three

One Bullet From Dark Just Misses

Some one on a darkened hill near Paradise Drive in Corte Madera at 7:40 p.m. yesterday fired one bullet in the direction of a group of salesmen standing in the J and B Ford Sales Co. used car lot at 5860 Paradise Drive.

Sales Manager Stewart A. Stevens said the bullet was so close that he and the two other salesmen heard it whiz past them and slam into nearby wall.

Police found the slug, caliber as yet unknown, near where the men had been standing.

Speeders Sentenced To Emergency Room

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Mounicipal Court has levied two speeding penalties which are unique in Marin County—each defendant is to spend two Saturday evenings in the emergency room of a hospital to witness wreck victims.

Robert Bruce Michels, 19, San Lorenzo, and Nancy Lee Taylor, 18, of 10 Harbor Vista Drive, Mill Valley, both pleaded guilty to going 90 miles an hour in a 65 mile-an-hour one near the Richmond-San Rafael bridge last Sept. 5. Michels also was charged with following too closely.

Judge Smith placed Michels on six months probation, suspended his driving privileges for 15 days, and directed him to spend Oct. 23 and 30 from 7 p.m. until 10:30 p.m. at Marin General Hospital.

Miss Taylor also was placed on six months probation. Her driving privileges were suspended 30 days. She is to visit the hospital on the evenings of Nov. 6 and 13.

Judge Smith said the experiment is because mere fines often are paid by parents, causing no hardship on the offenders and jail sentences are not necessarily warranted.

"This (the hospital vigil) might have a salutary effect on youngsters," he commented.

Bug-Bothered Girl Driver Kills One

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Miss Sharon Murdock leaned over to swat the bug crawling on her leg, her car swerved, hitting seven pedestrians in a crosswalk.

Mrs. LaVerne Shaver, 54, of Los Angeles, died later at a hospital. Beatrice Hayward, 30, of Pasadena, suffered a broken leg. The other five suffered cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Shaver and four of the others were members of a jury returning to duty from lunch.

Remap Measure Goes To Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature obeyed the State Supreme Court's order today and voted overwhelmingly for a historic reapportionment of Senate and Assembly districts.

The bill cleared the Senate and then got a 52-8 vote in the Assembly. But house leaders held the roll open to get an even bigger vote.

But only 41 votes were needed in the Assembly, so passage was assured.

A month-long stalemate crumbled as the Senate ,and then the Assembly, approved the bill that gives Southern California's growing, populous counties control of both houses.

The Senate, now controlled by Northern Californians, will shift to the hands of southerners as its districts — now drawn along county lines — are recreated on a population basis.

The Assembly districts already are formed by population, but a few did not meet the court's requirement that each legislator must represent substantially the same number of people.

First the Senate — with its members still objecting to the high court's rule — passed the bill 28-9.

School Fund Embezzling Is Charged

The secretary of the Fairfax School District was booked in Marin County Jail today on suspicion of embezzling $7,500 in school district funds.

Mrs. Frances May Borresen, 48, of 44-B Ash Avenue, San Anselmo, allegedly started falsifying her own overtime records in February, 1962, the district attorney's office said. She has collected numerous overtime checks highest being a monthly total of $500, for hours not worked, the district attorney claimed.

Mrs. Borreson has been financial secretary of the district since 1960. Her salary is now $6,600 a year.

She is the wife of Borge Borsesen, a Novato auto salesman, and has two children.

District attorney's investigators were called into the case when fellow employees became suspicious of her purported overtime, said Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

Fund Soliciting Of Klan Probed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House investigators said today that a Ku Klux Klan leader sought to solicit funds from his members with a plea that "money was coming in slow" even though the group had banked more than $5,000 within a month and a half.

James Robertson Jones, grand dragon of the North Carolina Branch of the United Klans of America, Inc., invoked the Fifth Amendment when asked about the funds at a hearing before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Jones, returning to the witness chair for the third day of the Klan hearings, declined to answer any questions. He based his refusal on his constitutional rights, including the plea against possible self-incrimination.

FBI Informer Retells Dixie Killing Story

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Gary Thomas Rowe, a Klan member turned FBI informer, testified today that Collie Leroy Wilkins fired the shots which killed a white civil rights worker in Lowndes County last March 25.

Rowe said Wilkins, a 21-year-old mechanic from Fairfield, Ala., fired at least six shots into the car driven by Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, a Detroit housewife and mother of five. A Negro youth, Leroy Moton, was a passenger in the car.

The red-haired informer said he rode with Wilkins and two other Klansmen as they sped past the Liuzzo car on U.S. highway 80 about 20 miles from Selma, Ala., after 8 p.m.

"The first thing I knew, Wilkins stuck his arm out the window. He had a pistol in his hand. . ." Rowe said that Wilkins told Eugene Thomas, the driver of the car, "little brother, give it the gas."

"Just as he sped up, the woman in the other car turned and looked into our car. As she looked, Wilkins started firing. To the best of my knowledge, he fired six times, two in rapid succession."

Rowe said the fourth Klansman in the car, William O. Eaton, also fired from the car with a .22 caliber pistol.

Rowe said he also had a loaded pistol in his hand but did not fire it, although Eaton ordered him to.

30 Arrested In Vineyard Due Release

Thirty persons arrested on unlawful assembly in a strike in a Kern County vineyard were to be released from jail today, with trial tentatively set for Nov. 10.

Seven Marinites were among 44 arrested. It was not learned here how many of them were among 30 who remained in jail this morning.

Included among the arrested persons were eight or nine clergymen, of whom two are from Marin Rev. Donald M. Schilling of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Marin City (whose name was dropped in type from the story in yesterday's Independent-Journal), and Rev. Jack Bartlett of Mill Valley Community Methodist Church.

A third Marin clergymen reportedly arrested, Rev. Richard B. Hoadley, said today he was not arrested although he was present "and would gladly have gone to jail." Rev. Hoadley is former minister of Point Reyes Station Community Methodist Church and now pastor of both Stinson Beach Community Presbyterian Church and Calvary Presbyterian Church at Bolinas.

Other Marinites arrested were Ted Peck, a student at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, Pat Hansen and Valerie Hogan of Marin City, and Sid Cogswell of Strawberry.

About 100 striking grape pickers knelt on the steps of the Kern County Jail in Bakersfield last night in a "prayer vigil"

President Johnson Returns To Chores At White House

Before leaving the hospital he visited for a few minutes in a ward where Marines wounded in Viet Nam were under treatment.

"Tell all your families, your wives, your mother and father the President of your country is mighty proud of you," Johnson told the men.

Before he left the hospital, Johnson had been given a new clearance to depart.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers, announcing Johnson's plans, said the President's doctors saw their patient this morning and "they gave him a full green light and he decided to leave."

RICHARD P. FEYNMAN

ROBERT BURNS WOODWARD
Chemistry winner

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1965 Nobel Prize for physics was awarded today to two Americans and a Japanese, and the prize for chemistry went to another American.

The Royal Swedish Academy of Science announced that the physics award was given jointly to Julian Schwinger of Harvard, Richard Feynman of the California Institute of Technology, and Sin-Itiro Tomonago of Japan. The three will share equally in the $55,000 prize money.

It announced the chemistry prize of 282,000 kroner (about $55,000) went to Prof. Robert Burns Woodward, also of Harvard University at Cambridge, Mass., a pioneer in synthesis of chlorophyll.

The citation for the three physics winners said the award was for "their fundamental work in quantum electrodynamics, with deep-ploughing consequences for the physics of elementary particles."

The academy, made up of 140 Swedish and 108 foreign members, said of the chemistry award:

"Woodward has carried out a number of difficult syntheses of complicated organic compounds within the last two decades. Among those which have commanded considerable attention are his very revealing experiments to build up peptides in the field of protein chemistry and his successful syntheses of sterols, substances that play an important role in the metabolism of the human body."

Prof. Woodward, born in Boston in 1917, began his university studies at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and won a doctor's degree in chemistry in 1937.

Of the three physics winners, Tomonago, 59, is the oldest. For several years he has headed a group of researchers in the field of theoretical physics at Tokyo University of Education, a branch of Tokyo University.

Schwinger and Feynman are both 47, and both were born in New York City.

Feynman studied at the Massachcusetts Institute of Technology and took his doctor's degree at Princeton in 1942. During the war he worked partly at Princeton and partly at the nuclear research laboratory at Los Alamos, N.M.

Byers was second at 1738.

Helicopters Reinforce Besieged Viet Garrison

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. helicopters delivered several companies of reinforcements to the besieged garrison at Plei Me today, and the Viet Cong attacks began to diminish in size and ferocity, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

The defenders of the Special Forces camp in the central highlands reported seeing at least 90 enemy bodies. Government casualties were described as light after two days of fighting.

Farther north, in Quang Tri Province, a U.S. Army officer escaped today from the Viet Cong after being held captive for several hours, the spokesman announced.

The officer, identified as Capt. Robert F. Hopper, 29, whose wife lives at Winter Haven, Fla., was the senior adviser to a South Vietnamese battalion.

He apparently was captured when Viet Cong guerrillas hit a government outpost near the provincial capital of Quang Tri City, 140 miles north of Saigon. The enemy force penetrated an artillery position and blew up an ammunition bunker.

Eight Americans were reported killed in two helicopter crashes in the Plei Me area 210 miles northeast of Saigon. The Viet Cong shot one helicopter down yesterday. A spokesman said mechanical failure caused the second crash today, but it was not known if this aircraft was directly involved in the Plei Me action.

The Special Forces camp was defended by about 300 Montagnard tribesmen and 10 to 12 U.S. advisers when large numbers of Viet Cong attacked Tuesday night. U.S. and South Vietnamese planes pounded the Viet Cong constantly, and at night flare ships lit up the field of fire around the triangular defense positions.

The air strikes helped five American advisers and a Vietnamese unit to return to the camp through the enemy positions during the fighting. The force had been outside the camp on an operation when the Viet Cong attacked.

During the night the guerrillas pounded the camp with mortars and recoilless rifles. By day they used machine-gun and small-arms fire.

Temblor Hits Eight States In Midwest

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A moderately strong earthquake rumbled across the Midwest Wednesday night, shaking at least eight states. No injuries or serious damage were reported, but a scientist said the quake would have been disastrous if it had been centered in a city.

The quake started at 9:01 p.m. and lasted for 14 minutes on the seismograph at St. Louis University. However, residents of Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee felt it only for a few seconds.

Dr. Carl Kisslinger, chairman of the geophysics department at St. Louis University, said the quake was recorded at between 4.5 and 5 on the Richter scale. The disastrous Alaskan earthquake of 1964 hit 8.4 on the scale.

"There's no doubt about it," said Kisslinger, "it was an earthquake, and it was a significant earthquake for this part of the world. If the center had been under a city, there would have been a lot of damage."

Kisslinger said the quake was significant because this type of quake — felt over such a large area and with such intensity — is not common in the Midwest. However, the wide span is characteristic of Midwestern tremors, Kisslinger said, and added that there was no reason to think more quakes might follow.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Marie (The Body) McDonald Dies

Officers said they were called by Miss McDonald's husband, Donald F. Taylor, who found the body.

The death of the blonde, beautiful, curvaceous actress-singer ended a career that was one of Hollywood's most flamboyant—but, for all the headlines she made, least successful.

Her name was not often up in lights, but it went up in type in January of 1957 when she disappeared from her Encino home.

She turned up 24 hours later about 100 miles away in Indio, when a truck driver found her on the desert.

During the lengthy investigations that followed she said she had been kidnaped from her home Jan. 4 by two men who spirited her away and then dumped her.

A kidnap note found in the actress' mail box was made of words clipped from newspapers. Both newspapers were found in Miss McDonald's fireplace.

Brown Refuses To Intervene Over Protests

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Protests organized at the University of California against the Viet Nam war aren't reason enough for the state to intervene as requested by local officials, Gov. Brown says.

The governor replied yesterday to a request from Oakland Mayor John C. Houlihan that he take "positive intervention" to prevent organization of demonstrations against U.S. policies in Viet Nam.

Brown said: "I have neither the authority nor the inclination to usurp the powers under which the Board of Regents has traditionally operated the university as an independent center of learning, protected from political pressures by law and by custom. There is no evidence that the time has come to depart from this tradition."

In another development, a Republican who wants to take over Brown's job called for demonstrations backing U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Laughlin Waters of Los Angeles, the only announced candidate in next June's GOP gubernatorial primary, said:

"A vast outpouring of real Americans will do much to put the lie to the international propaganda handed to the Reds on a platter by the few thousands who made it a weekend of shame . . . Show our men in Viet Nam where America's heart is."

He said the government should set the time and place of the favorable demonstrations.

Medic Alert Second Annual Drive Starts

Marin Life Underwriters Assn. is sponsoring its second annual campaign to promote the use of "Medic Alert" emblems, designed to save the lives of those with a special or hidden medical problem in an emergency.

Marin County supervisors have proclaimed this as Medic Alert month in Marin and the underwriters are distributing information and application forms throughout the county.

Diabetics, epileptics, persons subject to blackout or allergic to penicillin "and many others" can be helped by wearing the Medic Alert emblem, reported Nicholas J. Dollwet, chairman of the life underwriters Medic Alert committee.

The purpose is to encourage people to wear permanent identification of special medical problems that should be known in times of emergency.

There are Medic Alert bracelets and neck tags that carry the emblem, the nature of the person's medical problem and the emergency telephone number of the Medic Alert central answering file in Turlock, Stanislaus County.

When there is an emergency, an attending physician or "other authorized personnel" can call the Medic Alert Foundation collect and get the information on file about the person's medical problem. The foundation, a nonprofit organization, operates its emergency telephone call system 24 hours a day.

"There were 56 orders from Marin last year," Dollwet said. "We have already had one instance where one of these 56 bracelets kept a man from being jailed in Reno," he said. The man, who had a brain injury, was arrested as a drunk, but when his Medic Alert tag was noted, he was given medical treatment, Dollwet said.

Association members have distributed Medic Alert pamphlets, including applications to police and fire stations, doctors, hospitals, ambulance companies and some drug stores to make them available to the public, Dolwett said.

Working with Dollwet on the committee are Allan Birch, Bryce Ashton, A. W. Bryant Jr., Carroll Walker and Meade Padgett.

Tiburon Council Meeting Called On Marincello

At the request of Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood, a special meeting of the Tiburon City Council has been called tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Del Mar School to discuss the proposed City of Marincello.

The proposal has been passed by the Marin County Planning Commission and goes before the county board of supervisors on Monday.

The Tiburon City Council last year refused to take a stand on the controversial issue of whether a city should be built on the headlands above the City of Sausalito.

Councilmen are expected also to approve a request for $17.500 in federal assistance for the city's general plan, to be presented by planners Williams, Cook and Mocine.

Novato License Tag Earns Las Vegas Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome London of 40 Eames Court, Novato, will vacation for three days in Las Vegas as winners of the grand prize in the Independent-Journal's "Lucky License" giveaway.

Mrs. London's name was drawn from the 15 daily winners in a drawing late yesterday.

She said today that when they will take the trip is not yet decided. London is a purser for Matson Lines, and Mrs. London is studying landscape architecture at University of California, so he must get time away from work and she from studies to make the trip.

They will fly to Las Vegas by Western Air Lines, stay at the Flamingo Hotel, take in four major shows there, and have all expenses paid by the Independent-Journal. The trip was arranged through Redwood Travel Advisors.

Mrs. London won the first $35 prize in the 18-day daily giveaway to persons whose auto license plates, with I-J "Marin's Best Seller" bumper strips, were photographed by a mystery photographer. There were 15 winners because on three days during the giveaway, no claimant appeared.

Sailors Arrested, One Escapes In Auto Spree

Two sailors were arrested and a third escaped early today in Marin County following an evening's spree which allegedly involved stealing three cars.

Booked in county jail for investigation of auto theft was William Rex Neal Jr., 19. A 17-year-old companion was taken to juvenile hall. The third youth was still being sought at noon today.

Sheriff's officers said the trio reportedly found a 1958 Chevrolet with ignition keys in it in San Francisco, and drove it to Champagne Hut at Dolan's Corner in Marin County.

This car was abandoned off Tennessee Valley Road near Pine Hill Road in Tamalpais Valley. Minutes later the three were nabbed in a 1954 Ford station wagon owned by Mrs. Robert W. Davidson, 316 Ross Drive, Tamalpais Valley, driving without lights.

Officers said the car taken from San Francisco is registered to Son-Neel Products Co., Oakland, and was being driven by Joan Flor McNabb of San Francisco.

Another youth, John Thomas Janssen, 18, San Francisco, was also booked in Marin County jail last night for investigation of car theft. Deputies said a courthouse janitor, Ronald Storrs, saw the youth in an automobile owned by C. S. Dean, courthouse watchman, parked in a courthouse parking lot.

Storrs approached the youth, who fled.

A radio alert was given and San Rafael police spotted Janssen hiding in bushes near B Street and Fifth Avenue minutes later. Janssen was being held in lieu of $1,100 bail today.

Peter Goldstein Still Unconscious, Critical

Peter L. Goldstein, 31, San Anselmo publicist and political campaign manager, remained near death today in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital with injuries suffered when a car fell on his auto in a freak accident Tuesday on the Waldo Grade.

Goldstein, of 65 Alder Avenue, San Anselmo, was still unconscious with severe head injuries and cuts and bruises over most of his body, reported the hospital.

Nicasio, located in Marin's San Geronimo Valley, at one time hoped to be the Marin County seat and a square piece of land set aside for the courthouse still remains.

San Anselmo Woman Driver Fined $166

Peggy Frances Eltringham, 48, of 137 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, was fined $166 and placed on a year's probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

She was arrested July 19 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

Bahia Vista School Bids Are Opened

Five bids for construction of San Rafael's Bahia Vista School were opened yesterday by school officials.

The San Rafael Board of Education must make a key decision on sewer lines to the school, however, before it can decide which of two firms is the low bidder.

School business mgr. Charles L. Condrotte said the lowest base bid, $424,382, came from Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross. But the award could go to Todd Construction Co. of Oakland, whose base bid was $428,400.

The elementary district has been negotiating with Kerner-Bellam Realty Co. to share the cost of running the sewer line under Napa Street near the school. Todd and Zoellner's bids stipulate they would lower the cost if Kerner-Bellam agrees.

Todd, however, would cut the price by $16,000, while Zoellner would reduce it only $7,000. Thus Todd would be low bidder if Kerner-Bellam agrees and Zoellner if the firm does not.

Condrotte said he hopes to complete negotiations with Kerner-Bellam by Tuesday's meeting of the board.

Other bidders were Fostmeier Construction of Petaluma, $450,000; Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco, $438,500; and Peter Sartorio Inc. of Colma, $441,428.

Caesar Chavez, director of the National Farm Workers Assn., one of two unions striking for higher pay for grape pickers, said there were no incidents at the prayer vigil and they were not asked to leave.

Thirty-four demonstrators arraigned yesterday in Delano Justice Court pleaded innocent and asked for jury trials, Associated Press reported. Judge I. Frank Kitchen set Nov. 10 as tentative date for a mass trial.

Picketing continued today and another two tons of food arrived for the strikers from Mexican-American groups outside the strike area, said Chavez.

The National Farm Workers Assn. and AFL-CIO Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee are asking $1.40 hourly wage and a 25-cent piece rate in the vineyard. The strike, in its sixth week, involves 30 ranches covering 40 square miles.

The demonstrators were arrested as they shouted "huelga, huelga" to non-striking grape pickers after being ordered by a sheriff's officers to disperse.

In Sacramento today, Assemblyman Philip L. Soto, a Democrat from La Puente, Los Angeles County, called on Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch to end what he termed discriminatory law enforcement in Kern County.

Soto wrote Lynch that he as "received numerous reports of the most biased law enforcement imaginable going on in the San Joaquin Valley," and that he visited the Kern County strikers "and heard of some terrible crimes being committed against them."

Morrissey Nomination Returns To Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in an emotional speech to the Senate, asked today that Francis X. Morrissey's nomination for a judgeship be sent back to the Judiciary Committee.

The nomination then was sent back to the committee. This appeared to kill the nomination for this session of Congress but President Johnson could resubmit it at the next session in January.

Kennedy made his surprise request shortly after the controversial nominaton was called up for action in the Senate.

Appearing near tears and his voice breaking at one point, Kennedy said "I am satisfied that a full and complete record, made with care and deliberation, will uphold my judgment (of Morrissey) to the satisfaction of any fair-minded man."

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, heading the opposition to Morrissey, had himself planned to propose recommittal.

Kennedy told the Senate he is satisfied that a full record will result in Morrissey's confirmation "by a greatly increased majority" and that Morrissey "will be a credit to the federal judiciary."

Morrissey, 55, has been a Boston Municipal Court judge for the last seven years, but his nomination has come under attack on the ground he is not qualified for the federal bench.

years, he terms these "unrealistic."

"Everybody has just been talking dreams and waving their arms around," said Severin.

"If the people of Marin want a museum that will cost a million and a half dollars, then they can have one. But they won't be able to sell things out of that building. No one is going to climb all those stairs."

Severin said the cost of refurbishing the old courthouse would be about the same as rebuilding it, and that building an underground parking lot while retaining the present building would be prohibitive.

Dan Coleman Associates has been hired by the City of San Rafael to study the courthouse square area for possible uses. Severin said if it appears possible to launch a major commercial venture, the city should start looking for investors.

In his plan, the three-story underground parking area would be in the north half of the block, with the high rise building over it.

Macy's department store could be allowed to expand into its present parking lot to the rear of the store on Fourth and Court Streets, and a shoppers' tunnel under Court Street would connect it to the underground parking, he suggests.

Near Fourth Street in the square, a series of small shops could be built, but they should be set far back from the street, to keep the park-like effect of the square, Severin went on.

"You must keep the park-like atmosphere," he said, "or the developer would be crucified right in the middle of Fourth Street."

A store or office building could go on the corner of Fourth and Court streets, separated from the shops by a grand stairway. Above the shops, a small restaurant would be located, with open air rooftop tables.

A convention center seems to be needed in Marin, Severin said, and it probably should be downtown, near shops and entertainment for visitors. There would have to be high-rise in order to have enough floor space for the investment and still to save open area.

The zoning would have have to be carefully chosen to give the city tight control over what is built, the architect went on. He said that action is needed quickly, to insure that the land is not subdivided into small parcels, killing plans for a unified development.

Severin said he intends to show his plans to the San Rafael City Council soon to seek support. He did not estimate the cost of the project, but said doors could be opened in four or five years.

Francisco police headquarters: "I am very sorry about her death. It was an accident."

Officers said the death is believed to have occurred in Restauro's car while it was parked in a San Francisco commercial garage over the Easter weekend. A pool of blood was found in the car and on the ramp where the vehicle was left for two days. They speculated at the time that the girl's slayer had then driven to Marin County and discarded the body on the hillside.

Coroner Confirms Death Suspicions

Suspicions were confirmed today that a 36-year-old blind and paralyzed San Rafael man took his own life Sept. 17 at San Rafael General Hospital, reported Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley.

Robert Milden of 115 Clayton Street, San Rafael, died of barbiturate poisoning after taking an overdose of capsules which had been secreted to him by a friend, said Bradley.

Milden had been despondent over ill health for a long time, said Bradley.

Ullner Conservatives Drop GOP Association

Frederick L. Ullner of Santa Venetia announced today that his organization, Republicans for Conservative Action, has withdrawn from the Republican Party and dropped the party's name from its own.

Ullner, executive director of the organization, said the decision was made during a meeting of the policy committee at his home at 296 La Brea Way, Santa Venetia, yesterday. The name is now the Conservative Action Committee, he said.

Stanford Safe Case Testimony Wound Up

The prosecution and defense both rested their case yesterday in the San Francisco trial of five men accused of trying to burglarize the home of Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) in April.

Final arguments were slated to begin today. The case is expected to go to the jury of seven men and five women some time next week.

Prosecution wound up with police criminologist John Williams identifying the handwriting on a slip of paper as that of defendant Winston Major, 51.

The paper, which bore Mrs. Omen's address and telephone number, was found in the wallet of another defendant, police officer Salvatore Polani, 44, the night of the crime.

Polani had testified that the writing was that of Point Reyes Station contractor Robert K. Worthington, who had been credited with tipping police about the burglary plot. Polani claimed he took part in the burglary to trap Worthington, whom he named as mastermind in the scheme.

Another prosecution witness was jeweler Frank Koplovitz, who testified that a diamond bracelet said to be in Polani's possession was stolen from his store in a 1963 burglary.

A final defense witness was Major, who testified Tuesday that Polani talked him into the burglary while he was partly intoxicated.

Cross-examined by Asst. Dist. Atty. Walter Giubbini, Major told how he had "asked an officer for a drink" after he and the other four men were arrested in the Owen home. Major said he noticed a bar there with a "lot of whiskey."

"He refused," said Major. "He said it didn't belong to him."

Giubbini asked Major if inspector William Armstrong, one of the arresting officers, had inquired what he was doing there.

"Oh yes," he replied. "I said it was evident we came to burgle the place."

Tomales High Unificatioin Voted Again

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization last night again recommended unification of the entire Tomales High School District.

The recommendation to the State Board of Education was approved by 7-3 vote at a meeting at Tomales High School.

Those who dissented said they thought the district would not provide a large enough student body, reported Robert Stannard, assistant secretary for the committee.

The State Board of Education has turned down the Tomales unification proposal three times, mainly for the same reason.

Committee members all endorsed a request that both the Tomales proposal and the three-district unification plan for the Tamalpais High School District area not be considered by the state board until February.

Stannard explained that the county committee last month agreed' to take up the entire county, plus those portions of Sonoma County in the Tomales district, as a study area. This study could result in a new proposal or proposals, he said.

Telephone Union Men Get Raise

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After a month of negotiations the Pacific Telephone Co. and the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America have reached a new wage agreement yesterday.

Negotiations were specified for this year in the 38-month contract signed two years ago.

Aging Muir Beach Water Tanks Due Replacement

Two old water tanks, termed hazardous, on the hill above Sunset Way in Muir Beach will be drained and demolished, Muir Beach Community Services District directors decided last night.

Action came after the board was told residents have complained that the tanks might burst, board president Jack F. Harris reported.

The board voted to purchase a new 50,000-gallon redwood tank as replacement.

Directors wrote Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel, and the Marin Municipal Water District board asking them to proceed with a preliminary survey of Muir Beach water. This is to be followed by a report on feasibility of the beach village tying into Marin Municipal Water District.

Director Albert Vidart was absent.

GOP Chieftain Deplores Ullner 'Angels' Support

Frederick L. Ullner of Santa Venetia, who set up a group called the "Friends of the Hell's Angels," drew official fire today from the state chairman of the Republican Central Committee.

Dr. Gaylord B. Parkinson declared in San Diego:

"Fred Ullner and the so-called Republicans for Conservative Action are not acting as spokesmen for the Republican Party of California.

"Once and for all, let me make this crystal clear; the official Republican leadership strongly disapproves of Ullner's actions and the actions of his group.

"I am shocked to learn that Ullner, a man apparently dedicated to the enforcement of law and order, has supported any group which consistently takes the law into its own hands."

Household Items Lost To Burglar

Loss of household items and other articles in a burglary of the home of Lloyd Raymond Richards, 28 Idylwood Road, Kent Woodlands, was reported Tuesday by sheriff's officers.

Richards told deputies entry was by forcing a large hinged window and the house was ransacked. Loot included three frying pans, two pillows, linen, a .45 automatic pistol, a typewriter, a radio, a camera, and two electric razors.

Sanitary Unit Mails Checks For Refunds

Residents of the Hawthorne Terrace and Little Reed Heights areas of Tiburon should keep an eye on their mail boxes the next couple of days.

Tuesday night the Richardson Bay Sanitary District board authorized mailing of refund checks from surplus funds for a special assessment district, board secretary Alfred O. Pratesi reported.

Total surplus in the sewer facilities job completed last July was $19,000. Pratesi stressed that only property owners who paid in cash will receive checks. Average refund is about $45 on an average assessment of about $900.

The board heard from the district engineer that work on the Strawberry Point project to connect the Harbor Point Eichler development and the Salt Works Canal pumping station should begin within a few days.

Seminarian Reports Burglary In Office

Wilbur Russell, a music instructor at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, told San Anselmo police yesterday that someone broke into his office at Bolinas and Richmond roads and stole some keys and a stapler.

The culprit entered by forcing a window during the weekend, he said.

Draft Quotas Up; Recruiting's Easy

Recent step-ups in draft calls have sent many young Marinites bustling off to local armed services recruitment offices to shop for the "better deal" which enlistment might offer them.

"We signed up 23 men last month—an all-time record for the Marin County office," Sgt. Roy Hill, Army recruiting officer, reported today.

"When they find out that we can guarantee studying for them in programs of their choice, many decide to volunteer for service for three years rather than going into the Army through the draft for two years," he said.

Col. Frank W. Morrow, director of Army recruiting for Western states, has reported a 20 per cent rise in enlistments last month compared to September of 1964. The report attributes the rise to "the desire to serve the country in time of need," "the effect of increased draft calls," and "an increased awareness of better opportunities through voluntary enlistments."

Said Sergeant Hill: "I had the office painted yesterday, thinking that we wouldn't have anyone coming in. Instead about 18 boys trooped in. We had to open up an inside room."

Most of the (Army) draftees, according to Hill, are being sent to Viet Nam.

Navy Chief Recruiting Officer Donald W. Kimball reported inquiries about Navy enlistment programs up about 35 per cent, with actual enlistments up about 15 per cent.

The Navy is drafting men for the first time since the Korean War. Two Mill Valley men were drafted for naval service last month, said Kimball.

"When they hear that they are going to be drafted anyway, they go around to the recruiting stations, shopping for the best program. That's good. We encourage comparison," said Kimball.

Air Force enlistments in recent months have reached the maximum training capacity available, placing recruiting on "restricted flow," reported recruiter Sgt. Erhardt Bonkowski.

With a limit of seven enilstments acceptable for this month, Bonkowski expects to have to turn away at least eight qualified men who are seeking to join the Air Force.

In contrast to tight quotas on Air Force enlistments, Marine recruiting has been greatly stepped up by the Marine Corps, reported Sgt. James E. Adams, recruiter.

"We were just told to get out and sign up as many qualified men as we can," said Adams. Marin County men who have enlisted in the Marines recently exceed last year's recruits by about 20 per cent, he said.

Draft statistics in Marin help explain the increased interest in enlistment. Fifty-two men will be drafted from the country this month, compared with three last October. Draft quota for November is 38, compared to 11 last year, reported Selective Service Bureau Local Board 25.

Neighbors Win Against Variance

The Corte Madera Board of Adjustments last night agreed with the protests of seven residents of Morningside Drive and denied a request for several variances by J. A. Ribeiro, who wishes to construct a home at 208 Morningside Drive.

The variance most strenuously objected to was lack of setback for a carport where 20 feet are normally required.

Woman Held After Police Find Pills

San Rafael police arrived at the Payless Drug Store last night just in time to see Margaret Ann (Bunny) Stevenson walking down the aisle carrying a bag with a bottle of pep pills.

They arrested her and charged her with obtaining the drug with a phony prescription. The 25-year-old woman, who lives at 39 Hillview Street, San Rafael, was booked into Marin County Jail and released on $276 bail, scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Druggist Emanuel N. Weber called police from the store at 866 Fourth Street and said the woman had, a week earlier, used a phone call, saying she was a woman physician, as a ruse to obtain the drug, and now was asking to have the same prescription refilled.

Police reported that as they arrived at the store, they saw Mrs. Stevenson pass a slip of paper, later found to be the prescription, to a companion, Donld Zacchine, 38, who refused to give his address but who was not held.

Mrs. Stevenson admitted she had phoned the store on Oct. 7 and identified herself as Dr. Virginia Barnes to order the drugs, police said. The prescription was for 50 spansules containing 15 milligrams each.

Two Women's Purses Stolen From Truck

Loss of two women's handbags containing about $20 cash and some papers was reported by sheriff's officer yesterday in a burglary of the pickup truck of Paul Alan Rilla, 16 Lorraine Street, Point Reyes Station.

Marin Schools Eye Federal Aid Puzzle

School district in Marin County can receive up to $402,250.64 under the new Public Law 89-10, but the distribution among the districts announced by the federal government was under serious question today.

The federal law is designed to aid in education of children from low income families.

The way the funds would be distributed in Marin presents an enigma, county school officials said. Sausalito School District, which includes the low-income Marin City, eligible for only $12,128.16, while several other districts, including Kentfield, San Anselmo, Mill Valley, Reed and West Marin, would receive far more.

Kenneth Lowry, assistant superintendent of Sausalito School District, said today that inquiries on the distribution are being pressed on the county superintendent of schools office, the state department of education and the federal government.

"We can't see the reason in it," Lowry said. "We are not going to rest with $12,000."

Neighboring Mill Valley School District would receive the most of any elementary district under the program, $42,701.23.

Distribution, Lowry explained, was based on the 1960 federal census. Number of children ages 5-17 in families with annual income under $2,000 and number of children on welfare or in foster homes were the factors for distribution.

Asst. County Schools Supt. Robert Stannard said the districts must come up with a program for use of the money before the grants will be made. The programs also have to be approved by the state.

Other allocations available are:

Bolinas-Stinson, $1,263.35; Dixie, $11,370.15; Fairfax, $13,138.84; Kentfield, $19,455.59; Lagunitas, $5,558.74; Larkspur, $22,234.76; Point Reyes, $1,010.68; Reed, $19,455.59; Ross, $6,822.09; San Anselmo, $27,635.69; San Rafael Elementary, $13,644.18; Tomales Bay, $10,359.47 and West Marin, $19,455.59.

San Rafael High, $9,854.13; Tamalpais High, $69,989; Tomales High, $14,654.16, and Novato Unified, $82,117.75.

Youth Treated For Knife Cuts

Robert Douglas Bullock, 51, of 184 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, told Mill Valley police he surprised Grayson in his home on returning from a camping trip.

He said he drew a hunting knife from its sheath and slashed Grayson as the youth ran out of the house.

In Newport, R.I. on August 28, 1904, the first motorist in the United States to be jailed for speeding was given a five-day sentence for driving his car between 15 and 20 miles per hour.

Household Item Taken From Home

Burglars, who might have an eye towards setting up housekeeping of their own, stole more than 40 items worth over $1,500 from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Bare at 570 Chapman Drive, Corte Madera, yesterday.

Gisele Bare was the last to leave the home, at 10:40 a.m. When she returned from a day of shopping and visiting at 3 p.m., she noticed that her $180 marble coffee table was gone. She called police.

Police discovered the thieves entered by prying open sliding glass doors at the rear of the home.

Mrs. Bare, after a hurried inventory, reported the culprits had taken furniture, linens, jewelry, cameras, and electrical appliances.

Police inspector Harold Hockett said today the burglary perhaps was the work of "someone looking to set up housekeeping of their own or a party pad."

He pointed out that while the thieves took luxury items such as jewelry and cameras, they also stole a vacuum cleaner, bedding, a toaster, furniture and other standard household items.

Congress Sends Johnson Huge Education Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent President Johnson an education bill that would give the nation's colleges a $2,387,000,000 shot in the arm while establishing three landmark programs.

The measure far exceeds the President's recommendations, but he is expected to sign it and set in motion for the first time in the nation's history:

1. A program of federal scholarships to help young people from low-income families attend college.

2. A system of federally insured state and private loans to assist college students from middle-income families.

3. The dispatch of a National Teacher Corps to poverty-stricken areas in a bootstrap attempt to lift education standards.

The Teacher Corps was the major item in dispute as the bill made its final run yesterday through Congress.

A Republican attempt to drop the corps from the legislation failed in the House 226-152. The House then passed the bill by a vote of 312-63. A few hours later the Senate gave it voice-vote approval.

Most of the programs included in the authorization would be covered for three years.

Who Owns Limantour Spit Dunes?

A federal trial is under way in San Francisco to determine the ownership of shifting sand dunes forming the Limantour Spit off Point Reyes Peninsula.

The legal dispute arose after the Department of Interior condemned the three-mile long spit for inclusion in the Point Reyes National Seashore.

A land development company, Drake's Beach Estates, has claimed ownership of the spit and contends that the area has a value in excess of a million dollars.

Drake's Beach Estates claims that the disputed acreage should be in the land and company purchased and developed up to the boundaries of the spit. But title is clouded because a shifting sand dune, such as the Limantour Spit, may be formed or swept away by a single storm, or built up over a period of many years.

The original Spanish land grant was surveyed by the federal government in 1858. A deed to the land and a description of it were then handed over to Andrew Randell, who sold portions to several buyers. Eventually, the area came under the ownership of Drake's Beach Estates.

The dispute is being heard by U.S. District Court Judge Lloyd H. Burke, who must determine whether the spit existed at the time of the 1858 survey, and if so, whether it was in the deed obtained by Randall.

The government maintains the spit was not yet formed 107 years ago and was not included in Randall's deed.

Don Timoteo Murphy's hacienda, the first house in San Rafael, aside from the mission buildings, was a two-story adobe and stood at what is now the northwest corner of Fourth and C streets. It served for many years as Marin County's courthouse.

Ghana Speaker Says U.N. Is World Hope

Mrs. Alexander Quaison-Sackey, wife of Ghana's foreign minister, cheerfully talked about cocoa last night, but diplomatically refused to talk about the United States' role in Viet Nam.

Speaking at the College of Marin gymnasium as part of the college's concert-lecture series, Mrs. Sackey concentrated on telling about her country, its history, its hopes and its people.

She urged members of the audience to drink cocoa and eat chocolate, because Ghana's main export is cocoa. "How we survive depends upon how much cocoa you drink," she said.

Mrs. Quaison - Sackey spoke strongly for unity among the new nations in Africa. "The aim is for African unity, not to fight colonial powers, but to raise our living standards by developing our resources and cooperating in economic planning," she said.

When asked to comment on the U.S. role in Viet Nam, she said, as a visiting diplomat, she would prefer not to comment.

She said that anti-American riots in Ghana are "only a flash in the pan," and usually occur when Negroes are maltreated in the United States.

"Ghana reacts to what happened here, to what we don't like," Mrs. Quaison-Sackey said.

There are Russian technicians working in Ghana, "but that doesn't mean they are trying to impose their will or their influence on us," she said.

After reviewing the early history of Ghana, Mrs. Quaison-Sackey told of the years as a British colony and the move toward independence.

"After World War II, things began to change," she said. "The men were not satisfied to be poor and ignorant and so they started agitating for independence."

Independence came in 1957, and the former Gold Coast colony on the west coast of Africa adopted the name Ghana.

A nation of fishermen and farmers, "we are now trying to develop industrially, but we need skilled men," she said. "There is so much wastage of manpower. Human resources are not being utilized to the fullest."

Ghana does not have enough teachers or enough classrooms, does not have sufficient roads and railroads, and needs more doctors and nurses, she said.

Mrs. Quaison-Sackey, whose husband is the Ghanian ambassador to the United Nations, said the U.N. represents hope for the new African nations. "Our only hope for survival is that the U.N. will go on forever," she declared.

About 85 people attended the lecture, billed as an added attraction in the series which continue tomorrow with a lecture by Dr. Zelma George, sociologist, actress, singer and authority on Negro music.

Dr. George will talk about "Understanding the Negro Spiritual," at 8 p.m. at Olney Hall and will sing excerpts from spirituals. The lecture is free to the public.

SPAN APPROACHES TIED TO DECK

Engineer, Architect Say Another Deck Useless If Approaches Are Congested

An engineer and an architect, appearing on the Radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board," today charged that building a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge would be like widening the mouth of a funnel without widening the funnel itself.

Engineer Harold Stockstad of Mill Valley and San Anselmo architect George A. Stolz appeared with Marin County Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker and Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District director Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato.

All four conceded that at least part of the ultimate solution to Marin's commuting problems lies in rapid transit. Leydecker and Hardcastle felt the second deck is a necessary interim step.

Stockstad and Stolz, however, insisted the new deck would accomplish little as long as the approaches — both in Marin and San Francisco—are congested.

Bridge district directors, maintained Stockstad, should not even give serious thought to the deck until they have studied this other problem. He said the directors should learn that the bridge "is not isolated in space and time from the rest of the Bay Area," and should hinge their decisions on the outcome of studies of such long-range plans as the proposed re-routing of Highway 101 down the edge of San Pablo Bay.

Leydecker scoffed at this "great circle route," saying Marin commuters would never go out of their way to get to San Francisco. Stockstad said they would do so if it got them there sooner.

In his opening remarks, Hardcastle discounted the "funnel" theory, saying there is hope of the approaches on both sides of the Golden Gate being widened soon.

"I have very good reason to believe from highly reliable informed sources that agreement will be reached between the San Francisco supervisors and the state Division of Highways so that construction will soon begin on a freeway in San Francisco to serve the Golden Gate Bridge," said Hardcastle.

In Marin, Hardcastle said, "some highly competent highway engineers . . . are agreed that a third tunnel is the best solution" to widening the Waldo Grade.

From Marin City to Greenbrae, he added, the highway "could be four-laned each way virtually overnight by from 12 to 11 "or perhaps 10" feet. Bridge lanes are 10 feet wide.

"The lanes on the bridge were too narrow in 1938," countered Stockstad, "so reducing them to 10 feet on the Waldo would kill three or four times as many people as we do now."

Storz said he failed to see how bridge district directors concluded in 1962 that the bridge was not strong enough to hold lightweight aluminum rapid transit trains, yet now feel it could take a second deck.

He argued that a five-lane second deck would in effect add only a single lane of capacity, since the rush hour problem only exists in one direction at a time.

Building another deck, he bemoaned, would kill any hope of some day using the bridge for rapid transit.

Leydecker said long-range answers would involve a combination of things, ranging from a rapid transit tube to the revival of ferries. But he saw these things as being 15 to 20 years away.

He termed a second bridge deck "the only interim plan which has any reasonable hope of being done in 5 or 10 years."

Stockstad said the 20-year gap could be reduced to five or six if bridge directors would concentrate on fitting Marin in with over-all Bay Area planning.

Robberies Make Biggest Jump In Marin Crime Log

Biggest percentage increase in felony crime in Marin last year was robbery, according to figures prepared by the state attorney general's office.

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, releasing a state crime report yesterday, disclosed that major felonies increased in Marin in 1964 over 1963 by the greatest percentage of any Bay Area county and the second greatest in the state. The increase in seven major felonies in Marin was 32.5 per cent.

The increase in robberies over the previous year, however, was 63.7 per cent, with 36 robberies reported last year, Lynch's office said today.

Crimes against property—including burglary, grand theft and auto theft—increased by 33 per cent, but made up the bulk of 1,940 of the seven major felonies reported last year in Marin. There were 1,795 crimes of this category in the county, according to the attorney general's figures.

Crimes against persons, other than robbery — including willful homicide, assault and forcible rape—went up by 18.4 per cent, with 109 such cases reported.

Besides the seven major felonies on the list, Marin had 450 felony cases of forgery and bad checks last year, Lynch reported. There were also 224 cases of all other felonies in the county.

A breakdown of the major crimes reported in Marin last year showed: Willful homicide, 3; robbery, 36; assault, 95; burglary, 1,126; grand theft, 273; auto theft, 396, and forcible rape, 11.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, in a memorandum to the county administrator this week, pinpointed densely populated unincorporated areas as locale of much of Marin's crime —particularly its unsolved crime. Wrote Kettenhofen:

"It has come to my attention that a great deal of crime in the past year has occurred in the densely unincorporated (sic) areas of Marin, with very few apprehensions. As supervisor of the Second District, I believe I represent the most densely populated unincorporated areas of Marin. I further believe that the police coverage in this area is substantially less than comparable areas within the incorporated limits of the various cities.

"There are presently two sheriff's substations in Marin, one in Marin City and one in Western Marin, but the unincorporated area of District Two is not served to this extent."

Kettenhofen asked a study of "methods of rectifying this undesirable condition."

Groucho Amused By Library Plea

"I'm getting quite a kick out of this." Marx said yesterday. "My things will be in pretty high class company, next to the Gettysburg Address and the Declaration of Independence."

The Universities of Wisconsin and Michigan also asked for his papers, said the mustached, cigar-wiggling star.

Marin Demos Polled On Casady

S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito, First Congressional District director of California Democratic Council, appealed today for Marin CDC clubs to give him an expression of opinion on what should be done about Simon Casady, state president of CDC.

Politzer said he will leave for Los Angeles tomorrow night to attend a special meeting of the CDC board of directors. Since a possible recall of Casady will be taken up at the meeting, Politzer seeks a concensus of Marin CDC groups so that he can represent the general feeling of the local clubs.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)— Richard Arlen, 65, who made 255 movies in 45 years — including "Wings" which won the first Academy Award in history — was reported in "good condition" today in the Motion Picture Country House and Hospital in nearby Woodland Hills.

Attendants said Arlen was admitted into the hospital last night for "observation," but a source close to the actor said he was rushed to the hospital from his home for treatment of apparent lobar pneumonia.

Willits-Eureka Passenger Run Is Requested Of PUC

Two Mendocino County communities, Covelo and Dos Rios, have petitioned the state public utilities commission to order Northwestern Pacific Railroad to resume passenger service between Willits and Eureka.

The Willits to Eureka run, the last passenger run on the line, was discontinued after last winter's floods and has not been resumed.

The two communities charged the railroad "is trying systematically to abandon the finest scenic rail line in the west, and is in effect locking up the Eel River by not running an attractive train service."

Freight trains have been making the Willits-Eureka run since June 15, but the railroad has applied to the PUC to discontinue passenger train service. The railroad claimed that public convenience does not require passenger service.

The petition signed by 120 residents of Covelo and Dos Rios, small farming, timber and resort communities on the banks of the Eel River, said the discontinuance of passenger services has effected the economy of the area.

"Resorts in the area have suffered greatly since the service was discontinued," the petition said.

The Northwestern Pacific train has been the only access to the canyon for 60 years and residents are now isolated, according to the petition.

The Willits to Eureka run became the last passenger run on the Northwestern Pacific line when San Rafael-Willits passenger service was abandoned in 1958.

The railroad also is seeking to abandon two lines in Marin, the Sausalito branch and either the main line from east of Corte Madera to Tiburon or the Puerto Suello tunnel.

Northwestern Pacific Railroad also is seeking to block enforcement of a State Public Utilities Commission order that it reopen the Puerto Suello Tunnel in San Rafael.

Doctor's Bag Stolen From Tiburon Auto

Dr. Paul E. Wilson reported to the Tiburon sheriff's substation that the top of his convertible was slashed and a medical bag stolen from his car between 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. yesterday.

Dr. Wilson said the car was parked in the driveway of his home at 123 Hacienda Drive. As a pediatrician, he said he carries no narcotics. The bag contained about $200 in medical equipment, he said.

Tomales Bay State Park is on the west side of Tomales Bay and the park entrance is three miles north of Inverness.

Hamilton Pollution Correction Speeded

The Air Force has speeded up its efforts to correct the waste disposal and water pollution problem at Hamilton Air Force Base, Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, Calif., said today.

Clausen said he was informed by the office of the Secretary of the Air Force that funds will be sought in the budget which goes through the Congress next January.

Supervisors Hear Plea On Home Rule

EUREKA (AP)—Mayor W. W. Dumas of Baton Rouge, La., made a strong plea for county home rule yesterday before the California County Supervisors Assn. annual meeting.

Dumas, speaking as president of the National Assn. of Counties, said, "Unless we organize together, local government will be ruled out and everything will be run from the state capital."

Dumas backed President Johnsons' Viet Nam policy, saying, "I think we ought to stay there and show the Communists we're not going to be pushed.

As an example of what he termed the "problems . . . crying out to be solved. . ." Dumas said: "The racial issue can no longer be cast aside. It affects the whole nation."

Riverside County Supervisor Paul J. Anderson was elected president of the California group for the coming year, succeeding Modoc County Supervisor James C. Stearns.

Point Reyes National Seashore is made up of the 10-mile-long Point Reyes Beach, lowlands of sand dunes, rolling hills enclosing lagoons and esteros, the sandy sheltered and curving beach of Drake's Bay and the forest covered Inverness Ridge.

Marinites Look At County, Find It Not Quite Perfect

Two Marinites looked at their county last night and agreed it is far from "the promised land."

They spoke at the first of a series of symposiums on "Home in Suburbia—Pandora's Box?" at the Civic Center, sponsored by Marin Assn. for Mental Health, Young Women's Christian Assn., Family Service League, and the League for Planned Parenthood.

To Lee Noble McEachern, assistant director of public affairs for KRON-TV, a seven-year resident of Corte Madera, the realty salesman's picture of the charmed life did not prepare for the squeeze of home costs and taxes, the subdivider's chaotic disturbance, or "the sewer lines laid down the middle of Paradise Drive."

He questioned the influence on children of complete dependence on the car for transportation. He pondered the philosophy of the teen-ager that "everyone is doing it" and said the current revolution in sexual mores is a far-reaching in its influence as the civil rights revolution.

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Tiburon, the second speaker, said there are three different viewpoints on Marin: that of the newcomer; that of the professional critic, and that of the native critic who takes a dim view of all the incoming population.

Mrs. Swadesh has been active in civic affairs and politics during the 12 years she has lived in Marin County. She is teaching a course in politics at San Francisco State College this semester and is state president of Americans for Democratic Action.

The newcomer feels the promise of good schools, natural beauty, gardens, and a step up the social ladder, as well as a chance to get out of the city and its unsolved problems, said Mrs. Swadesh. When he gets here, there is no small town feeling or old-fashioned verities; instead he finds a closed society, unfriendly faces.

The native grown critic asks such questions as: "Why do kids go wrong here? Why are they opening up new tracts all the time? Why do so many kids drop out of school?"

Mrs. Swadesh said there is "an incredible amount of talent in this county, some of it contributed to the county by public officials." But she finds the average citizen in suburbia is uncommitted, uninvolved.

"He is a crisis activist, waiting until something happens before he protests. Then he's too late."

"While we have come to a community that isn't a community, where there are no uncles or aunts, no grandparents and our childhood patterns don't fit, our kids are in school making their own world with completely new patterns. That's why they don't understand us and we don't understand them," she said.

Jack Danielson, Dixie school district psychologist, is chairman of the symposium series. The next program titled, "The B.A. in the Kitchen," will be next Wednesday, at 8 p.m., at the Civic Center.

Water District Buys New Tank For Hub City

The Marin Municipal Water District board yesterday agreed to buy a 100,000-gallon water tank to serve San Anselmo, and awarded contract for the tank to Sauers Forest Products of Healdsburg at $6,786.

The water district board also:

1. Agreed to contract with Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael for the removal of an 85-foot tower at Phoenix Lake at a cost of $480.

2. Approved the purchase of a new pump, to be installed in the Fairfax-Manor second lift pumping station, from Westco Pump Sales Co. of San Francisco for $576.

3. Agreed, at the request of State Department of Fish and Game, to order some minor repair work done on traps for spawning salmon and their fingerlings at Nicasio Dam.

4. Approved plans and specifications for furnishing of metal bins, shelving and racks for the new warehouse in Corte Madera, and agreed to call for bids on a new pipe threader to be installed in that warehouse.

Terra Linda Rec District Planning A Newsletter

Directors of Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District last night agreed to start putting out a district newsletter to keep residents aware of program changes and board actions.

"We add something to our program," board chairman Jack Brandon said, "and no one knows about it. It's been a problem."

Directors agreed that the newsletter will come out every eight or 10 weeks. Volunteer editing and make-up will be needed.

Brandon said each publication will probably cost about $50.

Directors authorized maintenance superintendent C. P. Goeree to seek bids on installation of nine lighted exit signs which the fire marshal has said are required in the recreation center. New panic hardware on doors will also be required soon, Brandon said.

Teen-agers who have objected to bright lights at dances, required because of the lack of exit illumination, have raised enough money for a standby firemen at the dances so they can have low lights until the exit lights are installed, Brandon said.

The Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District Board also:

1. Heard a report from architect Austin H. Gibbon on changes that could be made in the pool facilities, including shift of the entrance gate, clothes lockers and possible installation of a snack bar.

2. Named the entire board and Goeree to serve on a budget review committee to see how costs can be reduced by $1,505. The figure represents the difference between expected revenues and the budget estimate.

3. Asked that pool passes be returned by Jan. 1, if residents want return of the 50-cent deposit on the passes.

Petty Theft Suspect Goes To Upper Court

Kathleen Cowart, 26, of Richmond, was held over to Marin Superior Court yesterday following preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of petty theft with a prior conviction.

She was arrested Sept. 10 by Corte Madera police and released on $276 bail. The prior conviction for petty theft was in Marin County on March 23, 1964, for taking merchandise from Montgomery Ward and Co.

The organization of the original Ku Klux Klan, as promulgated in its prescript, or constitution, adopted in 1867, was modeled after the Federal Union.

Hoffa Trials Costs Placed At $570,000

By DON CARSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department says Teamsters President James R. Hoffa pulled $570,396 from the union treasury to help pay for his criminal trials.

The department said yesterday it compiled the figures from Teamster records and made no attempt to verify them.

"That's only the top of the iceberg."

He said the total probably is nearer to $1 million for Hoffa's criminal cases since 1959. And he said the Teamster till may have been tapped for as much as $3 million to defend Hoffa and 47 other union officials convicted during the past five years.

The Labor Department said the $570,396 covered three criminal trials during the past three years.

The Spelman suit, expected to come to trial in Washington within the next two months, was filed in March 1964. Hoffa stopped using union money for his legal troubles shortly thereafter, although he contended its use was legal as a necessary business expense.

Novato Creek Money Available

Congress has reactivated the Novato Creek Flood Control project and appropriated $15,000 to resume its studies, Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, Calif., announced today.

The funds were included in the Public Works Appropriations Act of 1965, passed by Congress last Friday and sent to the President for signature.

The appropriations bill also includes $800,000 to complete planning and start construction of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

Congress also added a $10,000 item to continue studies of small craft harbor sites along the north coast of California, including Point Reyes.

State Gives Marin Road Project Cash

The California Highway Commission today adopted a 1966-67 budget including $1,170,000 for rights of way in Marin and two resurfacing projects, one entirely in Marin and another partially in Marin.

The resurfacing project entirely in Marin will be along portions of Highway 101 between the Richardson Bay Bridge and Corte Madera Creek at a cost estimated at $275,000.

A second project involving Marin will be resurfacing of portions of Highway 101 between .7 of a mile north of Atherton Avenue in Novato to .9 of a mile south of the Northwestern Pacific railroad overhead south of Petaluma. The cost of this project, which will extend into Sonoma County, has been estimated at $175,000.

No funds were included for construction on the second stage of the Highway 101 freeway project through San Rafael.

The allocation for rights-of-way for various state highway routes in Marin County was $720,000.

A total of $651,919,000 for state highway construction, rights-of-way and engineering was budgeted by the commission. This was $39,400,000 more than the current budget.

Under the new budget, construction contracts can be awarded beginning next January, but right-of-way funds may not be spent until next July 1, the start of the fiscal year.

Chairman Robert B. Bradford said major construction effort continues on California's 2,166-mile share of the national system of interstate and defense highways.

The budget contains $339,409,355 in federal funds, and $289,205,850 of this amount is funded toward completion of the interstate system, which, by federal law, must be finished by 1972.

The budget contains $450,621,000 major construction and improvement, $179,848,655 for rights-of-way and other amounts for contingencies, resurfacing, signs and striping, highway planning studies and minor improvements.

Bradford said the new budget will provide about 320 miles of new multi-lane freeways and additional lanes on another 29 miles of existing freeways.

There is $9,259,000 for landscaping and functional tree planting along freeway routes in the new budget, as compared to $6,229,000 in the current budget.

Rodeo (Fort Cronkhite) Beach can be reached by turning off on the Sausalito lateral from the Golden Gate Bridge and going through the government's one-way tunnel. It offers good swimming, surf fishing and searching for stones.

Senate Passes Measure For Whiskeytown Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to the White House today a bill to authorize a 225,000 - acre, three-unit Whiskeytown, Shasta, Trinity National Recreation Area in northern California.

Before passage by voice vote, Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel and George Murphy, California Republicans, spoke highly of the project and said it had the support of President Johnson, Gov. Brown of California, and the Interior and Agriculture departments.

The bill would authorize $21.6 million for land acquisition and $22.7 million for development of recreational facilities surrounding the Whiskeytown, Shasta, Trinity and Lewiston Reservoirs of the Central Valley Reclamation Bureau Project in Shasta and Trinity counties.

The Shasta and Trinity-Lewiston units of the recreation area, embracing areas of the Trinity and Shasta National Forests, would be administered by the forest service. The Whiskeytown unit would be under the National Park Service.

Driver Fined $220

Dorothy Lister Stapleton, 41, of 1805 Mar West, Tiburon, was fined $220 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. She was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 east, on Oct. 8.

Conjugal Visits Urged At Prison

Why not allow wives of San Quentin inmates to visit their husbands overnight in their cells? Warden Lawrence E. Wilson was asked yesterday.

Eight Superior Court judges from Equador, on a state department sponsored tour, thought it was a good idea. It happened in their country with good results.

"To deny conjugal visits," they said, "is to extend the punishment to family life."

The unusual question did not take Wilson by surprise. The morals of North American society, he said, would not find conjugal visits totally acceptable.

Governor Signs Pensioners' Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Some 200,000 elderly Californians can keep their recent Social Security boost without worrying that a like amount will be deducted from their state welfare grants.

Gov. Brown signed into law yesterday a bill by Assemblyman John L. Burton, D - San Francisco, which provides the federal boosts cannot be counted as income. Under the old law, the federal money would have been subtracted from state old age assistance programs.

The federal increase, voted by Congress in July, covered a period from January to October of this year — amounting to about $35 a recipient and a total of some $6 million in California.

Fred Enemarks To Entertain

BY MOLLY MARIN

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Enemark have invited 300 guests to join them for cocktails at the Meadow Club tonight. Most of those invited are from Marin, and they are hoping that Senator John F. McCarthy will be able to get away from legislative duties in Sacramento to attend.

MR. AND MRS. JACK Meagor and their sister, Mrs. Henry Diener of San Rafael, were guests at Boston's Hotel Kenmore while on a fall foliage tour of New England. Mrs. Diener also visited friends in Abington, Mass. while in the east.

TWO HUNDRED and fifty San Francisco Yacht Club members and guests sailed to McNear's Point from Belvedere harbor for the annual Clambake Cruise last weekend.

ONE OF THE FIRST events in Mrs. Mildred Montgomery's new home in Greenbrae was a board meeting and luncheon held Tuesday for thirty members of the San Francisco-East Bay Panhellenic Assn. Mrs. Montgomery formerly lived in Belvedere.

Mrs. Rubinstein is also a member of Women in Construction in Marin County.

The family has lived in Marin County for five years, and Mrs. Rubenstein says she is so enthused about the area that she is constantly "writing letters extolling the virtues of California to those still left in New York." Reading is a favorite diversion, and outgoing Mrs. Rubinstein says "talking" is what she enjoys most.

The new president attended the College of the City of New York, where she obtained a degree in Business Administration.

Others taking office are Mrs. Dorothy Barton, first vice-president; Mrs. Frances Wayman, second vice-president; Mrs. Alfabelle Douglas, recording secretary; Mrs. Eva Leiva, treasurer and Mrs. Elaine D'Ever, corresponding secretary.

Women of the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour of Mill Valley will have a book tea at the home of Mrs. Peter Behr on Oct. 28 from 1 to 3:30 p.m. to help establish a library in a mission of the church at Eagle, Alaska.

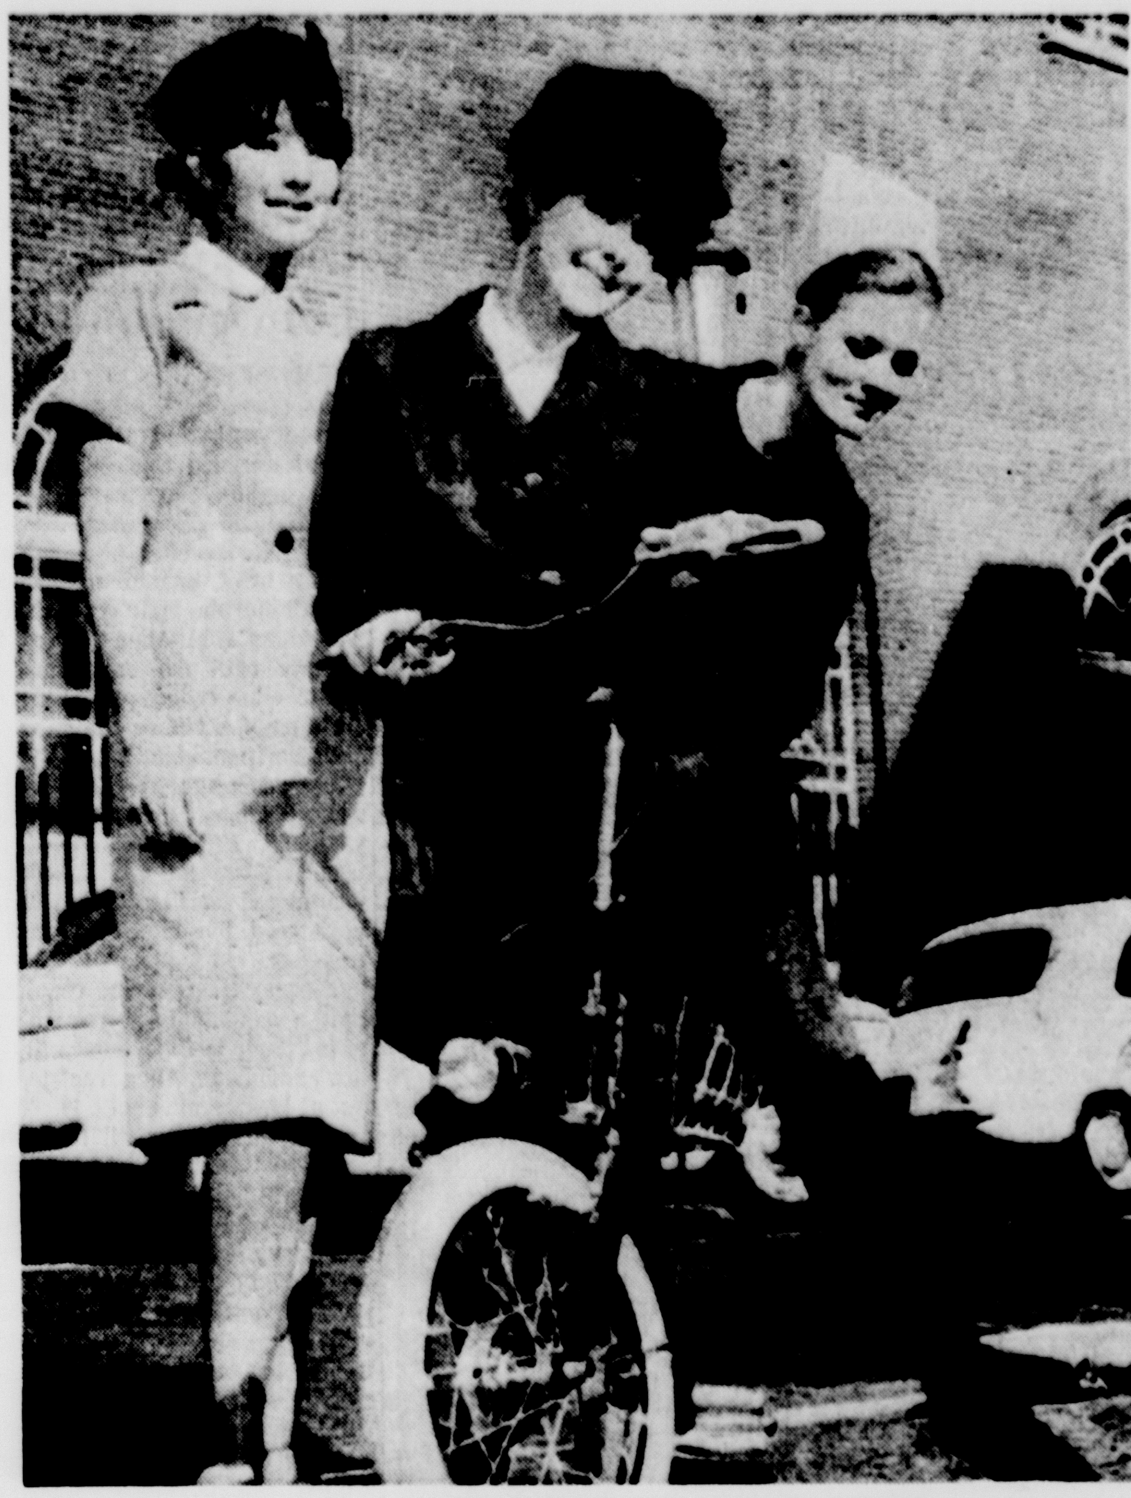
"Bring a Book, Buy a Book" is the theme, and Mrs. Earl Reinke will be in charge of the book table.

Books will be moderately priced, and profits will be used to purchase books for the Alaskan Mission where the Rev. Richard Treadwell and his wife Shirley are serving. He was the seminarian assisting the Rev. D. Murray Hammond in his work at The Church of Our Saviour.

The Treadwells write that the Eskimo children of Eagle have nothing to talk about other than school since there is no television or library in the mission or town. Textbooks and the Bible were the only printed matter in the church until the Mill Valley Episcopal churchwomen sent a shipment of books to the Treadwells recently.

Mrs. G. R. McConnell is general chairman for the event. Assisting at the tea table will be Mrs. John Linker, president of the Episcopal churchwomen, and Mesdames Harrison Leppo, Pieter Van Dalen, James Wirt, D. Murray Hammond and Eugene Hecht.

A shuttle service arranged by Mrs. Thomas Kewin will operate from the church to the Behrs' home, where parking is limited. Child care will be provided at the church.



FOR SWINGING NURSES

These bright new uniforms, introduced at a London Nursing Exhibition, make nurses swing into the 1960's with a zip. Gone are the old-fashioned dark blue smocks and blouses worn previously. The new ensembles will almost surely make a patient look twice. (UPI Cablephoto)

Dominican Troupe Set To Stage 'Madwoman'

The Troupers Club of Dominican College, San Rafael, will present the French play "The Madwoman of Chaillot" by Jean Giraudoux twice this weekend at Angelico Hall on the campus.

Performances are scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday.

A "sleeper" when it was produced on Broadway in 1949, it did badly at first but was later named the year's best foreign play by the Drama Critics Circle.

Sculptor's Show Set Of Welded Objects

Welded steel sculpture by Rodger Jacobsen of San Rafael will be featured at the Dilexi Gallery, San Francisco, in his first one-man show, Tuesday through Nov. 20.

Jacobsen, of 55 Fremont Road, has exhibited throughout the Bay Area in group shows.

Turkish, Swiss Exchange Students Recall Marin

You might not expect a young Swiss and an equally young Turk to talk about Marin County when they got together in Istanbul, but it happened recently.

The occasion was the first meeting between Ahmet Kemil Esitgen of Istanbul, who spent the 1962-63 school year as an American Field Service exchange student at Terra Linda High School, and Peter Jurg Kienast of Zurich, who came the following year.

Esitgen stayed with the Richard H. DeKay family at 14 Oak View Drive, Los Ranchitos. Kienast lived with the Walter S. Wright family at 927 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley.

While here, Kienast became friends with the DeKay family and "heard so much about Ahmet," according to Mrs. DeKay, "that when he visited Istanbul, he looked him up and they spent a couple of days together."

Word of this came to the DeKays in a letter which Peter wrote in Turkey last week. He explained that he and three friends had been on a trip which took them through Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Ahmet, Peter learned, is attending a university there, "and at the same time he has an independent job in the furniture business."

While the Turkish youth would like to spend some more time in this country, Kienast said, the present attitude of his countrymen toward Americans is far from warm, and he might find it difficult to get work if he returned home from a lengthy stay in the United States.

The Swiss youths planned to return home soon by way of Greece and Yugoslavia. Kienast completed high school this year and expects to enter the Swiss armed forces after he returns home.

Cuban Refugees Exodus Resumes

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The flow of Cuban refugees across the Florida Straits resumed today with two small boats making unexpected landings in the Florida Keys. At least 16 more were on the way.

One vessel landed on a public beach at Key West and Border Patrol officers hurried to the scene. The second craft docked at Marathon in the middle of the Keys with 15 refugees.

"The boats just slipped in," said a Coast Guard spokesman. It was not known how many refugees landed at Key West.

Model Home Looted

Meeting Postponed

Steve Allen Plans Appeal For Candidacy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Comedian Steve Allen says he will appeal a State Supreme Court decision that he can not run for the congressional seat vacated in Los Angeles by James Roosevelt.

In a brief, unanimous opinion the California high court ruled yesterday that Allen "failed to comply with the provisions of the election code and . . . therefore cannot be certified as a partisan candidate."

The court agreed with Los Angeles registrar of voters Benjamin S. Hite who refused to certify Allen as a Democratic candidate because Allen had registered too late as a party member.

The election code requires that a candidate be a member of the party 90 days before filing his candidacy. Allen registered as a Democrat Sept. 18. The special election to fill the congressional vacancy is scheduled for Nov. 23.

Allen, who had announced his candidacy last Sunday, commented on the court's ruling that he was "still very much in the race for Congress" and would appeal the Supreme Court decision in federal court.

Yorty Discusses Negro Policemen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty says he would like to see 1,800 more Negroes on his Police force.

Yorty told a Spanish Speaking Citizens Foundation luncheon yesterday at the San Francisco Press Club that "we've made every effort to recruit them," with little success.

Yorty said there now are about 200 Negro policemen on the 5,000-man force.

The first cement in the United States was brought over from England as ship ballast shortly after the Civil War.

Youngsters To Hear 'Barber Of Seville'

By ALAN P. CUNNINGHAM

Opera may be hard for many adults to understand, but when 31 pupils from MacPhail School go to see "The Barber of Seville" Monday in San Francisco, you can bet they will understand what is going on.

The reason is that the youngsters have studied the opera forward and backward under guidance of their enthusiastic teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Wall.

Highpoint of their study (outside of the trip to San Francisco) comes at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow when the pupils put on their own version of "The Barber" for their parents.

"I think it is important to teach the children to have an interest in cultural things in this day and age when there is so much emphasis on science," Mrs. Wall said.

She is determined to make the annual trip to the opera mean something for her pupils. "Otherwise," she said, "the opera is just an excuse to get out of school."

Three or four times yearly, Bay Area school children are treated to a performance sponsored by the San Francisco Opera Guild.

A month before her pupils are scheduled to go, Mrs. Wall launches a study in depth of the opera: its plot, music and poetry. She finds the study ties in with nearly every one of the subjects she teaches — except mathematics.

This year, her combined fifth and sixth grade home room tried a new wrinkle: they tape-recorded the music and learned the words, in English.

Tomorrow's performance will begin with an empty stage, while the recorded overture plays. Then the youngsters will come out and recite the English words.

At important moments in the plot, however, the young actors will stand still while a tape recorded soprano, tenor or baritone sings an aria in Italian.

"In the past, we have sometimes let the children sing," Mrs. Wall said, "but we found that the music from this one is either too high or too low, no matter what key you put it in."

The children will sit in seats which, if their parents attended the opera at night, would cost $10 apiece. The opera guild induces patrons of the opera to underwrite all but $3 of the cost, and the school Parent-Teacher Assn. pays some more, bringing the cost down to about $1 per pupil.

Mrs. Wall and Principal Lawrence McArdell believe theirs will be the only youngsters in the opera house Monday who have performed Rossini's masterpiece themselves.

They won't be surprised if they overhear a few sixth graders whistling arias in the schoolyard next week.

Watts Killing 'Justifiable'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A coroner's jury has ruled the death of Thomas Owens, 22, killed by police shotguns in the Watts area Aug. 14, to be justifiable homicide.

The ruling, made Tuesday, was the 25th ruling of justifiable homicide since the inquests into rioting deaths began.

An inquest planned into the death of Eugene Shimatsu, 18, was canceled at the request of his family, which said it was satisfied with police reports on the case.

Police said Shimatsu was shot by police Aug. 15 when he fled from a looted liquor store.

Couple Sued By His Mother

A Mill Valley couple is being sued by the husband's mother for $125,000 in an alleged stove-burning accident last April 26.

Kitty Schoenberg of New York charges Bernard J. and Carol S. Schoenberg, 34 Underhill Road, were negligent in maintenance of their kitchen stove during her visit on April 26.

The plaintiff alleges she suffered burns as a result of the carelessness. The case was originally filed in San Francisco Superior Court, then transferred this week to Marin Superior Court.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Oct. 21, the 294th day of 1965 with 71 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn.

In 1805, the English fleet under Lord Nelson defeated the French and Spanish fleets off the Cape of Trafalgar.

In 1814, the personal library of Thomas Jefferson was bought by the government to replace the Library of Congress burned by the British.

In 1879, Thomas Edison invented a workable electric incandescent lamp at Menlo Park, N.J.

In 1917, soldiers of the First Division became the initial U.S. troops to see action in World War I.

A thought for the day—British poet Samuel Taylor Coleridge said: "To have lived in vain must be a painful thought to any man, and especially so to him who has made literature his profession."

TIME AND TIDE

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Simple Plays Meant To Keep Wolf From Biting That Hand

Bridge players take pride in strange things.

"What a good guess I made in trumps!" South exulted after the play of today's hand. "I'd have been down another if I played the ace of trumps first."

Opening lead — ♡ 2

South took the first trick with the ace of hearts and led a trump to dummy's king.

Declarer led the ten of spades from dummy next and continued with two more rounds of trumps. This left East with the only trump in the pack.

FINESSE FAILS

South led the queen of diamonds, and West took the ace and returned a heart to dummy's king. When declarer tried to cash the king of diamonds, East ruffed and returned a club.

South lost a finesse and wound up making only four trumps, two hearts, and one club. Down three.

TIME TO BOAST

This was the moment that South picked to boast about his good guess in the trump suit.

It was such a good guess that it cost South the game and rubber.

South should not guess the right trump play because he should not play trumps at all. South should win the first heart in dummy and lead a diamond to force out the ace.

South wins the heart return, cashes the ace of clubs to discard dummy's last heart, and then proceeds to ruff clubs in dummy and diamonds in his own hand.

South wins eleven tricks without the slightest difficulty—even though he doesn't try to guess the right trump play.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ K 10 8 5
♥ K 7 3
♦ K 10 9 8 5 2
♣ None

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three diamonds.

If partner has a four-card major suit he should bid it. If he bids spades, you intend to raise to game. Otherwise you will press on to game in diamonds.

Attorney Rips Mill Valley Attitude In Garbage Fuss

San Rafael attorney Albert Bianchi yesterday accused Mill Valley city councilmen of taking a "shoot first and ask questions later" attitude toward his clients, Mill Valley Refuse Service Inc.

His comments were voiced in a letter to Mayor Michael Wornum. Copies were sent to the other councilmen and to City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer.

Bianchi said he was "genuinely amazed" to learn from Tuesday's Independent-Journal that the council "had seen fit to pass judgment upon our client without so much as bothering to hold a hearing where all of the pertinent facts could be presented."

At the Monday council meeting, Wornum and others commented that residents were unhappy with the garbage service. The council decided to hold a Nov. 1 hearing on whether to end the city's contract with the firm.

In his letter, Bianchi contended that he had tried in vain for 10 months to set up a hearing on behalf of the refuse service.

"We have sought in good faith for the past 10 months to discuss items of mutual importance with the council," he wrote, "yet, in 10 minutes the council has unilaterally acted in a manner which can only cast serious doubt upon its objectivity in this matter."

Arguing that the garbage firm had "provided Mill Valley residents with the lowest garbage rates in Marin County," Bianchi said a recent postcard survey showed that 1,642 out of 1,751 persons who responded called the service "good," while only 88 termed it "fair" and only 21 called it "poor."

He contended that the time between now and Nov. 1 was inadequate "to prepare a defense against charges the specific nature of which we have not been told."

Bianchi asked permission to appear at the Nov. 1 session "to join with the council in defining the specific problems involved," followed by a later meeting at which he could state the company's case.

Canadian To Speak

Dr. Ruth Landes, professor of cultural anthropology at MacMaster University in Ontario, Canada, will speak at College of Marin at 10 a.m. tomorrow, in Room G-1 of the physical education building. Her appearance is sponsored by the campus Behavioral Science Club.

Allen Gets Permission From PUC To Drop Service To Civic Center

Cecil J. Allen, operator of San Rafael Bus Lines has been granted permission to drop the service between downtown San Rafael and the Civic Center due to lack of business.

The California Public Utilities Commission says the service, reportedly running at a loss of $80 a month, is apparently no longer needed by the public.

In an application to the commission, Allen said the Civic Center-Santa Venetia service produced an average of $2.60 a day from last January to July. An average of two passengers each round trip were carried on four trips daily, Monday through Friday, during this period, he added.

Allen must give no less than five days notice before he drops the service, the commission ruled.

On Aug. 31, Marin County Board of Supervisors denied a request from Allen for a $300 a month subsidy for the San Rafael-Civic Center service.

The operator's license to run services from San Rafael to Richmond and to San Quentin is not affected by the decision.

Students Set Up Welcome Group

A welcoming committee has been established at Novato High School at suggestion of the representative assembly.

Its purpose is to meet each new student and explain organizations, teaching systems, activities and customs at the school.

Committee members are Ron Dinkel, Harold Fain, Diane Gabhart, Clint Harless, Ed Johnson, Barbara Jones and Vivian Morse.

New Schedule Is Announced For Terra Linda Recreation

Six new programs have been added to the fall schedule of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District, director William Gordon announced today.

In addition, the district will sponsor a trip for youngsters to the '49er football game at Kezar stadium in San Francisco on Nov. 21. Departure time will be 11:30 a.m.

Another program for "tiny tots" from 3 to 5 years old has been opened at 10 a.m. weekdays.

A crafts program has started at 10 a.m. Saturdays for those 6 and 7 years and at 11 a.m. for those 8 years and up.

A new "slimnastics" class has opened at 10 a.m. Mondays and another judo class will start Monday night.

There will also be knitting instruction course at 10 a.m. Nov. 3, 5, 10, 17 and 24. A second guitar workshop will begin Nov. 11 for those 9 years and older.

Home Brief Time, Then To Viet Nam

Return to the U.S.A. was brief for Army Sp/4 Jerry Sheets of San Rafael.

Sheets received a furlough home after 22 months' service in Wurtzburg, Germany. He spent 11 days visiting his mother, Mrs. Iona Damazzio of 55 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael. Yesterday, he left for service in Viet Nam.

Nail-Firing Gun Stolen At Project

A gun was stolen from a building site in San Rafael Tuesday—the kind that fires nails into cement.

It was stolen from an office under construction at 208 Northgate Drive and was estimated as worth $90. The theft was reported by an employee of the owners, William A. Post Construction Co. of Castro Valley.

ORDINANCE NO. 832
AN ORDINANCE AMENDING TITLE 15 OF THE SAN RAFAEL MUNICIPAL CODE BY AMENDING SECTION 15.32.010, RELATING TO SIZE AND SHAPE OF LOTS, AND BY THE ADDITION OF CHAPTER 15.34, REGARDING REQUIREMENTS BY SLOPE.

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: Section 15.32.010 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

15.32.010 Size and Shape. The size and shape of lots shall conform to the Zoning regulations effective in the area of the proposed subdivision and shall be related to: the accessibility to a public street; the character of the neighborhood; the improvement status of abutting streets; grading plans for the subdivision; and the natural topography of the property as outlined in Chapter 15.34, Requirements by Slope, of this Title. Lots shall be not less than fifty (50) feet in width, nor less than five thousand (5,000) square feet in area, nor less than eighty (80) feet in depth, provided that for corner lots the width shall be not less than sixty (60) feet. The Planning Commission may recommend the granting of exceptions to this provision where lots are to be used for commercial or industrial purposes, where there are unusual topographic conditions, curved or cul-de-sac streets exist, where a Planned Community or a Planned Unit Development has been approved, or where other special conditions warrant exceptions in the lot area, lot depth, and lot width requirements.

SECTION 2: Title Fifteen, the Subdivision Ordinance of the City of San Rafael, is hereby amended by adding Chapter 15.34, Requirements by Slope, which is to read as follows:

CHAPTER 15.34

Sections:
15.34.010 Objectives
15.34.020 Subdivisions on standard city streets
15.34.030 Subdivisions on substandard city streets

15.34.010 Objectives. One of the objectives of the San Rafael General Plan is to preserve the natural beauty of the surrounding hillsides while allowing reasonable use of these areas for development purposes. The "Requirements by Slope" are intended to implement this objective by requiring that the lots in hillside subdivisions be realistically related to the natural topography of the land so as to limit grading; retain much of the natural terrain; and, in the case of existing substandard streets, provide for additional on site parking.

15.34.020 Subdivisions on standard city streets. (a) In addition to the Zoning regulations effective in the area, any lot hereafter created shall contain at least the minimum lot width and area as related to its natural topographical slope as set forth in the following table:

Percent of Slope	Average Lot Width	Lot Area in Square Feet
0-10%	(as determined by the Zoning Ordinance)
11%	62 feet	5,500
12%	64 "	6,000
13%	66 "	6,500
14%	68 "	7,000
15%	70 "	7,500
16%	72 "	8,000
17%	74 "	8,500
18%	76 "	9,000
19%	78 "	9,500
20%	80 "	10,000
21%	82 "	10,500
22%	84 "	11,000
23%	86 "	11,500
24%	88 "	12,000
25%	90 "	12,500
26%	92 "	13,000
27%	94 "	13,500
28%	96 "	14,000
29%	98 "	14,500
30%	100 "	15,000

33%	120 "	16,500
34%	130 "	17,000
35%	140 "	17,500
36%	150 "	18,000
37%	160 "	18,500
38%	170 "	19,000
40%	190 "	20,000

(b) Except where daylighted cuts or fills are proposed, the per cent of slope shall be computed before grading and shall be measured along a line passing through the center of the lot or the building site between lot lines and perpendicular to the natural contours. Where daylighted cuts or fills are proposed, the precent of slope shall be measured on the ground conditions after the daylight grading is accomplished.

(c) Where a reasonable and realistic access to an adequate building site can be demonstrated, a lot with lesser width and area than required by the percent of slope may be allowed.

15.34.030 Subdivisions on substandard city streets. In the subdivision of lots on existing substandard city streets the following regulations shall apply:

(a) Each lot created shall have a driveway, the grade of which shall not exceed 18%, with adequate provision for ingress and egress. Said driveway shall relate to and terminate at a parking area sufficient to accommodate no less than four (4) automobiles. Said parking area shall be located behind the required front setback line.

(b) Frontage and area of each lot created shall, in addition to the conditions outlined in (a) above, conform to the minimum Zoning requirements of the district in which the subdivision is located.

SECTION 3: This Ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage in the Independent-Journal, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

DIAS RANCH PROPOSAL

NOT LIKE HOLLAND

School Spirit Impresses Exchange Student Most

The enthusiasm of Novato High School students has impressed Pieter Den Heijer of the Netherlands, who is here this school year in the Youth for Understanding program.

Pieter is staying with the Robert W. Casady family at 1419 Monte Maria, Novato. His adopted American "brothers" are Warren, 16; Brooks, 14, and Kevin, 6.

It was at a pep rally in the gymnasium that he got his first taste of the whoopla that go into the school spirit.

"There were 1,500 students in the gym all shouting, hollering, clapping and stomping their feet all at once. The noise was deafening," Pieter said.

He said that he liked the enthusiasm of the students at the football games. He compared it to the school he attended last year in Gouda, Holland, where only a few hundred would attend any sport event.

"There was not nearly the excitement there," he said.

Since coming to Novato, Pieter played his first game of baseball. He loves football as a spectator, but does not think he would like to play it.

His favorite sports for participation are swimming and basketball, in both of which he hopes to take part at Novato High.

At his home in Holland, he said, there is no television. This is because his father who is principal of a high school, thought television would interfer with the children's studying.

There are only two state-owned TV stations in Holland, he said. Five societies, similar to our networks, must share the time on these two stations. They only broadcast from 7 to 11 p.m., he said.

Pieter speaks English with an American accent in spite of taking five years of British English in school.

"We had Bernard Stulberg of Kalamazoo, Mich., as a Youth for Understanding student in our home all summer," he explained.

Pieter is a tall, rosy-cheeked youth who confesses to liking both the Beatles and Tschaikovski. His ambition is to go to college to become a geography teacher.

Missing Boy Home

Eric Swanson, 14, of 567 Terragon Drive, San Rafael, reported missing Tuesday night by his father, Warren G. Swanson, returned home yesterday in time to go to school, San Rafael police said today.

Postmen Took Him At Word

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The post office notified a Wichitan it had a package which he would have to sign for.

The patron wrote the office that he worked during normal delivery hours and asked that it be sent to his house before or after working hours.

Longest Lift In Vermont?

RUTLAND, Vt. (UPI) — Skiers now can ride a total of 9,000 feet on Pico Peak near this central Vermont city. A helicopter was used to help install the last of a series of towers for a double chair lift that reaches the summit.

It connects with other chair lifts on the lower slopes. Developers claim they have the longest lift system in Vermont.

Will Astronaut Change Job?

HOUSTON (UPI) — John Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth, is something of a frustrated surgeon.

Glenn goes from time to time to the Methodist Hospital in the Texas Medical Center in Houston to watch operations, either from the plastic dome over an operating room or the room itself.

The Italian government preserves the entire town of Portofino as a national monument. Strict controls are imposed to retain the charm of the former fishing village of the Italian Riviera. Except for a three-hour period of the morning, cars are barred from its winding streets. Not even a shutter can be repainted until the resident submits color samples to ensure

TELEVISION REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Britain's Trevor Howard gave perhaps his finest American television performance last night as he portrayed Napoleon in an original NBC-TV drama of the emperor's final years, "Eagle in a Cage."

The 90-minute "Hall of Fame" production, written by Millard Lampbell and directed by George Schaefer, dealt with Napoleon's exile to the island of St. Helena by England after he had asked that country for asylum, mindful of its usual liberality. The story itself essentially concerned the humanizing effect of the emperor by a lovely teen-age girl on the verge of womanhood, and by a humorous and frank Irish doctor. Notable in these parts were Pamela Franklin and James Daly.

The dramatic ploy of the great man being humanized by a young girl and a warmhearted associate usually means open season on cliches and awful sentimentality. In this case, however, Howard's portrayal had the benefit of the best-written and most widely ranging part he has had on the "Hall of Fame" specials. The Lampell scrip, starting slowly in an admirable sense of gradual development, breathed great and believable life into the characters. And Howard tackled his role challengingly, forcefully, wisely, largely and even humorously.

Time and again, the script saved the premise from mundane results. For example, at one point Miss Franklin asks Napoleon what Josephine was like. "Josephine?" he replies. "Expensive... she had a way of carrying herself as though she were a gift."

The pathos of the story came from the increasing awareness that Napoleon's plans, with his few aides, to escape and return to Paris was slowly becoming an illusion. He is forced to move to a house where he is under close surveillance.

There is a scene in which Miss Franklin is punished by her parents and is kept in a cheese cellar. Napoleon, as her friend, joins her there, offering the touching understanding that it is the humiliation that hurts most. Later he suffers a special humiliation when the wife of one of his aides—a woman who would have been at his feet in Paris—rejects his proposition on St. Helena.

Baha'i Prayer For Mankind

O Thou kind Lord! Thou hast created all humanity from the same original parents. Thou hast intended that all belong to the same household. In Thy Holy Presence they are Thy servants and all mankind are sheltered beneath Thy Tabernacle. All have gathered at Thy table of bounty and are radiant through the light of Thy providence. O God! Thou art kind to all. Thou hast provided for all. Thou dost shelter all. Thou dost confer life upon all, Thou hast endowed all with talents and facilities; All are submerged in the ocean of Thy mercy. O Thou kind Lord! unite all, let the religious agree, make the nations one so that they may be as one kind and as children of the same fatherland. May they associate in unity and concord. O God! upraise the standard of the oneness of humankind. O God! establish the Most Great Peace. Cement the hearts together, O God! O God! O Thou kind Father, God! exhilerate the hearts through the fragrance of Thy love; brighten the eyes through the light of Thy guidance; cheer the hearing with the melodies of Thy Word and shelter us in the cave of Thy providence.

Thou art the Mighty and Powerful! Thou art the Forgiving and Thou art the One Who overlookest the shortcomings of humankind.

SAN RAFAEL CHARTER

Sometimes Creaky, Yet Farsighted

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

(Last of Four Articles.)

Many aspects of the San Rafael City Charter still carry the flavor of 1912, when it was approved by the city's voters.

For instance, the entire second section is a description of the boundaries of the city, now almost entirely out of date. The entire 10th section describes the police court and duties of the police judge. The city has neither.

In other ways, the board of freeholders seemed unusually farsighted. They assured the city the power to regulate signs and billboards, and to require undergrounding of utility lines, and many cities in California have never bothered to try to do either.

The directors of the new Marin Municipal Water District were holding their first meetings in 1912, but the city did not treat the district with complete confidence retaining the power to operate a city water distribution system, apparently in case the district was a failure.

Perhaps for a similar reason, the city retained power to run public utilities and transportation systems, and to subsidize private business. The subsidizing power is questionable under present state law, according to City Atty. David Menary Jr.

The San Rafael Journal of 1912 warned about use of subsidizing powers then because of scandals in Boston, where city-subsidized businesses went bankrupt.

When the charter was adopted, specific regulations concerning public health were written in, with the requirement that the city hire a health officer. Over the years the state and county have taken over almost all the public health functions, but the city still has a health officer, Dr. Harry Hund.

Hund said virtually his only function now is to make inspections of residences where certain kinds of animals are kept as pets. These are regulated by city ordinance. Menary said the function probably could be contracted to the county health department.

The original charter had one broad provision which merely said the city would have the power to do anything allowed by state law for cities to do, thus picking up powers that might otherwise have been missed by the freeholders.

In 1953, the city adopted a much stronger provision, which the state legislature agreed to. It gave the city government power over any "municipal affairs" not expressly prohibited by state law.

It was this new provision which gave the city power to establish a public housing project for the elderly without setting up an independent housing authority, as would be the case for a general law city.

But it is also this provision which may cause the most legal tangles for the city, because in many cases the courts have never adequately defined "municipal affairs," according to Menary.

But with the strong general grant of powers now in the charter, many of the specific statements of powers, such as authority to regulate dogs or billboards, may no longer be needed. The city has managed to get along without specific references to zoning powers, for instance, for years.

San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini, in asking for a study of the charter, said he had no specific complaint about the present document, but said that any such document that has not been closely studied for 30 years or more deserves a new look.

Revision would be possible in two ways, according to Menary. If only minor changes were needed, they could be done by amendment.

If there were to be a complete rewriting of the charter, then perhaps a new charter should be adopted, after a recommendation by a board of freeholders. In either case the voters would have to approve.

Bettini said some other Bay Area cities have recently revised their charters. He mentioned San Jose and Berkeley. Perhaps, he said, by looking at these new charters, San Rafael might be able to find things which have been left out but which are needed.

San Jose Junior High Elects

Janet Du Bose, eighth grade, was elected president of the student body at San Jose Junior High School in Novato last week. She was unopposed.

WHICH WAY YA' GOING?

Redwood linebacker Bill Niccolls (left) almost had a touchdown on this play Friday against Terra Linda. A pass was intended for Terra Linda's Jim Taylor (32) but it was short. Niccolls cut in and had a clear shot at the goal but couldn't hang on to the ball. As you can see, he was the only man running in that direction. Redwood plays Marin Catholic tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Kentfield Stadium, and Terra Linda plays San Rafael tomorrow night at 8 on the San Rafael High School field.

Prep Grid Deaths Mushrooming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

High school football fatalities have mushroomed to 21 with two more deaths yesterday.

The latest casualties were Sam Wortham, a 17-year-old fullback on the Titusville, Fla. High School team, and Leslie Pitts, 17-year-old guard for Orangeville, Ill. High School.

Coach John Gaines said films of the game showed no blows which could have caused Wortham's injury. The youngster was his team's leading scorer.

Pitts, a 160-pound senior, fell to the ground unconscious after blocking a defensive player in a game against Galena Friday night. The youngster never regained consciousness and died at St. Clare Hospital in Monroe, Wis.

Pitts suffered what was described as a mild concussion Sept. 24 in a game against the sophomore squad of Rockford East High School. He was released from a hospital after a four-day stay.

A week before Pitts was injured, Dr. Frank P. Smith, clinical associate professor and chairman of the division of neurological surgery at the University of Rochester, told a conference of 200 high school coaches, trainers and administrators that a player who continues in a game after a bruising tackle or block is a candidate for a fatal injury.

"We know from experience that it is the groggy player who is most likely to be killed," Dr. Smith said.

He urged the coaches not to accept the players' word that he is "okay" after an injury.

"Question them," he said. "Ask them their addresses, telephone numbers and the like to see if they are fully rational."

Dr. Smith explained that head injuries normally affect the central nervous system and prevent the player from reacting properly to protect themselves from impacts that are fatal.

There were 45 football deaths across the country last year, 34 in 1963 and 26 in 1962.

Tiger Favored To Win Title

Lester By Kayo Over Fernandez

Lester, 159 pounds, delighted about 5,100 hometown fans at Kezar Pavilion last night by dropping Fernandez twice before referee Vern Bybee ruled it a knockout at 49 seconds of the second round.

Fernandez got up both times at the count of six, but didn't know where he was the second time. A right hand decked the Cuban refugee in the first round and a left hook dumped him in the second.

Before the bout, promoters were negotiating to bring Griffith to San Francisco to meet Lester, who now has only one loss, on a decision, marring his record of 18 victories, 14 by knockout.

$16,092 GATE

Fernandez, 161½, was a 2-1 choice in the fight, which drew a gross of $16,092. It marked the sixth time Fernandez failed to go the distance and his 10th defeat in 53 fights.

"I was confident when I started and only kept thinking of keeping my right hand up (to protect against Fernandez' left hook) and to jab," Lester said afterwards.

"He hurt me in the first round with two hooks to the body and two hooks to the head," Lester said. "The first time he went down I figured he'd get up and I also knew he'd make it the second time. But I felt as long as he could take it, I could give it to him."

In preliminaries:

Dave Reed, 158, Oakland, Calif., outpointed Nate Collins, 156½, San Francisco, 6.

Bobby Murray, 145, San Francisco, outpointed Bobby Knox, 147½, Richmond, Calif., 6.

But Odds Switching To Giardello's Side

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — The odds favoring challenger Dick Tiger of Nigeria dropped to 7-5 over middleweight champion Joey Giardello today and may even swing the other way by the time they climb into the rin gtonight for their 15-round title fight.

Tiger, 36, was installed 3-1 by the odds-makers on Broadway when the Madison Square Garden fight was made several months ago. Since then the price has been dropping down as more support came in for the 35-year-old champion from Cherry Hill, N.J.

The aggressive, hard-hitting Nigerian was a 3-1 betting favorite the night he lost the title to the ring-smart Giardello at Atantic City, N.J., Dec. 7, 1963.

"For the iife of me I can't figure why the odds favor Tiger," said Giardello last night. "I beat him the last two times I fought him, and I can't see why I shouldn't beat him again. I'm telling you, I'm going to punch him silly. His style is right up my alley."

Tiger is hoping that the referee, who will be named at fight time, will prevent Giardello from excessive holding.

"I believe my chances are much stronger here than they were in Atlantic City," said the articulate Nigerian. "In that first fight the referee permitted him to get away with a lot of holding. I'm hoping he'll be forced to fight here.

"I am confident that with the proper officiating I will be able to defeat him."

The return fight has caught fire here and may lure a capacity crowd of 18,000 and a gross gate of $150,000 at prices ranging from $5 to $20.

Promoter Harry Markson of the Garden predicted a crowd of at least 15,000 and a gross gate of $125,000.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Tars Have Time On Their Hands; Sisler Joins Flighty 'U2' Club

WINCE UPON A TIME:

College of Marin halfback Dave Auerbach should be the most important player on the field when the Tars play Yuba J.C. on Oct. 30. Isn't that when Daylight Saving Time ends and we get that Auerbach? Anyway, he'll be the man to watch every second. The Tars might wind up and spring him loose on the opening tickoff. (Time out!)

THAT HEADLINE in Tuesday's I-J sounded more like a good plot for a spy thriller: "Cards Sign Deposed Red Pilot As Coach." Or, as Alvin said Darkly to Dick Sisler, "U2?"

DIVOTS: George Greenwood, who meets Milt Morely next Sunday for the Marin Country Club golf championship, is brother of ex-Philadelphia pitcher Bob Greenwood. Ex-American League All-Star shortstop Joe DeMaestri, also a Marin Country Clubber, remembers Bob well; he played against him back in the early 50s. DeMaestri, incidentally, is hitting that little pill well at Marin, reducing his handicap from 16 to 10 already this year.

BOOTLEGGER: The bootleg play which Drake High quarterback Bill Ingram used so successfully in engineering a 14-12 upset over Novato last Saturday was a last-minute addition to the Pirate repertoire. Coach Bob Franceschini inserted it into the Bucs' bag of tricks during the last five minutes of Friday's practice and—presto!—instant success . . . Ex-Terra Linda High star Rick Edwards is halfbacking it for the frosh grid team at Wash. St. where he's a business ad. major . . . I see where right winger (position, not politic) Len Haley is still holding out for more money. Whatsamatter with those Seals, they cheap skates or something?

PICK OF THE WEEK: Once-beaten, once-tied Novato over unbeaten Tam. By 20, by golly. I know this will probably get me drummed out of the Tam Chapter of the Marin Rob and Run Club and If I'm Wrong I'll eat this scrap of paper, especially prepared by Traitor Picks.

Peacock Casper On Top

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Bill Casper Jr., who trailed second by one stroke at the finish a year ago, set out today leading by to strokes in the second round of the $100,000 Sahara Invitational golf tournament.

The 34-year-old touring pro for Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael apparently had a firm grip at this stage in this eighth annual event on the PGA autumn tour.

But there was the foreboding figure of Jack Nicklaus, five strokes back with 54 holes to play.

An the weather and the condition of the greens, which tend to speed up in the late afternoon hot weather, figured to change the picture for the immediate challengers for first place.

Virtually all the low scorers in yesterday's first round started early and finished early, including Casper. Nicklaus was a late starter.

Mason Rudolph, one of the more consistent professionals, who finished late with a 73 yesterday, summed up the greens when he observed in his Tennessee drawl:

Casper opened up with a five-under par 66. Bobby Nichols and Dave Hill had 68s, and 10 others jammed the 69 bracket.

Eight more were tied at 70, and Nicklaus and nine companions were clustered at 71.

Play is at the 7,069-yard Paradise Valley Country Club, here par is 36-35—71.

The defending champion, R.H. (Dick) Sikes, had a 72. It was 10 strokes more than his first-round tournament record score a year ago.

Former U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi had a 74 in his first tournament competition since he unsuccessfully defended the title in the National Open last June. Venturi sai his approach shooting was a little rusty, but the circulatory ailment in his hansd apparently did not hamper his play.

Casper had a 32-34—66 round, which included six birdies and one bogey.

Haley Lone Seal Still Unsigned

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—One of the last two holdouts on the San Francisco Seals hockey team came to terms last night shortly before a game against the Portland Buckaroos.

Gerry Odrowski, defenseman with San Francisco the past two seasons, signed his contract and became eligible to play against Portland.

Seals Lose In Overtime To Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Portland's Cliff Schmautz scored on a scramble in front of the net three minutes into the overtime period Wednesday night to give the Bucks a 4-3 win over San Francisco.

The victory was Portland's third straight in league play while the Seals are 1-1.

Portland grabbed a 3-1 lead early in the second period as Bill Saunders, Gerry Goyer and Art Jones hit goals after Forbes Kennedy had one for the Seals.

But Kennedy scored again and Wayne Maxner tallied to knot the count after two stanzas. There were no goals in the final period.

First period: 1. San Francisco, Kennedy (Lund) 2:28. 2. Portland, Saunders (Leach, C. Schmautz) 18:55. Penalties: Madigan P minor and misconduct 10:40, McNabb SF minor and misconduct 10:40, Kennedy SF 12:42, Winterstein P 12:42, San Francisco ben 18:24.

BACKUP MAN

Warriors Swap Two For Royals' Olsen

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The San Francisco Warriors finally had a back up man for center Nate Thurmond today.

The Warriors yesterday swapped Connie Dierking and Art Meyman, neither of whom wore a San Francisco uniform this season, to Cincinnati for Bud Olsen, a 6-8 veteran who can go at center or forward.

San Francisco had picked up Heyman on waivers from New York earlier this week. Dierking, who backed up Thurmond well last season, had refused to leave his Cincinnati business to go to another town.

The Warriors also got an undisclosed amount of cash in the deal.

San Francisco thought it had a back up man for Thurmond in rookie Fred Hetzel, but the Davidson flash is out for a month with a finger injury. He now becomes the team's 12th man, which means he can't put on a uniform.

Olsen is 25 and in his fourth National Basketball Assn. season. The former University of Louisville ace played about one-third of the time for Cincinnati last year and scored at a 7.5 point per game clip with a 45 per cent shooting average.

The Warriors Tuesday night nipped Cincinnati 100-99 to run their record to 1-1. The 6-foot-11 Thurmond went all the way in both contests since there was nobody who could back him up.

San Francisco concludes its brief road trip Saturday night against Baltimore, and the Bullets may not have the services of their best forward, Gus Johnson.

Johnson dislocated a bone in his wrist last week. A doctor manipulated it back into place but said he might miss a few games.

Sugar Ray Stops Foe In 3d Round

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson scored a technical knockout over Rudolph Bent of Kingstown, Jamaica, in 2:20 of the third round in a scheduled 10-round fight last night.

Trojans, Beware Of South Bend Ambush!

The other afternoon, a heartening thing happened in college football. Stanford's football team showed up with a real Indian on it. At quarterback. I take this to mean a wholesome trend has been established. I mean, an Indian at the controls of the Indians hasn't happened since Sitting Bull.

I also take this to mean we now may expect to see a real bear playing for the Chicago Bears and a few churchmen in red hats playing for the St. Louis Cardinals.

But my real hope is that, some day soon, the Fighting Irish from Notre Dame will have someone in the backfield with an apostrophe in his name instead of an umlaut. I have seen in recent years Fighting Irish teams which were neither. Then, back in the days when they were good, they had more consonants in the lineup than the Warsaw phone book. The Japanese army had more Irishmen than they did.

Then they went out a couple of years ago and hired a man with a fine County Clare ring to his name — Ara Parseghian. Someone suggested he bring his rugs when he came.

ARA PARSEGHIAN not only isn't Irish, he isn't even Catholic. He probably is even a Democrat. This is not a first at Notre Dame. The Fighting Irish legend was a compound of a Scandinavian coach, a Protestant halfback, a Southern Baptist journalist, a Jewish All-American, and so many Poles that the scoreboard would run out of "z's" when the fighting Irish showed up to play. The Ecumenical movement started in the Notre Dame backfield long before the Vatican thought of it.

But, for the first time in a long while in 1963, they had a coach who didn't know the "Hail Mary" and a team that didn't know much else. A Michigan coach once described his attack as a "pass, punt and prayer." All Parseghian had were prayers.

YEARE AGO, Notre Dame teams were so good its halfbacks got photographed on horseback more often than Tom Mix. But the 1963 team couldn't make a first down even on horseback. They usually got photographed on their own backs.

Parseghian took a team that played the game with all the cocky confidence of a band of fugitives. He found a quarterback cobwebbed on one corner of the bench and made a Heisman Trophy winner out of him. His predecessor wouldn't even let John Huarte pass the bread. He had thrown 91 straight passes without an interception at the time, but the word was, he was so scatter-armed that nobody could catch what he threw.

THE TEAM had more muscle that a Turkish palace guard and once Parseghian got them to quit playing like guys facing a firing squad, they manhandled 10 opponents. They were the best team in the country for nine games and 45 minutes. Then, in the USC game, someone got the bright idea of holding on the 1-foot line. Why nobody would feel holding was necessary for a 12-inch touchdown has never been satisfactoritly explained, but the handkerchief was on the ground. And the overalls were in the chowder. Notre Dame lost to USC, 20-17.

USC HAS made a specialty of spoiling unbeaten seasons for Notre Dame. They did it most spectacularly in 1931 when they also spotted the pride of Ireland a big lead and wiped it out in the last quarter, 16-14.

As this is written, I am on my way back to South Bend where I have a feeling the biggest ambush since Custer is being prepared. This time, USC is undefeated. If it beats Notre Dame, it will be the best team in the country. It already has the best player in the country. I expect that if you look at the tackling dummies in the Notre Dame practice field, the one bearing No. 20 will have the most sawdust falling out of it. It will be the one that looks as if a Doberman Pinscher got at it.

WATCH THE game carefully on TV Saturday. If the Irish lock the gates when they take the field, watch for the most one-sided contest since lions stopped eating up Christians. I have a feeling that it will be USC that needs a priest before it's over.

I I were they, I wouldn't let Mike Garrett get any closer to South Bend than Wichita. In fact, I'd be tempted to mail the loss in right now, because Notre Dame has had two weeks to get ready for this game. And the year to think about it.

THE WAY Notre Dame will run at them, it may be the first game in history to begin in South Bend and end in Terra Haute. If so, USC should re-christen it "Terror Haute." All I know is I'm not going to bring my binoculars. The only guy who likes murder in close-ups is Alfred Hitchcock. I have a feeling he's going to like this game.

Indians' Gabe Paul Gains In Commissioner's Ballot

By JOE REICHLER

CHICAGO (AP) — There is growing sentiment among the major league club owners to set the wheels in motion for a draft of Gabe Paul, part owner of the Cleveland Indians, as the next commissioner of baseball.

The inability of the owners to muster appreciable support yesterday for a single candidate outside the confines of baseball has changed the moguls' thinking again.

Most of the owners once again favor a ruler from their own ranks.

Paul's most enthusiastic supporter is Bill DeWitt, owner of the Cincinnati Reds. DeWitt originally proposed Paul but the president of the Indians subsequently asked that he not be considered.

"And I put it in writing, too," Paul emphasized.

Undaunted, DeWitt said he plans to try again.

"A man can always change his mind," said DeWitt, "especially if it is in the best interests of baseball.

"I believe Gabe would make an excellent commissioner. He has the ability, the thorough knowledge of all aspects of the game, the integrity, the leadership, the courage of his convictions. Furthermore, he is the ideal man for those who might tend toward drawing party lines. He has been both a National and an American Leaguer."

What started out as a list of 18 candidates when the club owners gathered Tuesday was reduced substantially with five men emerging as the leading candidates before the new development.

These five were Eugene M. Zuckert, secretary of the Air Force: Curtis E. LeMay, former chief of staff and head of the Strategic Air Command; G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange; Joe Cronin, president of the American League, and Louis Carroll, legal counsel for the National League.

Not one of these, however, could gather enough support to warrant even an unofficial ballot. Fourteen votes — seven from each league — are required for election.

When that fact became obvious, the co-chairmen of the screening committee, John Fetzer of Detroit and John Galbreath of Pittsburgh requested what they call an "advisory ballot," confining the candidates to men in baseball.

Ballots were passed out and the owners were asked to name their choice. Paul, according to reports, came through strongly in the unofficial balloting as did Cronin and Carroll.

Others who received votes were John McHale, president of the Milwaukee Braves; Lee MacPhail, president of the Baltimore Orioles; Buzzie Bavasi, general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Joe Brown, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The voting breakdown was unavailable.

"Paul would be very much acceptable to the owners if he made himself available," said a prominent club owner who did not want to be identified. "I feel he can get the necessary amount of votes.

"I can understand his hesitation to become a candidate. As a club owner he has an investment to consider as well as obligations, committments and responsibilities to other people.

"But I think he can be persuaded if the job is made attractive enough and his personal business involvements could be taken care of satisfactorily."

In any event, the election of a successor to Ford Frick will not take place until the annual major league winter meetings in Miami Beach, Dec. 2.

The owners entrusted the screening committee with the job of contacting and ierviewing the candidates and reporting back with recommendations to the Dec. 2 meeting.

The committee was enlarged by the addition of owners Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs and Bob Reynolds of the California Angels.

"We will not recommend anyone without unanimous agreement," said Fetzer.

2 Novatans Among Prep Grid Leaders

Novato has two gridders on top of two catagories that make up a potent passing attack, according to latest statistics in the Marin Athletic League.

Hornet southpaw quarterback John Dolinsek is top man, according to percentage of completions, in the passing department, completing 14 of 26 passes, and end Tom Corder has been his favorite target, leading the receivers of the league with nine receptions for 202 yards.

Drake's fleet fullback Dean Lazzarini is still the leading rusher in the MCAL, with 363 yards in 59 carries, a nifty 6.2 average. Rocky Shone, halfback for the San Rafael Bulldogs, is the top scorer so far with 24 points in league competition.

In team statistics, Drake leads rushing with a 178-yard average, and Novato leads in passing (131 average) and total offense, averaging 290 yards per game. Defensively, Terra Linda has the best figures in all three categories, rush defense (77 average), pass defense (59 average), and total defense (136 average).

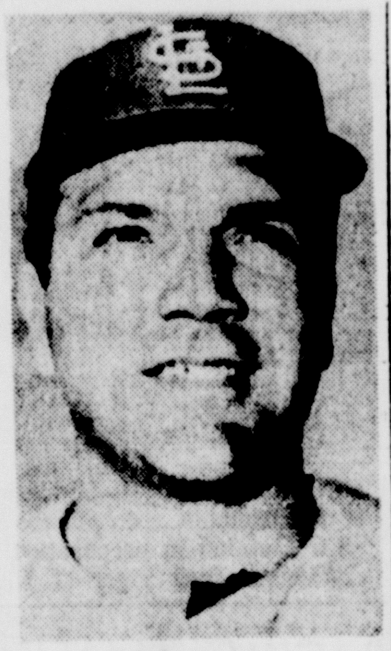
Old Cards Getting Shuffled



KEN BOYER
He's now a Met

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ken Boyer, one of the greatest third basemen in St. Louis Cardinal history, has become the first to feel the bite of the Cardinals' plummet from world champion to seventh place in the National League.

Boyer, the Cardinal captain, was traded yesterday to the New York Mets for left-hander pitcher Al Jackson and third baseman Charley Smith. An unnamed triple-A player also will be sent to the Mets.

"If they started making trades, it figures that the older players would be the first to go," said the 34-year-old, $60,000-a-year power hitter.

If this is true, Boyer may be followed by others. Shortstop Dick Groat, who fell from a .292 batting average in 1964, to .254 last season, will be 35 next month. Left-hander Curt Simmons, who dropped to a 9-15 record after an 18-9 season, is 36. And right-hander Bob Purkey, who was ineffective at 10-9, is 36.

Boyer, however, was the biggest disappointment. Only one year ago, he was named the National League's Most Valuable Player. He was the hero who helped the Cardinals win the pennant with a .296 batting average, 24 home runs and a league-leading 119 runs batted in.

As a result, he shouldered much of the blame in the 1965 collapse, hitting only .260 with 13 homers and 74 RBI. He was hampered much of the season by a back injury.

Now, after 11 seasons with the Cardinals in which he hit 255 home runs, drove in 1,001 runs and averaged just under .300, Boyer is in a position of having to make a comeback.

Smith, 28, has bounced around with several teams for six years, only three as a regular. With the Mets he has hit .244 and .239 in two seasons, slammed 36 homers and driven in 120 runs.

Jackson, who will be 30 in december, has been with the Mets for four season, with records of 2-20, 13-17, 11-16 and 8-20. He features a sinking fast ball.

The Cardinals, and other clubs, have had their eyes on the 5-foot-9, 163-pound Jackson for some time.

Joey Is Getting Betting Support

covering mostly eastern cities. The metropolitan New York area will be blacked out of the telecast. There will be a local radio broadcast.

Giardello, a veteran of 18 years of pro fighting, has been guaranteed $50,000 or the privilege of 40 per cent of the net gate and television receipts. Tiger, a pro 14 years, will collect $15,000 or 20 per cent of the package.

This is a big payday for Giardello and he hopes to keep on collecting more of them. He may because he seems to be improving with age.

Pal Joey can't punch too hard and when it comes to speed afoot he is more turtle than rabbit. All Joey seems to have done in recent years is win so he must be doing something right.

The ring-scarred boxing master has won nine straight in nearly three years including the title win over Tiger and a narrow 15-round decision in his only title defense. That was over hard-hitting Hurricane Carter at Philadelphia Dec. 14, 1964.

Tiger, on the other hand, looked most impressive in dropping Carter and handing him a sound pounding in a Garden 10-rounder last May 20. That could be the reason for the betting backing Tiger.

Giardello's won-lost-draw record is 98-22-7, including 32 knockouts. He's been stopped three times on cuts but the last time was seven years ago. The champion can take a good punch.

Tiger's record is 51-14-3 including 24 kayos. He's never been stopped.

Scoring will be by the rounds sytem. The referee and two judges will be named at fight time.

MARIN 'CATS, REDWOOD IN DAYTIME TILT

Weekday prep football hits College of Marin Stadium tomorrow afternoon when Redwood and Marin Catholic high schools clash at 3:30 p.m.

Redwood, being the home team for this game, elected to hold it during the day rather than night as is the case for all other prep Friday games.

It's a contest Redwood must win to remain in title contention, as the Giants have already lost one game and have been tied in another. Redwood has been tabbed an overwhelming choice to hand Marin Catholic's Wildcats their fourth straight Marin Athletic League loss.

Big Bill Stars Again As Celts Stop Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As long as they have Big Bill Russell, the champion Boston Celtics are the team to beat for the National Basketball Association title.

Big Bill, the highest paid player in the NBA with a $100,001 contract, has led the Celtics to seven straight NBA championships. The former All-America from the University of San Francisco demonstrated anew his value to the Celtics last night in leading Boston to a 100-96 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

The Lakers, with a team reported to be their best in six years, had been touted as the club that would end the Celtics' championship reign this year. But the Lakers suffered their first defeat after victories over San Francisco and St. Louis.

"Russell, as usual, was the difference," said Fred Schaus, the Los Angeles coach, after the game in Boston. "We just couldn't get the ball even off our own board."

Russell grabbed a total of 29 rebounds and contributed 10 points as the Celtics spurted in the last quarter to wipe out a 77-74 Laker lead. An 11-point spree put the Celtics on top 85-78 and they stayed in front the rest of the way.

Marin Runner Ties Vallejo Course Mark

Carl Jensen of Novato, sophomore at College of Marin, tied a cross country course record at Vallejo College yesterday when he led the Tars to a 24-32 victory.

Breedlove Undaunted By Wreck

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Scrappy Craig Breedlove, undaunted by a brush with death, says he'll take another shot at the 536.71 miles per hour world land speed record on Oct. 31.

Breedlove said late yesterday he would haul his jet racer into Salt Lake City for installation of two large nose fins to hold down the front of the car on the track.

The car, Spirit of America-Sonic I, almost dumped Breedlove into a pond of brine yesterday. Its front end rose as Breedlove hit what he said was 600 m.p.h.

The car started to veer off course. Breedlove twisted the steering wheel as the airspeed indicator passed 600 m.p.h., but nothing happened.

He opened his braking parachute, but it yanked off.

The racer careened out of the official timing area, off the track, across wet salt, through an opening in a line of telephone poles and finally rolled to a stop in front of a salt water pond.

Drake Freshman Sets A Record

Drake High School freshman Chuck Allen established a new school record yesterday to lead his cross country team to a 19-40 triumph over Marin Catholic.

Allen ran the 1.9 mile course in San Anselmo in 12:06. Drake won three of the first four places.

Waterfowl Season Nears

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

Now comes the moment of truth! The word has been passed around that the long looked for run of striped bass in the upper San Pablo has arrived. The fact that 21 nice fish ranging from 20 pounds, 8 ounces, to 35 pounds were winners of prizes in the Rodeo Bass Derby over the past weekend is given as proof.

It's a fact that 21 fish were winners. The chances are that many more fish were caught but were not entered in the derby. But—how many fishermen did it take to reach the 21 winners? If an estimated 400 fishermen were out on the water trying hard to catch a bass large enough to enter into the contest, the take was actually small.

I ASKED at a number of spots where small craft or party boats were fishing on Saturday and Sunday, and the number of fish per person was extremely small. For example: The Quans of China Camp reported a dozen bass for Sunday and only one bass on Monday. From Crockett I learned that Johnny Sivera brought in five bass on a large number of rods working. Cap Arnie piloting Dowrelio No. 5, netted only two bass for his crowd and the Bluefish also had two bass to 17 pounds. There were a total of 77 anglers fishing. Dillon's Point reported very spotty fishing but an occasional bass has been caught on plugs and ditto on bait.

Why am I mentioning all this? Simply because it would be too bad if my readers got the idea that fishing was as it used to be a few years ago during the month of October, and go fishing with the expectation of limiting out in short order.

IF YOU HAPPEN to be in the right spot at the right stage of the tide and have the right tackle and the right bait, you may get your legal limit of nice fish, but don't be disappointed if it doesn't happen that way. You are going fishing not for fish alone, but for the relaxation in the fresh air, when you can forget your trials and tribulations and just soak up the uncontaminated air, and forget everything else. Oh, sure such a trip is still better if you do happen to hook a good-sized bass on your light tackle. I hope it happens that way with each of you, but I also hope very earnestly that you are content to be trying even if you get no fish.

Salmon fishing outside the Gate is very very slow . . . it's not the weather or the water, it's just that there are no schools of salmon around. Which makes some of the old-timers wonder why we have had no news of salmon being caught inside the Gate. In the Red Rock area for example.

BY THE WAY, speaking of salmon, I received a report from Jim Roads of Happy Camp. Jim said a new run of salmon and steelhead has been spotted at Ishi Pishi, 39 miles downstream from Happy Camp: "Should be here in two weeks," reported Jim.

I note from Jim Road's report that a number of anglers from the Bay Area have been having a ball with fish to 8 pounds. Night crawlers are being used successfully, as are Jensen's lures (⅛ ounce), same weight with little jewel in silver. Fly fishing has been slow.

The March To Marshes Get Started Saturday

By JERRY HARRELL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The annual march to the marshes starts Saturday for most of California's 135,000 waterfowl hunters.

The hunting season opens one-half hour before sunrise in most of the state, including such prime shooting areas as the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys and the San Francisco Bay Area.

The season continues in areas where it began two weeks ago—in the northeast and along the Colorado River. Seasons there are set to coincide with those of Oregon and Arizona.

Duck populations indicate this season's hunting could be slightly better than last year's. But stricter rules on mallards and pintails—the state's most popular birds —could result in a slightly reduced kill.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, reporting reduced populations of sprig and greenheads on the Canadian breeding grounds, ruled that the bag this year could contain no more than three of the two species singly or in combination.

This stirred controversy in California, primary wintering ground for Pacific Flyway waterfowl, because hunters claimed there was no shortage of the birds in the West as there was in the East.

Concern has been expressed, too, that many of the private clubs which provide winter habitat for ducks won't bother to flood their fields with the limit trimmed on sprig and mallards.

Five more state-federal waterfowl management areas will open for hunters Saturday. They are Grizzly Island, San Luis Wasteway, Los Banos, Mendota and Imperial. Honey Lake, in the northeast, opened Oct. 9 and remains open.

Six others have later starts so they can hold ducks during harvests of surrounding crop areas and hold raids by hungry ducks to a minimum.

Opening Oct. 30 will be Gray Lodge, Colusa, Sutter, Delevan and Sacramento. Merced is slated for a Nov. 30 opener.

More than 67,000 hunters used the management areas and refuges last year. They averaged a bag of 1.8 birds.

Bob LaDonne, game biologist for the State Fish and Game Department, looks for a good opener and a generally good season. That's subject, of course, to the weather. Good duck hunting depends on bad weather as a rule.

An exception to the rule has been the northeast, which continues to provide good shooting despite only fair duck populations and bluebird weather.

John Reginato, manager for the Shasta-Cascade Wonderland Association and a veteran duck hunter, said the only problem on a hunt earlier this week was finding lesser birds after taking limits of pintails and mallards.

The general duck season continues through Jan. 5 with a limit of five ducks per day and 10 in possession. The daily bag may include no more than three mallard or pintail in the aggregate. The two-bird limit on wood ducks and canvasbacks remains in effect this year.

Goose hunters get a few extra days, with the general season continuing through Jan. 9. The limit is six per day and six in possession, including not less than three white geese and not more than three of the dark species.

Bag limits vary in the northeast and Colorado River areas, and hunters should check the detailed local regulations.

The Novato Sports Car Club will hold a "Halloween Hunt" time and distance rally Sunday, starting at Schard's Brothers Mobile Station on South Novato Boulevard, at 1 p.m.

Howard Nabs A.L. Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Howard, the towering, former Dodger who became a big man in Washington, has been chosen the American League's Comeback Player-of-the-Year for 1965.

The 6-foot-7 outfielder drew 61 votes in the annual Associated Press poll of 281 sports writers and sportscasters. The results announced today showed that Minnesota pitcher Jim Grant was second with 58 votes followed by Norm Cash, Detroit first baseman, with 24.

Howard boosted his batting average 63 points the past season, finishing with .289 compared to .226 with the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1964. The Senators obtained him last winter, sending pitcher Claude Osteen, infielder John Kennedy, first baseman Dick Nen and an estimated $100,000 to Los Angeles.

Heavy Trading Advances Market To New Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market surged to record highs in heavy trading late this afternoon.

Volume for the day was estimated at 9.1 million shares compared with 8.23 million Wednesday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains of fractions to a point among key stocks pushed the averages toward all-time peaks.

Some prices were trimmed as traders took profits in the afternoon but the list remained well ahead.

Many low-priced issues and speculative stocks were traded heavily. At the same time blue chips were far from backward.

Fairchild Camera spurted more than 5 points. Up 2 or better were Anaconda, Reveer Copper and McIntyre-Porcupine. Atlantic Coast Line rose more than 3.

Some stocks faltered as profits were taken. Xerox lost 2, Zenith about a point.

Among the lower - priced issues, Lehigh Valley Industries gained a substantial fraction for a big percentage gain and looked like the most active stock.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds showed little change.

Stan's For Sports Prepares Debut For First Branch Store

The first branch store of Stan's for Sports will make its opening debut tomorrow at 2 Tiburon Boulevard in Strawberry.

Like the San Rafael store, which is across from the Montecito Shopping Center, it is located close enough (at the north edge) to Strawberry Town and Country Village to benefit by its shopping pattern.

It is in an attractive building of its own, designed by Donald Keith Olsen and constructed by Al Villa, with about 8,000 square feet of retail space. Not quite as large as the San Rafael store, but it has room for a wide variety of sporting equipment and men's and women's sports wear which is being added to the shelves daily. There is offstreet parking for 35 cars.

Store manager is William Holloway, who has been with Stan Goldsmith at the San Rafael store for five years. Head of the women's department is Carol Gamas, who started working for Stan's part time while going to school and then went into full time work.

SUNDAY from noon until 5 p.m., Goodman Building Supplies stores in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael, and across the 101 Highway from Strawberry Town and Country Village will have their annual demonstration of home "built-in food centers."

As in the past, each store will cook a 100-pound roast in an ordinary oven as part of the demonstration, and this will be served up to visitors in sandwiches and with refreshments throughout the afternoon—or as long as the food lasts.

JON O. HOOPER of San Rafael has been promoted to materials manager for the marine products operation of Raytheon Co. Previously he was materials control supervisor. Hooper joined Raytheon in 1959, held supervisory posts at the Waltham, Mass., plant for four years, and was administrative assistant in Mountain View before transferring to the South San Francisco facility.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. ephen M. Young says he has arned the Central Intelligence gency hired South Vietnamese dress as Viet Cong and kill en and rape women with the jective of discrediting the ommunists. A CIA spokesman alls the charge "absolutely alse."

And Rep. Cornelius E. Gallaher, D-N.J., said of the Ohio emocrat's allegation yesteray: "It may well be that he poke to a Viet Cong disguised s a CIA man."

Both Young and Gallagher were in South Viet Nam several months ago and were briefed here by American officials.

Last night, he denied he had said a CIA man was his source and said he got his information from an American military officer. He did not name the man.

Nevertheless, Young said, "I confirmed through the CIA today that it employed some South Vietnamese nationals to pose as Viet Cong—and I take a dim view of that."

Young, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he will ask the committee to investigate CIA activities.

Man Says He Was Robbed Of $500

John N. Camelow, 1108 Irwin Street, San Rafael, told police Tuesday he was jumped by two men in an alley outside his home Friday night and robbed of $500.

He said he met a man called "Les" in a bar and they had two drinks at the rear of the house in Irwin Street. The man then left and Camelow said he was robbed as he made his way back to his home.

Camelow did not report the theft but was questioned by officers after Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa heard an account "in a round-about manner," police said.

Quicksilver Mine Gets Use Permit

Marin County supervisors Tuesday granted a five-year use permit for Buttes Gas and Oil Co. to operate a mercury mine on the Gambonini Ranch east of Marshall, with strict regulations on reseeding of cuts and fills.

The permit will be subject to yearly review by the county planning department.

Immediately after the permit approval, Mrs. Grace Wellman of Kentfield asked that the county look into regulations that could be established at the state level on strip mining. The supervisors agreed to do so.

Federal Support Believed Available For County Dump

A county dump that would eventually be converted to a golf course in Corte Madera could qualify for federal support, county public works director Donald R. Frost said today.

Frost, Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald Usher and acting park and recreation director Walter Horchler yesterday went to the San Francisco regional office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, which administers federal grants for purchase of open space.

Oliver Everett, assistant director of the office, said the proposed golf course use would make it possible to apply to the federal agency for 50 per cent of the purchase cost.

The 90-acre site is on the south bank of Corte Madera Creek, just east of Highway 101. Under the proposal, the county would use the land as a dump for about 10 years. Then it would be converted to a nine-hole golf course.

When first proposed several months ago, the dump brought several protesting letters to the board of supervisors. The board asked Frost to look into other sites.

Frost said today there does not appear to be any other choice than the Corte Madera site.

Everett told the Marin officials that the project first must have the blessing of the recently formed Bay Fill Study Commission. If the commission approves the proposal, the application for an HHFA grant could then be filed.

Welfare Programs Grease Skids To Overindebtedness

The widespread use of credit cards and installment buying is both a convenience and a handicap for many consumers today.

For the disciplined who do not overextend their credits, the system has been a boon. But for those who can't resist the impulse to go on a spending spree with no thought to the day of reckoning, the system poses a serious problem.

"Overindebtedness has become the No. 1 family financial problem of our times," according to Sidney Margolius, a member of the President's Consumer Advisory Council.

In some cases, overindebtedness is unavoidable. Unexpected medical bills, vocational problems, and unforeseen tragedies often saddle responsible families with bills that cannot be paid.

But family consultants have found that many families seeking guidance in handling their debts are not really poor, but have incomes in the $5,000 to $10,000 range, some as high as $20,000.

This is the group that can, if it has the will, exercise more discipline so that a balance can be restored between spending habits and their resources.

Individual laxity is not entirely to blame. Society as a whole, by adopting various programs to aid the unfortunate, also may be partially responsible for lulling citizens into the belief that the county, the state and federal government will come to their rescue.

There is less inducement for the irresponsible to stock up for a rainy day if they know that parents, a big brother or rich uncle (Sam) stands ready to catch them when they fall.

War on poverty, aid to the needy and other welfare programs have their place in modern society.

But county, state and federal agencies, which administer such programs, have as much obligation to keep a constant rein on amounts doled out as in seeing that the genuinely needy are fed, clothed and educated.

Constant checks and reminders are needed to re-instill in Americans the idea that dependence on public aid should be the exception, not the rule; that they are expected to meet every obligation they incur, barring unexpected tragedies.

Overindebtedness and liberal spending via installment payments may be the modern way. But when a member of the National Consumer Advisory Council warns that the practice has reached a critical stage, it's time we took notice.

The step back toward self-discipline in spending and more self-reliance may be a bitter one. Nevertheless, it will have to be taken if individuals are to retain their initiative and self-respect.

Autumn—Season Of Seeds

Autumn in Marin, as elsewhere, is the season of the seeds. A few plants, such as the acacias, mature their seeds in mid-summer, but the vast majority of them ripen in the fall.

Seeds are a true miracle of Nature. Their abundance is staggering. For every seed that grows into a new plant, thousands go to waste. With incredible precision and economy, each seed packs a condensed image of its parents into a neat capsule, along with food and a tough skin or shell to protect it until it finds proper conditions for growth.

It is the miracle of life. Something which makes even scientists humble, for they cannot understand all the facets of seed production. And the more they learn, the more they discover that they do not know.

This time of year sees the end and the beginning of the cycle of life. Seeds. Seeds. Seeds. Winter's moisture, the good earth, and spring's warming sun will complete the transition from seed to plant. And Nature will be off on another round.

Politics Account For Some Odd Goings-On In Official Circles

By HENRY MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — Some highly amusing as well as confusing things are happening around Sacramento these days. This is common when politicians start thinking about running for office next year. Of course, they always are thinking along those lines, but the actual fact that campaign time is approaching leads to some unusual gyrations.

FIRST, Gov. Edmund G. Brown recently made a "tour" of tomato fields south of Sacramento. His office issued a press release the day before the tour, declaring California had a "tremendous" tomato harvest, and suggested that Republican U.S. Sen. George Murphy "eat crow" for Thanksgiving dinner, and apologize to California workers for his "long series of damaging statements about our agricultural industry."

Brown lauded reduction in the use of Mexican braceros, and use of domestic labor in harvesting what his pre-issued press release said would be a near record crop, and declared that next year, it is unlikely braceros will be needed in California.

Of course, the big question is how many domestics will be needed if all the tomato growers manage to secure mechanical harvesters?

THE NEXT amusing item is revival of the battle between Tom Braden, head of the state board of education, Democrat, and Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, Republican, who have been feuding nearly four years.

Braden so far isn't running for anything, although he has been mentioned as a possible candidate for lieutenant governor in place of Glenn Anderson, who is somewhat on the spot because of his alleged mishandling of the Watts Negro riots.

Rafferty, it is assumed, will run again for the office he now holds, despite the fact he has been mentioned many times as a possible Republican gubernatorial candidate.

It seems Braden invited Rafferty to go to Oregon, and represent the state board of education at a meeting in that state. After Rafferty was safely across the state line, the board held a meeting in San Francisco, and jumped all over Rafferty for "dallying" in putting a federal aid program into effect.

RAFFERTY came right back in a press conference, declaring everything is being done in accordance with law to enable California to get the federal money, and termed the attack by Braden and two other board members as "shabby."

Although education administration in California is supposed to be on a non-partisan basis, it would appear this has somewhat changed with the top administrator and the top policy maker, both who seem to have political ambitions, a Republican and a Democrat. So the situation becomes amusing, but not confusing, at least to those who understand a few things about politics!

Chamber Argues For 'Try Marin First'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

During this Marin Chamber of Commerce Month, many promotional groups wil be urging us to BUY IN MARIN, SHOP MARIN, and TRY MARIN FIRST before purchasing goods or services elsewhere. In response, Marinites can rightly ask what economic significance such programs have for them.

The answer lies in growth. Marin is growing; and so are its taxes, problems, and advisors. Some want still more growth in the form of industry, tourists, and even government growth administrators. What most of us probably want is relief—from taxes, from prices, from traffic and probably from people too.

The Chamber "Buy In Marin" program offers significant relief. Local business pays substantial taxes—sales, business inventory, license, and real property. In Corte Madera, for example, Town sales tax revenue exceeds Town property tax revenue. Furthermore, successful businesses expand; and as they do, they pay still more in taxes that afford relief. And Marin residents can aid such expansion by their own business habits. It is easier for us to get a local business to expand, broaden its services, or relocate than it is to attract industries or visitors which may not be as welcome as our tax-base-broadeners may suggest.

Obviously, there is no single solution to the complex problems of growth and tax relief. But the "Try Marin First" theme deserves our attention. Established and reputable businesses in downtown areas, accessible and problem-free facilities in regional centers, and the numerous supporting goods and services located throughout Marin now afford the Marin resident a real opportunity to buy at home, at competitive prices, and with substantial variety. If we avail ourselves of this opportunity, we can contribute materially to the solution of some of the tax and other problems that growth creates.

Judge Goldstein Receives Plaudits

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The editorial of Oct. 5, 1965, is indeed a credit to your paper as well as to men like the Hon. Judge Alvin Goldstein . . .

Whenever such articles can be submitted to the press without fear by respectable citizens, based on truth beyond any doubt, officials with appointive privileges should by all means take a personal interest in whom they appoint to carry on the ethical function of law and justice according to true American traditions.

Student Marchers Should Be Drafted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . Anyone is free to protest the involvement of our government in foreign affairs, even when that involvement is our own future protection . . . I am speaking of the Viet Nam Peace Committee — or whatever it is named.

The people participating in this protest I have seen (as have news reporters) in practically every demonstration of protest in the U.S.A.

It is my belief that even though a person is attending college and is exempt from the draft, it's fine, as long as it's an education he wants. But if that person wishes to protest against people keeping this country free and safe, then he should automatically be drafted . . . These protest people help the enemy . . .

Every intelligent person knows to pull out of Viet Nam would not mean peace of any kind. Only another gain for communism. So what the pacifist of this type is doing is aiding communism. Though I'm sure their intentions are good. They are misguided misfits . . .

I believe they should be allowed to march as long as they don't harm anything or anyone. Then the news media and everyone should ignore them. Their importance should and would diminish if ignored . . .

They are a disgrace to our American way of life . . . They are mostly college dropouts and beatniks. I believe they are sick. But it's another price we pay for freedom. While decent men go and fight to preserve life, they have to protect the rights of these bums, who are in a way helping the enemy.

If we ignored Viet Nam, then another gain for the Reds. Too bad it's not as simple as some writers think. Like bombing them with food. Marvelous if it could work. The world would be nice and easy if that was all it took.

Reader Praises Outspoken Ones

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This letter is written to offer hearty congratulations on the objectively informative editorial coverage the Independent-Journal is devoting to (1) the unfortunate Gallinas Village Community Services District matter, (2) the equally unfortunate board of supervisors' Fairchild semi-conductor tax decision, and (3) Supervisor E. N. Kettenhofen's subsequent wrongful attempt to muzzle auditor-controller Michael Mitchell and tax collector Stanley J. Fontez for selflessly speaking out against the board's unfortunate tax decision.

In my judgment, Albert R. Borden deserves all possible commendation for bringing the Gallinas Village matter to the public's attention, because it is already abundantly evident that much constructive public good has resulted from his dedicated efforts.

But it is heartening and refreshing to Mrs. Stuart and myself beyond any means of adequate expression for two public officials, who were elected by all Marin County citizens, to speak up forthrightly, clearly and in full conformance with their sworn public trust, responsibility and duty as Mitchell and Fontez for their valiantly constructive observations in this board of supervisors' tax decision matter.

Johnson's Congressional Batting Average Good But Not Perfect

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Lyndon B. Johnson's batting average with the 89th Congress now pressing for adjournment of its first session will compare favorably with the best of any of his predecessors.

BUT IT WON'T show all hits and runs. There are going to be some major bills left on base.

But not even Johnson got everything he wanted. He still could, for this is only the first session of the 89th, and all unfinished business carries over to next year when Congress takes up where it leaves off in 1965.

Topping the list of deferred legislation are two bills close to the heart of organized labor which supported Johnson in the 1964 elections.

ONE IS the controversial measure to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. This section allows states to ban inclusion in labor-management contracts of provisions requiring all covered employes to belong to or contribute to a union.

The House passed the bill July 28. But the measure ran into a filibuster in the Senate. So the Democratic leadership took the bill off the calendar and laid it aside until next year.

Labor's other top-priority bill got sidetracked in the House after being approved by the Education and Labor Committee in much more liberal form than the President wanted. It would raise the minimum wages of workers in interstate industry and extend coverage to millions of additional workers.

ALSO STILL high and dry is the President's proposal for home rule for residents of the District of Columbia, for whom Congress has been acting as a city council for years. The Senate went along with the President on this legislation but the House passed a much different bill calling for a referendum of capital voters to decide if they want a home rule charter. The two branches haven't been able to get together on a compromise version.

On some of the things he did get from Congress, the President got more than he wanted. This was true of the military pay raise bill and the bill setting up a program of health care for the elderly within the Social Security System.

HE MIGHT get another setback before Congress goes home. The House has refused to approve funds to put into operation the rent subsidy provision of the new housing law. The Senate may restore some of the money. If it does, there is certain to be another hassle in the House.

Our Jets Unleashed On Missile Bases

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — U.S. pilots finally are being allowed to go after those murderous Russian ground-to-air (SAM) missiles that have killed a number of them in North Viet Nam.

In the brief period this new unannounced policy has been in effect, an estimated six SAM launchers have been destroyed.

WHILE BELATEDLY authorizing these attacks, President Lyndon B. Johnson at the same time imposed two severely restrictive limitations—that drastically minimize the scope and effectiveness of his action:

SAM missile sites in the crucial Hanoi-Haiphong area are still off limits. Air strikes against any targets in this key Communist stronghold are rigidly barred. Between 15 and 20 fixed SAM sites have been spotted around the Red capital and principal seaport.

Only mobile SAM launchers can be attacked. Most of these deadly Soviet weapons have been encountered at important bridges and other transportation and communication points.

But the overdue—though limited—permission has boosted pilot morale. There had been widespread resentment against the ban on attacking SAMs, especially as their toll of casualties mounted.

It was this tragic factor that finally impelled the president to accede to the long urging of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to approve anti-SAM strikes.

Both the Air Force and Navy are still forcefully advocating attacks on the extensive anti-aircraft and other defenses of Hanoi and Haiphong. They are stressing these are constantly being reinforced and increasingly more difficult and costly to "take out."

But the president is still siding with his State Department advisers, who are strenuously against carrying the war directly to North Viet Nam's vulnerable vitals.

Secretary Rusk, McGeorge Bundy, White House foreign affairs assistant, and others of this influential inner group contend such attacks are an "ace in the hole" and should be "resorted to only if and when it looks as if there is no hope for a negotiated peace."

The military leaders argue this course is self-destructive as it "makes a sanctuary of Hanoi and Haiphong and encourages the Communists to flout all peace overtures."

A number have indicated they want to do that for first-hand observations. To discourage this, State and Defense department spokesmen are pointedly citing various risks and difficulties.

The headlined furore over lobbyist operations on the heatedly controversial sugar bill completely obscured an attempt by the Johnson administration to pull the teeth of a tough provision in the House-passed measure.

This section strengthened the existing law that automatically suspends the sugar allotment of any foreign country that seizes U.S. property.

The State Department, with White House backing, sought to water this down.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., bluntly served notice he would fight the administration's proposal "to the end."

The Finance Committee's sugar bill deliberations also brought to light a striking illustration of bureaucracy in full bloom.

Thomas Murphy, director of the Agriculture Department's sugar policy staff, was expounding on what was wrong with the controversial measure as approved by the House.

"In Latin America, as well as elsewhere," said Senator Hartke, "it is vital to our national welfare and defense that we consider friendly and unfriendly governments; that we consider those leaning to Communism and those in accord with our policies. Can you tell us whether the Alliance for Progress was consulted in allocating sugar quotas?"

"I am sure the Alliance is consulted," said Murphy, "but I really don't know."

"Then you don't know," continued Hartke, "whether any consideration is given to Communist or non-Communist countries, and whether sugar quota recipients are friendly or unfriendly to us?"

Murphy admitted that was was the case.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By STEPHEN COOK

Empty Downtown Store Building Hurts San Anselmo's Appearance

WHEN I WAS a boy, San Anselmo was my territory.

I walked, bicycled and, finally, drove its streets, sidewalks, paths and hills for 11 of the years I remember best. Because so many things happened to me there, that town was a part of my life and is a part of most memories.

There I went through school, met good friends, went on my first date, stumbled through adolescence, soloed for the first time behind the wheel of an automobile, met and proposed to my wife.

All the time that town was part of my life, though, I rarely made note of it. It was just there — a good, comfortable, friendly place to be living. I have since moved away, first to San Francisco, then back to Marin County, this time San Rafael.

As is probably natural, I have started to notice San Anselmo. One of my observations may be worth passing on to those living there and not really looking at their town.

WHAT I NOTICE first, every time I drive into the town, is a rather cancerous splotch on the face of downtown San Anselmo. Having lived there myself, I know that San Anselmo is a healthy town. However, what I know to be nothing more than an annoying wart waiting to be burned off, might appear, to the casual visitor or investor, a sign of an ill and faltering business section.

This splotch is the building, vacant save for a "for lease" sign in its window, on what is probably the most natural business corner in downtown San Anselmo. Located at Tunstead and San Anselmo avenues, the building has not had a tenant since Jack's Drug Store's lease there expired at the end of 1964. The business that store did on that corner expanded so that the store finally exploded over into a building which once housed a Purity supermarket, a short way down Tunstead Avenue.

Why this building has not been rented, I am not prepared to even guess. William A. Trewhella, president of San Anselmo's Chamber of Commerce has suggested that the rent may be too high.

Whatever the problem is, it is to the advantage of the City of San Anselmo to get that piece of property rented. I imagine that vacant store does San Anselmo's business district as much good as the lack of two front teeth would do a model in toothpaste advertisements.

I do not think the people of San Anselmo have failed to notice this vacancy as a boy would fail to notice his town. They may, though have done worse. They may have noticed it and then attempted to forget it, for lack of an idea to correct the problem.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

A passenger car toll of 75 cents was set for the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge by the California Toll Bridge Authority, triple the charge for autos on the San Francisco - Oakland Bay Bridge and the Golden Gate Bridge.

Marin faced a quarantine of all dogs in the county and a voluntary vaccination program as a result of rabies cases among wild animals in the county.

20 YEARS AGO

Dr. J. B. Askew, representative of the California Department of Public Health, recommended that a 100-bed general hospital be constructed in Marin and 30 beds be made available for tuberculosis cases.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Only Ulysses Might Resist Songs Of Topless Welfare State Sirens

A number of conservatives, dismayed at what they deem the suicidal course of the Ship of State, ask what may be done to avoid the rapids the current captain and crew are heading us for.

ALAS, IT TAKES a wiser man than I to drown out the something-for-nothing songs of the topless Welfare State sirens who lure men to their destruction. Ulysses did it by filling the ears of his sailors with wax and lashing himeslf to the mast—but, of course, that was in the hard-hearted McKinley Era. He wouldn't get away with such brutality today.

After all, Ulysses was just a dumb Greek who didn't have a restaurant to his name and didn't make any of the fraternities, let alone Phi Beta Kappa. By no stretch of the imagination would he rank with the modern intelligentsia who take their bearings by slogan and shibboleth, instead of relying on the compass needle.

Maybe it's because they can't read the compass. For, inspite of all their honorary degrees and awards, they remain uneducable in the school of experience. The lessons of the past are a closed book to them, and they even blot out the knowledge of the things they have seen.

THEY KNOW what happened to the three great welfare states of our times—Hitler's Germany, Mussolini's Italy and Stalin's Russia—but they remain undaunted. Give them A for effort: if at first—and second—and third they have not succeeded, they're prepared to flop, flop again.

Ulysses was careful to avoid the rocks, but then he was not a genuine music-lover. The current mariners, far more cultured, have scorned the wax treatment and installed hi-fi and are entranced by the dulcet tones of both Scylla and Charybdis. And the nearer they get to Utopia-on-the-Rocks, the better the music sounds.

Surely, they reason, any group which can produce such melodious harmony can't be all bad and is worth exchanging culture with. And they obviously yearn for a conference out of which will come a concert where both parties can make beautiful music together. For that, they're even willing to play second fiddle.

THE DOSSIER on all conferences at which the lamb lies down with the lion or the fly enters the spider's parlor for a cozy chat, fails to reveal that the party of the second part has ever become a bona-fide vegetarian. But perhaps in the Great Society things will be different.

Still, I'd rather have Ulysses at the helm. If I recall rightly, he got home safely.

I'd like to be more encouraging, but an honest scorekeeper, however he's rooting, must give you the actual tally.

WHAT GLIMMER of hope I see lies in the distance. Norway has dislodged its Socialists, and even the Kremlin is talking of the incentive motive. But here, under government exerts, we still head for 1984.

We have made other trips with these experts and their like. Twenty years ago they told us Mao was just an agrarian reformer and, if we played our cards right, we could woo him away from the Communists. Today these same cognoscenti tell us if we play ball with the Muscovites we can woo them away from Mao.

Through the F.D.R. years we argued taxes were too high and that the law of diminishing returns would destory our incentive and our system. We pointed out that the Coolidge regime had cut taxes and thereby increased government revenues, which were used to cut the national debt.

For that we were sneered at as "economic royalists." Then the experts did an about-face under LBJ and cut taxes and promptly boasted of higher government intake: as though they were the ones who discovered the law of diminishing returns.

But when we objected that they hadn't followed through and were actually increasing the debt, they peered at our "Puritan ethics."

The masterpiece of illogic came from that old pro, Hubert Humphrey, in a recent speech. For years the Vice-President has been a relentless advocate of foreign aid, regardless of the state of our debt or our gold reserves. This time, defending our domestic spending, he asked plaintively, "if we can support foreign countries, why can't we take care of our own?" If that doesn't win the brass ring, heaven only knows what will. It shames that old one about the man who killed his parents and asked for leniency because he was an orphan.

I HAVE ONLY one suggestion, and I think time is running out on that. What we need desperately is a crash program for birth control among government experts. If they can't add, why should we let them keep on multiplying?

Booklet Outlines County's Mental Health Facilities

A 26-page guide to mental health resources in Marin County has been published by Marin Assn. for Mental Health and will be distributed free to the public, announced Mrs. Sutton Christian, association executive director.

Services of 35 agencies and organizations are described in the booklet, categorized according to the nature of services given.

The booklet describes the extent of each service, to whom it is available, and what fees, if any, are charged.

Fire Caution Urged For Halloween

Precautions to keep a Halloween safe from accidents and fires were outlined today by Capt. Richard Beyer, fire prevention officer for the Novato Fire District.

A quick check around the home should show whether the decorations are of flame retardant type, he said. If the home jack-o-lantern has a candle for light, be sure it is not near curtains or drapes, Beyer warned. If the jack-o-lantern is left alone, the candle should be extinguished, he said.

Costumes should fit well enough to prevent small goblins from stumbling or tripping, he said. Masks should be fixed so that the small fry can see and put on and take off the mask by himself, Beyer said.

In line for a safe Halloween, witches are now getting brooms that have seat belts, he added.

Bike Rider Collides With Car, Bruised

Michael Antoine Jean, 8-year-old son of Antoine Jean of 38 Ash Avenue, Corte Madera, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and bruises suffered when he rode his bicycle out of a Larkspur driveway into a car Tuesday.

Larkspur police said that at 5:30 p.m., Michael drove out of a driveway at 56 Bayview Street without looking, and collided with a car driven by Alice L. Slocum, 42, of 11 Bayview Street.

MONTEVIDEO VISIT

Uruguay Retarded Teaching Praised

Mrs. Mary Ann Tunnard of Bolinas, teacher of Marin County's kindergarten for mentally retarded pupils in Santa Venetia, has returned from Uruguay with great respect for teachers of mentally retarded in that country.

Mrs. Tunnard spent two-and-a-half months this past summer as a consultant in Montevideo, as a guest of the Uruguayan minister of education.

She praised Uruguayan teachers for their dedication, and noted that they are paid only about $60 a month.

One area in which Uruguay is advanced in the teaching of mentally retarded is the home teaching program, Mrs. Tunnard said.

"They have teachers who go into homes and work with parents and children, when the children are very young," she said. "When the child is four, he is admitted into the pre-school program."

In contrast, the Bay Area offers nothing from the time the child leaves the diagnostic center until he enters some kind of a program, Mrs. Tunnard said. "There is a lag between diagnosis and participating in a program."

The home teaching system in Uruguay gives support to the parents "and keeps the parents from rearing the child in a vacuum," she said.

"None of the home teachers have cars, and they must go by buses," she said.

Mrs. Tunnard said she was a consultant to the pre-school program and the diagnostic center, which serves the entire country.

"I gave them the framework and philosophy, in terms of what you do and in what way, in the pre-school program," she said. "I felt I learned a great deal."

Student Accepted In Honors Program

Stephen Yeazell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Yeazell, 21 Miller Avenue, Sausalito, has been accepted for the honors program at Swathmore College, Pennsylvania, which is designed to free students from classroom routine to undertake independent study.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Yeazell plans a major in English literature.

Halloween Fete In Terra Linda

Wanda the Witch will greet youngsters at the Terra Linda shopping center at 3:30 p.m. Oct. 29 for the start of a trek to the Terra Linda Recreation Center in a Holloween program sponsored by the recreation and parks district.

Costumes will be judged and prizes awarded after the parade.

The recreation center will also have UNICEF collection cartons for those participating in the children's relief fund collection on Halloween.

Comet's Brilliance Seen, But Not By Marin Viewers

HONOLULU (AP) — Blazing Ikeya-Seki, first comet in 83 years bright enough to be seen in daylight, whipped around the sun today and headed back into oblivion.

Astronomers here and on the American mainland watched the celestial spectacle across 93 million miles of space. Its 80,000-mile-diameter head was followed by a streaming 20-million-mile tail.

But its brilliance was mostly overpowered by the sun, which it approached to within 300,000 to 800,000 miles. Not one observer aboard a National Aeronautics and Space Administration jet plane saw the comet.

(Ikeya-Seki eluded would-be views in Marin again yesterday and this morning.

As elsewhere, the comet in the Bay Area was visible only with powerful viewing equipment.)

He called it "extremely bright — 1,000 times brighter than the planet Venus."

The comet left scientists puzzled by several mysteries. Delicate instruments detected internal heat and the presence of sodium, calcium and iron. Comets were believed to be cold and made up of nitrogen gas loosely combined with chunks of rock.

George Bunton, manager of the Bishop Museum Planetarium in Honolulu, said Ikeya-Seki was at least five times brighter than Venus and appeared to have a forked tail.

The report that pieces of the comet were breaking off came late yesterday from Lick Observatory near San Jose. Mt. Wilson Observatory, near Pasadena, had difficulty detecting it through the bright shimmer of an autumn heat wave.

Ship Radiomen's Strike Settled

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A five-day strike of ships radio operators on the West Coast was settled last night with agreement on a four-year pact, retroactive to June 16.

The agreement was negotiated by the Pacific Maritime Assn. and the AFL-CIO American Radio Assn. with the assistance of Roger L. Randall of the regional office of the Federal Mediation and Concilliation Service.

J. O. B. Short, a native of Kentucky, with his mother and brothers, came to San Rafael in 1847 and first lived in an old mission building where the courthouse square is now located. He built Short's Hall at the southeast corner of Fourth and C streets in the 1860s.

GETS SCHOLARSHIP—Charles H. Adams of 100 Bayo Vista Way, San Rafael, has received a two-year ROTC scholarship to the University of Wyoming in Laramie, one of two given at the school. He is a junior majoring in history.

Although Marin had no "pay dirt" during the gold rush, it profited far better than many sections where gold was mined. Many influential men in county and state government became permanent residents and were its best assets.
